SCHOONER AS TRANSPORT

Something new in harbor work here has been necessitated by the arrival of the S. S. River Taft from Swansea, with a cargo of Welsh coal for the Maritime Mail Company. The vessel was too large to dock at the company's wharf at the foot of Portland street, so she was berthed at McLeod's. While some of the coal was being unloaded on this side, the bulk had to be dumped into scows for the trip across the harbor. As this method seemed very slow for a cargo such as the River Taft brought, the schooner Cutty Sark has been tied up alongside, and she is being filled with coal. She will then be towed across to the other wharf and her cargo transferred to the company's bunkers.

THE EXHIBITION PROSPECTS GOOD

Management Well Pleased
With Attendance
So Far.

More Judging This Morning
—Parade of Prize Cattle on Friday Afternoon—St. Stephen
Fair Manager Praises
St. John Fair.

Assuming that one coupon from each of the 10,000 strip tickets sold in advance for the St. John Exhibition was used each day, the up to last night exceeded 65,000 people for the three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Exclusive of the strip tickets, 16,000 people paid their way into the grounds on Monday; 9,000 on Tuesday and 10,000 yesterday, and in addition to all these there are the exhibitors and their staffs which would swell the daily toll by one to two hundred. The management has expressed keen satisfaction of the attendance figures so far and if the present fine weather holds out for the rest of the week, the project should be a signal success from all standpoints.

Following the awarding of the cups for the class winners in the dog show last night, exhibitors started removing their entries and the egress was continued this morning. By tonight the big room in the Amusement Hall used by the Kennel Club will be evacuated and will likely be put to some other use for the remainder of the week by the exhibition authorities.

With The Live Stock.

Judging of the beef grades of fat cattle and the Guernseys was continued this morning in the live stock ring. It was announced that following the free acts in front of the grand stand on Friday afternoon, a parade of the prize cattle would be held and trophies in this department presented.

Mayor McLellan, after presenting the cups at the dog show last night, inspected the cups offered in the live stock branch and offered a trophy to be awarded as the live stock committee saw fit.

The live stock exhibit was increased by two this morning. They were not post entries, however, but were calves born in the stables to two of the cows in the Ayrshire herd of McIntyre Bros. of Sussex.

Amongst the distinguished visitors to the exhibition yesterday and today was Mr. S. St. John, manager of the St. Stephen Exhibition, which is scheduled to open on next Tuesday. He spoke highly of the exhibits at the local show and predicted a record entry in his own undertaking. The Woodstock show is also set on open next week.

The chap who yesterday climbed the fence to effect a free entrance and landed in the hospital with a dislocated elbow has a rival. The latter was about seven years old, and was using the aerial route, he chose to make his entrance by burrowing under the fence. Armed with the family axe, he was in the bottom of the Wentworth street gate, when he was observed by Manager Porter and he beat a hasty retreat.

It is estimated that 370 automobiles were parked in Broad street at one time yesterday. Band concerts afternoons and evenings were given by the Carleton Cornet and City Cornet bands respectively, W. Lanyon and Frank Waddington being the directors. The fashion show in the amusement hall again attracted large numbers. C. F. Bailey, director of the dominion experimental farm at Fredericton gave a talk on beef, dairy and dual purpose cattle. Judging of the beef cattle was finished yesterday and the judge, R. B. Smith returned last evening to his home in Columbus, Ontario. The sheep judging by Stanley Logan of Amherst, has been finished.

ROAD CONFERENCE ARRANGED FOR

Will be Held in Montreal—
Hon. Mr. Veniot Speaks of St. Stephen Road.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, is at the Victoria Hotel. Interviewed by a Times reporter this morning he said he had had a conference last night with S. L. Squires, chairman of the executive of the Canadian Good Roads Association, at which arrangements were made for a meeting, in Montreal, of representatives of provinces interested in road work carried on under the federal aid scheme. At this meeting something tangible would be arrived at in the matter of road work in the several provinces.

Asked about the road between Musquash and Lepreau, about which there has been criticism, the minister said that there were at present 100 men and thirty-three teams working on the main road there and that the work was being done by the government under its own organization. The contract had been taken out of the contractor's hands and the government was pushing the work as fast as was consistent with thoroughness of construction. Additional men and teams would be placed on the job next week and the government was determined to finish the work this fall so that next year there would be a highway second to none in the province. He said some criticism relative to the condition of the highway between St. Stephen and St. John was considered very unfair by him because it was impossible to keep traffic open while reconstructing the main highway and the fact that it had been found necessary to send people across in such a way as to leave the general public under the impression that this detour would remain the main highway through the winter. Hon. Mr. Veniot said that he always welcomed fair criticism but that he felt in the present case the criticism had been both unfair and unjustified. Unfortunately the contractor was unable to finish the work and the government had had to take the thing in hand. This was the main artery for the entrance of American tourists into New Brunswick and it was the desire of his department to have a good road there and this would be accomplished as soon as possible.
