OUR COMPETITIONS For Boys and Girls

Drawing and Painting Contest

Here is a splendid contest, open to all boys and girls not older than fifteen years of age. Below is a picture of "Tower" waiting to be completed and colored in whatever way you think best. To the kiddie who sends in the most original colored picture, together with the usual coupon correctly filled in, not later than 17th May, to

UNCLE DICK,
THE STANDARD,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

I shall award a beautiful story book, fully illustrated. The sender of the next in order of merit will receive a similar prize. There will also be four diplomas awarded.

A "Same Word" Contest

This week's contest consists of making what you consider the best sentence, using the same word whenever possible, such as: "Before the LOW fire, Mrs. LOW, wearing LOW shoes, reclined in a LOW chair, singing in LOW tones, whilst listening to the LOW of cattle in the LOW-lying fields."

Here you will notice that the word "LOW" has been used seven times in the one sentence.

Now you try and make up a sentence using some word as often as possible in the same. To the boy or girl, not over fifteen years of age who sends in the most original sentence, I shall award a beautiful story book. There will also be six other prizes and diplomas given to the senders of the next in order of merit.

All attempts must be written on one side of the paper only, and be accompanied with the usual coupon correctly filled in, and mailed in time to reach this office not later than Wednesday, 10th May. All communications to be addressed to

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleaching can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary mercuric cream is far better than literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drugstore and tonight spread on enough to completely cover your face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared. Freckles, blotches, pimples, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful. If bothered with wrinkles, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saffron in a half pint of witch hazel. This is the most effective and quickest-acting wrinkle treatment known.

THE "FIGHTING CAVANAGH'S" ON BATTLE FRONT

Large Attendance of Delegates at Gatherings in St. John (Stone) Church — Reports Presented Showed Good Work for Year.

One Family that has More than "Done Its Bit" — F. L. Roberts, of Cody's, Receives Letter.

F. L. Roberts, of Cody's, received an interesting letter on Monday from a friend who is fighting "Somewhere in France." The writer, V. R. Cavanagh, who is with the 6th Mounted Rifles, not only tells of conditions at the front, but gives the history of his family. The Cavanaghs are all fighters. The father, William, was twenty-one years in the army, while the writer and seven other brothers have enlisted in this present war, two of them having been wounded in action. The letter is as follows:

Somewhere in France, April 4, 1916.

Dear Frank:

Your letters of recent dates received, and will try and give you the history of our family as far as I know. My father, William Cavanagh, served twenty-one years in the 1st Royal Warwickshire Regiment, and of this period he was thirteen years in India, and then came home with a pension till he died in 1901. My father also had two medals, one a "D. C. M." and the other a long service medal. My eldest brother, Arthur, enlisted in the 13th Gloucestershire Regiment, February, 1915, and is still fighting somewhere in France. My second eldest brother, Henry George, joined the South Staffordshire Regiment in 1909, and was badly wounded in the law in the battle of Marne. My third brother, Edward, enlisted in the same regiment as my second brother, in May, 1907. He served seven years till war broke out. He was in Africa one year and in all engagements till February, 1915, when he was badly wounded twice, receiving a bad bayonet wound in the thigh and a wound in the shoulder. My fourth and fifth brothers, Noble and Sidney, enlisted in November, 1914, in the Royal Garrison Artillery and are now in Egypt. The sixth and seventh brothers are myself and Charles Walter, who enlisted in the 5th Mounted Rifles in February, 1915. My youngest brother is too young and has been turned down, but he has joined the Birmingham Band, and he helps to get recruits. This is about all I can remember about the family, and expect that I have answered your letter a little late, but, at any rate, it might interest you.

I am writing this in a reserve trench and we are going to the front in a day or so. Fritz is sending us over an occasional shell and we have to keep in our dug-outs during the day. I have not stopped any bullets yet, but have had some very narrow escapes.

We are still having fine weather, with the exception of a shower now and again, and it is rather cold at night. We are now in a different part of the line and the surrounding towns are just a mass of ruins. There are lots of things I could write about, and I pray and hope that I will have the privilege of meeting you again, when the world is at peace, and have a good long talk with you about the things that happen in one life while a soldier.

I hope this war does not last another winter, as we had to put with some hardships last winter and the trenches were sometimes in a bad state. A person cannot realize the horrors of war unless he has been to the front. Well, news is rather scarce. Hoping you are all well and that I shall hear from you soon again, I am,

Yours sincerely,
V. R. C.

Diocesan Women's Auxiliary

IN ANNUAL SESSION YESTERDAY

Large Attendance of Delegates at Gatherings in St. John (Stone) Church — Reports Presented Showed Good Work for Year.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary opened yesterday morning with a service at 9.30 at St. John's (Stone) church. The service was presided by Rev. J. V. Young, who took "Work" as the keynote of his able address.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson was present.

During Holy Communion there were present with the Bishop, Revs. J. V. Young, priest of the Mission church; Ralph Sherman, Trinity; R. P. McKim, St. Luke's; A. W. Daniel, Rothesay; H. A. Cady, St. James'; B. F. Scovill, St. Jude's; W. H. Sampson, St. George's; Victor Jarvis, curate of St. John's.

Visiting clergymen were: Revs. M. P. Maxwell, Brighton; Rev. F. P. McAdam, H. A. Holmes, Hammond River; Thomas Parker, Norton; J. R. Belyea, Oromocto.

Adjourning to the school room Bishop Richardson, in an address of welcome to the opening of the business session, made reference to Rev. G. A. Kuhring, rector of St. John's church, who is now on active service, and said that the reports of his work were remarkable for the suggestion of cheer and confidence contained therein.

Delegates Welcomed.

After the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read Mrs. John C. Kee welcomed the visiting delegates. Mrs. Kee said: "It is with delight we recognize many familiar faces, and it is also a great pleasure to welcome so many new delegates. Particularly do we welcome the delegates from the various Branches. It is to them we must look to carry on the work in the future. The presence of visiting delegates is an encouragement to us local workers."

In spite of many pressing duties this year's gathering is an indication that the missionary cause is not being neglected. The war, with all its evils, has really been a means of quickening forces of good, calling forth a great response which must necessarily lead to nobler lives. It has revealed unsuspected moral energies; a spirit of sacrifice has sprung to new life. This new spirit is favorable to the growth of the missionary idea."

Mrs. Kee spoke of the tide of immigration that all thinking people realize will turn towards Canada after the war, and that we may in a small measure assist in providing for future development. We must always bear in mind, she said, "that two primary objects of our great organization are to cause of missions, and while doing this we may also be able to assist in other useful and needful undertakings. Again extending a hearty welcome to visiting delegates we trust that your stay in our fair city by the sea may be a pleasant one."

Miss E. Scovill, of Gagetown, replied on behalf of the visiting members.

Mrs. W. D. Fraser read messages of congratulation and encouragement from the following branches of the W. A.: Caledonia, Rupert's Land, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Ontario (Hamilton), Quebec (real), British Columbia (Victoria), Ottawa (General Board).

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session opened with an able and inspiring address by Mrs. Thos. Walker, referring to the joy of the work, to the visits of Bishops White, of China, and Hamilton, of Japan, and Miss Robbins, of Honan; also to Miss Evelyn Roberts, of St. John, who has gone to India as a missionary. At the close of her address, Mrs. Geo. F. Smith on behalf of the members presented Mrs. Walker with a bouquet of roses.

THE ROYAL NAVAL AUXILIARY PATROL MOTOR BOAT SERVICE

Representatives of the British Admiralty have arrived in Canada for the purpose of entering officers and men for service in the motor craft employed in the Auxiliary Patrol. An office has been established in Ottawa in the Department of the Naval Service. The Admiralty officers will visit, in due course, every part of Canada from which recruits are likely to be forthcoming.

The British Admiralty calls for two classes of recruits: (1) Commissioned Officers for command, and second in command of the patrol motor boats; (2) Mechanics to run the engines. The essential qualifications required of candidates for a commission are first rate experience in the handling of small craft under sail or power, at sea or on the Great Lakes, and a good knowledge of practical seamanship. Some knowledge of elementary navigation is desirable. Officers have no engineering duties to perform. The elected candidates will be provisionally entered in Canada, and sent at once to England where, their entry being confirmed, they will commence their training forthwith.

The training consists of a month's course in navigation at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, a month or six weeks at Southampton in the depot ship H. M. S. Hermione, where the newly entered officer receives instruction in rifle drill, simple gunnery, semaphore and Morse signalling, and practical seamanship, and as his training advances, does duty in the local patrol boats. From Southampton officers are drafted to various small motor craft employed in the Auxiliary Patrol, and after two or three months' experience in these vessels, proceed to Portsmouth for a further course of instruction. This course concludes the training period, and officers are then appointed to the larger and faster armed motor vessels which are engaged in patrol and other duties around the British coasts and in other parts of the world.

The men required for Engine Room duties need have no previous experience afloat, but must be mechanics by profession, with good experience in the running and repairing of internal combustion engines, preferably of the gasoline type. Two grades are required—Chief Motor Boatmen and Motor Boatmen "E." For the higher rating, which corresponds to Chief Petty Officer in the Royal Navy, at least five years' workshop experience is required. Two years in the shore will qualify a man for rating as Motor Boatman "E." A man entered in the lower rating can gain promotion to the higher if he proves efficient. The men are given a course of training in the H. M. S. Hermione, whence they are drafted, either direct or after a short period of service in the smaller motor boats, to the Engineering School at Portsmouth, where they undergo a course of instruction in the running of the high-powered engines used in the large patrol boats.

The rates of pay and allowances for officers and men are as follows: Officers are granted commissions as temporary Sub-Lieutenants, Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, and receive the ordinary pay of an officer of that rank in the Royal Navy, viz., £1,011 per year, plus £100 for the Motor Boat Service they receive in addition £15 ($72.91 cents) for uniform, and certain allowances which vary according to the duty on which they are employed. The average average about $3. (72 cents) per day when the officers' victuals himself. Separation allowance is not paid by the British Admiralty to the wives and dependents of commissioned officers. Chief Motor Boatmen receive £5. 6s. ($157 cents) per day, allowances on a similar scale as officers, £7 10s. ($36 45 cents) for uniform, and separation allowance on the same scale as a Chief Petty Officer in the Royal Navy. Motor Boatmen "E" are paid 2s. 6d. (60 cents) per day and allowances, £5 10s. ($26 73 cents) for uniform, and separation allowance as for seamen R. N. V.

Officers and men are entered for the period of hostilities, and are given free transport to England and back to their homes on receiving their discharge.

Candidates should apply in the first instance in writing to the Auxiliary Patrol Recruiting Committee, care of the Department of the Naval Service, Ottawa, stating the nature of the appointment which they desire. They will then receive an official application form, and full particulars as to pay, allowances, etc.

Thin Folks Who Want to Get Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, most of the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can be probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid assimilable agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly harmless. Sargol is sold by St. John and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you send $1.00 money order or registered letter to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine St., Montreal, and a complete ten days treatment will be sent you postpaid in plain wrapper.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.
