Ned and Charley, struck dumb by the serious voice and viange of their father, mechanically did as they were bid.

"Well, boys," began Mr. Moffatt, "I was about thirty years of age when I fed this country for the West Indies, making over my affairs to the agency of a friend, to whom I stated neither reasons nor excuse for my sudden departure, or rather my flight. My affairs at the time were prosperous, and therefore no prejudical suspicion attached to my record the partitude, to be a stributable to a love affair. No. At that time my heart was as fee as air, and every ircumstance tended to heap fortune and happiness on my head, until one fatal morning! You will perhaps be surprised hear that, at the period I apeak of, the only resource I cared for from the anxieties of business—which, I must say, went smoothly and easily with me—was that of ang ling, the art, the love for which you appear to have inherited from me, and to which attachment I have scaccely ever trusted myself to allode until now Staturdays were the days appropriated during the season to my favorite per sum. It is used to run down on the Friday night, be up with the sum in the morning, and find my fisherman ready with tackle, punt, and all needful to get afloat. This was now the happiest portion of my life, for the confinement of the previous part of the week in murky London prepared me for a pleasure skeen and intense. Then the calmness and sweet peace of the succeeding day more than armed me for the recurring city toutiue. Well, the last Saturday that I ever held a rod or saw the morning mists clear off from the Thames, I was out long before their dews were dispelled, and found my man as usual, punctual, and waiting for me. After I had got on board, however, I recolleded that I had left some tackle I should require, and throwing my bunch of keys to my finherman, bade him hasten and fetch it from the cottage. He was longer gone than I expected, and when he did come back, I noticed that he was the worse for drink. His speech was thick and incoherent. He was more than usually loquacious; and a semething of diarespect toward me, which I had never before noticed in his mode of address, assured me he had been drink:

As we took advantage of the back eddies to get to a particular spet, where we purposed to tie the punt to noos of the water, and came down with a heavy splash, the noise of which could be heard over the roar of the fall of the weir.

ADAMS, N. Y., Jan. 30, 1882.

Dr. B. J. Kendall. & Co., Gents: Having used a good deal of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with great success, I thought I would let you know what it has done for me. Two years ago I had as speedy a colt as was ever raised in Jefferson County. When I was breaking him, he kicked over the cross bar and got fast and tore one of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best farriers, but they all said he was spoiled. He had a very large thorough-pin, and I used two bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, and it took the bunch entirely of, and he sold afterwards for $1800 (dollars.) I have used it for bone spavins and wind galls, and it has always cured completely and left the leg smooth.

It is a splendid medicine for rheumatism. I have recommended it to a good many, and they all say it does the work. I was in Witherington & Kneeland's drug store, in Adams, the other day and saw a very fine picture you sent them. I tried to buy that you would send me one. I wish you would, and I will do you all the good I can.

Very recpectfully, E. S. LIMAN. From the Akron Commercial,

Ohio, of Nov. 25th, 1882. Readers of the Commercial can not well forge at a large space has for years been taken up by Headers of the Commercial can not well forge that a large space has for years been taken up by Kendall's advertisements—especially of a certain Spavin Cure. We have had dealings with Dr. Kendall for many years, and we know of some large business houses in cities near by who have also dealt with him for many years, and the truth is fully and faithfully proven, not only that he is a good honest man, and that his celebrated Spavin Cure is not only all that it is recommended to be, but that the English Language is not capable of recommending it too highly.

Kendall's Spavin Cure will cure spavins. There are hundreds of cases in which that has been provent our certain knowledge, but, after all, if any person coufines the usefulness of this celebrated medicine to curing spavins alone, they make a big mistake. It is the obset medicine known as an outward application for rheumatism in the human family. It is good for pains and aches, swellings, lameness, and is just as safely applied to men, women and children as it is to horses. We know that there are other good liniments, but we do believe this spavin cure to be far better than any ever invented.

Kendall' Spavin Cure. Hutchinson's Ranch, 12 miles north of Denver, Col.

Mar. 6th, 183.

Dr. B. J. Kennall, & Co., Genta:—For the past three years I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure. In every case of spavin, of which I have treated five, thas killed them all, and entirely removed three. In case of splint I find it has no equal, one case I had was of three years standing and the Spavin Cure removed it entirely. I had a cow get spavin-ed and it entirely cure her. One year ago a two hundred pound block of ice fell out of a wagon striking my foot on instep and toes, it would be mpossible to mash a foot worse without breaking any bones. I was taken home and carried into the house. I do not think amputation of the leg would cause any more pain. I sent for Kendall's Spavin Cure, it was all I used, and in six days I could walk around. About three weeks ago my team ran away and threw me out of the wagon, the hind wheel struck my knee. After applying several highly recommended liniments withont obtaining any relief, I went for Kendall's Spavin Cure. My

I cou go into details more fully and make this a very lor letter, but will not weary you. I am very respectfully yours, OSOAR F. HUTCHINSON. P. O. Lock Box, 2362, Denver City, Col. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE Santa Rosa, Cal., Feb. bth, 1883.

B. J. Krndall & Co., Gents:—I feel it a duty to others suffering with the piles and falling of the rectum to write you. I, have had the piles and prolapsus of the rectum for five years. for the past three years I have suffered the most agonizing pain. Tried everything without relief, but after the days use of Kendall's Spavin Cure I have not seen nor heard of the piles since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I feel at being cured of a disease almost worse than death. I had a valuable young horse than death. I had a valuable young horse than death. I had a valuable young horse than the day of the most worse than death. I had a valuable young horse than death. I had a valuable young horse than death. I had a valuable young horse than death of himments and had it cut open without any benefit. Saw your advertisement and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure had ordered my teamster to use as directed. In less than one week the lump had disappeared.—
Thinking that a liniment that would do what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse might benefit more. I tried it as a last resort.

With gratitude and best wishes for your success, I am faithfully yours,

J. H. GLENN.
