The Garrison tennis ground was crowded with spectators on Monday last, all very keen on seeing the finale of the tournament. Mr. King won the gentlemen's singles after a hard fight, and his sister was equally fortunate in the doubles. The prizes were silver, and very pretty; oddly enough, they were all won by civilians, which does not often happen. Miss King played a very good game, indeed, and earned her victory thoroughly. The Leinster band played during the afternoon, and there was the usual tea, and far more than the usual crowd.

Lady William Seymour's dance on Tuesday evening was in every way a delightful one, and one of the most successful dances of the summer. It was not a very large party as it is to be followed by another, thus dividing people and preventing the crowding in the ball room which has made dancing almost impossible at times at Bellevue. There were only a hundred and fifty guests at the outside, and every one was in their smartest clothes for the occasion. The ball-room was charmingly decorated and kept cool by two electric fans, a delightful innovation both for dancing people and chaperones. It was a lovely night and the gardens had been very prettily done with Chinese lanterns, so that it was most popular between the dances. The harpers supplied the music which was excellent as was the floor, and two extras were added to the programme at the end, so that people were in no hurry to leave. There was an excellent supper very sensibly arranged in another room from the less and one of the earlier part of the evening, and the table was charmingly done with flowers. There were plenty of men, and few wall flowers, Lady William proving herself to be a pianist as well as a dancer.

The sensation of the evening was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Jean West and Colonel Wilkeson R. E., who received congratulations on his good luck on all sides. He is the third Colonel of engineers who has found a wife in Halifax. Colonel O'Brien and Colonel Hill having respectively carried away from us Miss Vail and Miss Clarkson.

Among the prettiest gowns worn on Tuesday night was Miss Burns' white tulle, which was quite lovely with diamond brooches and shoulder knots of black velvet. Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow looked particularly well in pale blue. Mrs. M. R. Morrow was in a beautiful silk trimmed with white chiffon. Miss Forbes looked very smart in white over pink and Miss Oliver was also wearing a very pretty gown. The Misses Fisher were in white as usual, as was Miss Seymour, who looked exceedingly nice. Miss Henry was in green brocade, and Mrs. James Morrow looked very well in cream gauze over cerise. Altogether, it was a very pretty and most enjoyable dance, everything possible having been done to make it so.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Geoffrey Twining gave a recital of sacred music at Fort Massey church and delighted her hearers with a long and varied programme.

On Thursday evening there were several dinners, the largest given at Bellevue by Lady William Seymour. On Wednesday evening Lady Fisher gave a small dinner at Admiralty House, where there will be a dance after the return of the flagship from Quebec.

WOMEN.

Women whose faces are disfigured by unsightly eruptions, pimples and blotches too frequent to fail to understand that these are but the trouble is not in the skin, itself, but in the system. It is sometimes absolutely dangerous to use outward applications, for if the skin alone is cleared, the real disease is likely to attack some internal organ of the body, where it may prove fatal to life itself.

The majority of cases these unsightly skin diseases are due to two things, weakness and disorders of the distinctly feminine organism, and impurities of the blood caused by them. The woman who suffers from disease in a womanly way will soon suffer in her general health. Her stomach, liver and other organs will fail to perform their proper functions, with the result that the blood becomes impure. Left to herself, she will probably resort to cosmetics and ointments. If she consults a physician he will tell her the skin alone is cleared, but only at a cost. Her distinctly womanly ailment is really the first and only cause. For this she should resort at once to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them strong and well. Then a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will purify and enrich the blood, and make her a new woman. Medicine dealers sell both remedies.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Clara Reed, of Bridgeport, Montgomery Co., Penna., "for the good it did me. If any one doubts this give them my name and address."

Sure, safe and simple ways to cure all manner of skin diseases told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. For paper-covered copy send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.; cloth binding, 50 stamps.
