Man. 7.—Like the majority of our busy mer chants, I have been taking stock this week, and the result is certainly very graftlyins, that is if the light of the diamond has not played "Will o' the Wisp," for it reveals six engagements in high life and orange blossoms in the near future. One could well rejoice at such a happy outlook were it not that Amherst society will be the looser unless the imports show an unexpected advance in the next half year.

Mancu 7.—The most delightful social event of the week was the surprise party given to Mr. and Mrs. H. ary Todd, at their residence on Saturday evening. It was the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Todd's wedding day, and their numerous friends joined together to offer their congratulations and a number of beautiful silver gifts as souvenirs of the day. Mrs. Todd received her guests in an elegant reception dress of black silk richly trimmed with lace and jct. She carried a lovely bo-quet of roses, carnations and smilax, which was presented by one of the guests, there were also several other bouquets given to Mrs. Todd which were fastened upon her chair in which she sat a greater pat of the evening, for teims somewhat of an invalid Mrs. Todd is obliged to rest often. Miss Margaret Todd, the only child, looked most graceful and pretty as she moved about looking after the pleasure and comforts of the guests. She wore a stylish gown of gray, trimmed with velvet which was most becoming. Mr. Todd as usual was most jolly and genial and performed his duties as host in the most hearty manner, making every one enjoy themselves and at case. Dancing was athe chief amusement, and to the sweet strains of Herriks orchestra, waxed fast and merry. Supper was served at eleven o'elock. Dancing was again resumed but twelve o'clock soon came, and like "Cinderella," the guests departed at that hour. The display of silver gifts were varied and elegant. A silver ojster tureen, was the most noticeable and was presented by a number of intimate friends.

orcible Words from an Honest Man -Interesting Experience of a Millstream Blacksmith - A Happy,

"Hyon are the boss I'd like to talk with you?" These were the words of Mr. E. I. Ellison who called atour city office yesterday, without invitation of anyone, prompted only by a thankful heart.

He addressed the manager of the Groder Do. with above words. Finding he was right the continued: "I consuited a physician for Dirront Diarrheen, from which I suffered all nummer. Somehow he did not help me lust then I saw a testimonial from a man I knew, who had been cured by your remedy. We got a bottle. Thought it was no good—anly syrup. Well, sir, the first half bottle helped me. I kept on taking it. The medisine kept on curing. Now I'm all right; can mat, sleep, work, and enjoy life. Guess it aved me a large doctors's bill; and I know there bottles, and my case was a very bad me."

h words come from the heart. Such vriting does good to other sufferers.
