NEW YEAR FEAST

FATAL TO WOMAN

Clothing Caught Fire in Restaurant, Causing Fatal Injuries.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Charles L. Ellis, who was terribly burned when her gown caught fire during the New Year's celebration in the Cafe Martin, died in the hospital late yesterday. She was about 20 years of age and leaves a husband.

She was playing with a toy balloon, the light from which ignited her clothing. Immediately there was a panic among the dense crowd of fashionably gowned men and women packed around the tables. When the blaze was extinguished Mrs. Ellis, suffering intense agony, was removed to the New York Hospital in an ambulance.

Her body, shoulder, arm and neck are severely burned, while her hair was destroyed.

When Mrs. Ellis' gown caught fire the Cafe Martin was in darkness save for a few balloons here and there, preparatory to a special electrical scene. Suddenly a flame shot upward. A hush, caused by apprehension, fell over the entire gathering until a shriek, long and piercing, followed. Then came the cry of "Fire!" Wild scenes ensued. The flames grew brighter and screams followed in quicker succession and louder.

Mrs. Ellis jumped from her seat, frantic, and rushed to a window, where her husband and another gentleman tore the burning garments from her back.

Champagne buckets containing ice and ice water were spilled over the woman, and also bottles of champagne and other liquors. Men discarded their coats and wrapped them about her to smother the flames.

All the while the man at the switchboard was unconscious of the tragedy being enacted. At the expiration of the minute the electric display was set and illuminated the place brilliantly. The excitement soon subsided and the festive went on as if nothing had occurred.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRAL COURT LATEST PROPOSAL

United States Has Generalized Powers Aiming to Further Universal Peace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary of State Knox some weeks ago took the first step toward enlisting the sympathies of the leading nations of the world for the realization of the world's persistent dream of universal peace. A concrete proposition made to the powers by secretary Knox is contained in a circular not which suggests an agreement to establish a court of arbitral justice.

The state department does not maintain that this proposition, if agreed to, would at once secure universal peace, but that it would herald the dawn of the peace of the world.

Officials say they are confident of favorable answers from a sufficient number of the powers addressed, and can predict the establishment of such a court.

STRIDES MADE IN CAUSE OF PEACE

One official, competent to speak said: "Of course, great progress has been made by the Hague Peace Conference, before which affairs relative to war and the termination of war can be regulated. It is also true that great strides have been made by conferences gathering in times of profound peace, yet these conferences relate largely to the regulation of future wars."

In practically every case this blood impurity would be removed from the system by the bowels, kidneys, skin or lungs, if these were all working right. It is the inactivity of one or more of them that allows the poisons to accumulate in the blood, and the headache is simply a symptom or warning that things are not right.

The way to put them right—to cure the root of the whole matter—is to take Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. They act directly on the bowels, regulating them—on the kidneys, strengthening and stimulating them—on the skin, opening up the pores—add on the lungs, clearing the delicate membrane of any mucus which may have collected.

When these four great eliminating organs get working properly again all impurities are quickly taken out of the blood, and the unpleasant symptoms of which the headache is one, disappear—not simply relieved, but cured.

You can take Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills with confidence, for they have a record of over half a century of remarkable cures.

MURDERED HIS WIFE TO GET INSURANCE

Charge Lustig Gave Her Strychnine to Realize $3000 Policy—A Pennsylvania Girl.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Morris Lustig, popular night watchman service and private detective bureau, was arraigned before Coroner Feinberg this afternoon, charged with the murder of his wife Rhoda. He was held without bail until Tuesday.

He was arrested on Tuesday, Jan. 5, after her life had been insured for $3,000, and it is the belief of the police that the cause of her death was not natural.

Mrs. Lustig was buried about November 1 at her old home at Milroy, Pa. The body was exhumed at Milroy, and the police say that evidence was found that Mrs. Lustig had died from strychnine poisoning.

The authorities were led to investigate the case on the receipt of letters which said that for several days previous to his wife's death Lustig had attempted to purchase strychnine in the vicinity of his home. The police say they verified this, and, on the report from Milroy to the finding of strychnine in the body and the further discovery that Mrs. Lustig's life had been insured for $3,000 in her husband's favor, they made the arrest.

THE TRULY RECENT WOMAN.

Speak of a recent woman and most people picture to themselves a woman who doesn't talk much. But the truly recent woman—the woman who makes her name an art—is not at all silent. She talks with what is apparently the greatest candor, so that people go away from her saying what a great general woman she is. And no one ever suspects, unless he or she is phenomenally clever, that the genial conversationist had all sorts of unspoken things in her mind.—Exchange.

Only two fishing boats are now missing from the Canoe fleet, with six men in them. Capt. James Rhynold, John Rhynold and Norman Fongere of Dover, and Capt. Reuben Munroe, Austin Munroe and Countessy Feltmate of Whitehead. These two boats are the smallest of the fleet, and there are fears that they have been lost.

The death of Mrs. Susan Provan occurred at Gagetown on Monday. The deceased was the widow of William Provan.

The Fairville firemen held their annual smoker last night and an enjoyable evening was spent. A lengthy musical programme was carried out as follows: Addresses by Dr. Curran, Dr. Morris, James Lowell, M. P. P. William J. Linton and J. J. Hennessy; solos by Ira Skymest John Howard, Fred Wilson, William Hayes and John Baird. The new fire and drum band of Fairville rendered several selections. Refreshments were served and the affair came to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.
