LUMBER AND LIME.

There is no change in the lecal market. Prices remain as before. The American market continues as lifeless as ever. Regarding the British market, Timber News of May 25th, just to hand, says that arrivals at Liverpool had been few and trade was quiet considering the season. At Fleetwood the stock of spruce was very light, and it was not possible then to buy 7x3 deals to length. The few cargoes en passage weuld come at a very epportune time. Prices it was thought should be very firm with a decided upward tendency. The Leanda from St. John was then in the roads and the Katahdin is en pasterior.

chi spruce was below the average, and prices could scarcely go lower and be at all remunerative, nevertheless purchasers generally were inclined to buy in a very hand-to-

COUNTRY MARKET. Beef has been a little firmer during the last week, but lamb, mutton and veal are easier, ewing to larger supply. Perk sells cheaper for such as is offered. Butter is cheaper. Eggs seem to be a little firmer than a week ago, but there is no imprevement in outside egg markets. Beston prices are very low. There are no native cabbages offering, and the foreign article is small in size, selling at 60 to 750 per dezen. Lambakins are worth about 150. Radishes and rhubarb are cheaper. Potatoes are easy, and sold last week as low as 750 per bbl. The Boston market continues firm,
