Sismans are "hard wear" shoes, made to stand the rigors of all weathers, and are unusually comfortable to wear. Over sixty years of downright practical experience is built into them, therefore to secure real hard-wearing shoes, look for the Sisman trade mark on the shoes you buy.

In his report he referred to the fact that it had been possible to place a small sum of money in the sinking fund that year and expressed the hope that in time the bonded debt might be wiped out.
