SEVEN MEN ON HONOR ROLL YESTERDAY

Field Ambulance Continues to be Popular Unit—News from the 236th—General Military Notes.

- Ernest W. Willis, Woodstock, N. B. 236th Battalion.
- Fred Love, St. John.
- Stirling Kennedy, St. John.
- John Berk, Russia.
- Leonard Zelawski, Russia.
- Franchi Bianchi, Italy.
- Thomas Lath, England.
- No. 8 Field Ambulance Corps.

No. 8 Field Ambulance Corps is daily growing in popularity among the eligible in the province. There are still required about sixty men to complete this unit, which will not remain long in St. John, after it has been recruited to full strength. The bulk of the training for field work will be done on the other side.

The field apparatus for overseas work is expected this week. Upon its arrival preliminary stretcher bearing work will be taken up by the unit. Lieut-Col. Guthrie, accompanied by Captain J. D. Black, quartermaster of the 236th Battalion, (Sir Sam's Own), arrived in the city yesterday morning about nine o'clock, after making the run from Fredericton to the suspension bridge in four hours. This speaks volumes for the roads between St. John and the capital. According to Captain Black they found the roads in splendid condition.

Lieut-Col. Guthrie intended to proceed from here directly to St. Andrews to conduct personally the charges against Morton Clarke and James Wilmut in that town, but business pressures compelled him to remain in St. John. These men were arrested Wednesday night for supplying liquor to members of the 4th Pioneer Battalion.

Under the influence of liquor they were easily induced to desert the army, hence the cause for so many desertions at St. Andrews. Supplying liquor to soldiers so agitated the citizens of St. Andrews that a few days ago a number of them attacked and burned to the suspension bridge in account of its nefarious activity among the men.

It is a well known fact that the military authorities have been troubled with citizens supplying soldiers with liquor and assisting them to escape, so in order that this might be stopped once and for all it is the intention of the authorities to impose the maximum penalty provided by the recent order-in-council, viz. a fine of $5,000 or life imprisonment. As Lieut-Col. Guthrie was unable to proceed to St. Andrews, M. N. Cookburn will look after the prosecution. Lieut-Col. Guthrie and Captain Black will return to Fredericton today.

At St. Andrews.
A district court martial will be held today at St. Andrews consisting of Lieut-Col. Chipman, president; Major Myatt, 4th Pioneer Battalion, and Major J. H. Evans, 6th Depot Battery, Privates O'Keefe, Bowby, Woods and Champaign will be up for breach of military regulations.

Naval Air Service.
Officers wishing to take up aviation in the Royal Navy Air Service can do so by sending in their application to the chief recruiting officer, military district No. 6.

There are a number of vacancies in this branch of service which require either officers non-attached to overseas units or supernumerary officers.

Battalion Transfer.
Word has been received at headquarters that any colored men who are at present attached to any unit in Canada, may upon request to the officer commanding such unit receive their transfer to the colored battalion now mobilizing at Picton. As there are quite a number of colored men in the various battalions throughout Canada, it should help to bring this battalion to full strength in record breaking time.

Sir Sam's Own.
Grand preparations are being made by Colonel Guthrie and his competent staff of officers for the opening day of New Brunswick's biggest and most novel recruiting campaign. Observations and selections are being made for suitable places to build huge bonfires upon the opening day. Where possible the places selected will be in or near the shiretowns of each county. This method of summoning New Brunswick's sons to battle is the same way in which Britain's heroes were called years ago.

The first shipment of clothing and equipment for the 236th arrived yesterday at Fredericton. The balmorals and doublets will arrive shortly from England. As the kilts are being ordered through British manufacturers

CLOSING OF PLAYGROUNDS YESTERDAY

Four of Six Vacation Centres Provided Interesting Programme—Children's Work a Feature.

Four of the six supervised playgrounds were closed yesterday afternoon. These were the playgrounds associated with Aberdeen, Centennial, Alexandra and Bedford street schools. The closing exercises in the two other playgrounds, those on West Side, the Allison and Carleton grounds will take place tomorrow. Throughout the season much interest has been taken in the work of providing, under competent supervision, not only recreation and amusement but systematic method of instruction in useful and entertaining work. The plan adopted by those having charge of playgrounds was to much the same in each case, the general idea being to keep the young people busy in healthy exercise in a bright, sensible way.

The citizens are certainly under an obligation to those ladies who have so faithfully rendered service in connection with these playgrounds. Some of those who have worked hard for the welfare of the children are: Miss Hawker, supervisor of Aberdeen School grounds; Miss Flanagan, assistant; Miss Colwell, supervisor of Centennial grounds, Miss Farwell, assistant; Miss Brennan, supervisor of Bentley street grounds, Miss Corbett, assistant; Miss B. McDonald, supervisor of Alexandra grounds, Miss McDonald, assistant; Miss Turner, supervisor of Carleton grounds, Miss Smith, assistant; Mrs. Matthews, supervisor of the Allison grounds, Miss Matthews, assistant.

Visitors to the playgrounds yesterday afternoon were surprised to see what can be accomplished by a well regulated method of controlling the youngsters at play. The proceedings in and about the Aberdeen grounds may be taken as characteristic of the general plan of campaign. Here, yesterday afternoon, could be seen between 200 and 300 children enjoying themselves. The grounds were thronged, and everywhere about them there was to be seen a proper distribution of color, red, white and blue predominating. About twenty boys gave athletic exercises, twelve of these, under control of L. Porter, doing the human pyramid, a baseball game, basketball, and other forms of amusement were in evidence all the afternoon.

Particularly interesting was the exhibit of work done by the children during their leisure moments. It should be mentioned that this work was done by juveniles between the ages of seven and thirteen. The rafta and wool work was most commendable. One girl, seven years old, made an umbrella of small dimensions, of red. Then there were fruit baskets, waste paper baskets, clothes hangers, sandwich trays, fern baskets, and a host of other things. The paper work was very good. Small pieces of paper of varying sizes and colors were put together in all sorts of shapes; butterflies, lamp posts, dolls, dominos and divers other details in paper work being on exhibition. Wool caps, scarves, baskets of dolls, reins made by the boys in rainbow effect, were all there. Crochet work was present in good display and withal the closing was an inspiration. Centennial playground had at least 250 children yesterday. Folk dancing, drilling, races, basketball and other features were witnessed by visitors with much pleasure. An exhibit of the work of the children from the various playground centres will be held soon in King street.

It will be some time before they will arrive. However, it is expected that the officers will receive their kilts before the opening day of the recruiting campaign. As most of the officers are returning from the front for this unit, it will be a simple matter for them to purchase their clothing while in England and bring it to Canada with them.

The only recruits being taken at present for the 236th are those who are needed for preparing the buildings and grounds at Fredericton for occupancy. Recruits destined to be sent to play the bag pipes can do so by applying to the officer commanding, Lieut-Col. Guthrie.

BRITAIN AFFIRMS PRINCIPLE OF NO ELECTION IN WAR TIME; PARLIAMENT EXTENDS TERM

Adjournment of Both Branches of Parliament Until October 10th—Empire Faces Future With Utmost Confidence—Government Finds It Unnecessary to Take Further Steps to Control Food Supply.

London, Aug. 23—Both houses of parliament adjourned today till October 10, after adopting a bill extending the life of the present parliament another seven months. Not since the outbreak of the war has parliament adjourned upon a situation such as the present, and which was described by David Lloyd George, minister of war, and other ministers in debates during the last few days, as giving so little cause for the anxiety, or so hopeful an outlook for the future. The debates, which covered all aspects of the war, reflected a feeling of confidence, although expressions of the realization that heavy tasks are still ahead, and that there is no prospect for hostilities coming to a speedy end.

It is the general belief that before parliament reassembles a further important stage of the Entente Allied offensive will have been developed in the near east, and which may have weightiest influences in the whole field of operations.

The Food Supply.
With regard to the discussion in recent days concerning the situation of food supplies, the high prices are due to scarcity of supplies, the costliness of freightage and, as Captain E. G. Prettiman, parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, explained in the House of Commons today, to the abnormal consumption of food by the untold millions of men in the field.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IN HALIFAX
Governor General Spent Interesting Day Yesterday—Inspected McGill Siege Battery.

Halifax, Aug. 23—His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada, spent a busy day of welcome and inspection in Halifax today. From three o'clock of his arrival, 8.30 in the morning until night, when he dined aboard one of His Majesty's ships in port, events of the programme of the day crowded upon one another. The entire morning was devoted to inspection of various ships of war in the harbor and the harbor fortifications. The afternoon programme included inspection of internment camp and prisoners of war at the Citadel, and the review of the Boy Scouts and various artillery units on the common and an inspection of the administrative offices of the Patriotic Fund. He dined aboard one of the ships in port, where he spent a quiet evening. The event of the governor-general's programme which most interested the public was the review on the common. Although not elaborate, it was exceedingly interesting and afforded the citizens of Halifax, who were present in large numbers, to see the McGill University Siege Battery on parade.

Fewer than a thousand came from the United States. Hon. Arthur Meighen, who is acting minister of the interior, has made special efforts to prevent a shortage of help for the western harvest.

MABEL TRASK WON THE PLUM YESTERDAY

Speedy Daughter of Peter the Great Landed the Richest Event in the Grand Circuit.

Cleveland, Aug. 23.—Mabel Trask and St. Frisco, in the Western Reserve 208 trot, furnished the thrills today at the North Randall Grand Circuit meeting. With the wind blowing a gale along the mile ring, the mare, piloted by Cox, and the stallion, driven by the veteran, Geers, raced neck and neck through the entire course in all three heats, the Trask mare getting the first two heats and the race, and the Geers horse noosing out the winner in the third heat. It was a great race, and stirred the big crowd to wild enthusiasm. Summary:

FIRE WHEN OWEGO DIDN'T OBEY ORDERS
Austrian Officers Put Up This Excuse for Firing on Vessel Carrying American Passengers.

Washington, August 23.—The case of the steamship Owego, surrounded at the state department with much secrecy and a Berlin despatch was the first disclosure that a note had been despatched to the German government. The vessel, having some American aboard, reported having been fired on ten times in the Mediterranean by a submarine early this month. She proceeded to port and it was not made plain whether she had been fired on without warning or attempted to escape.

Secretary of State Lansing at the time announced he was investigating a case of a ship bearing American being attacked, but he declined to give the steamer's name or any of the details. The inquiry was begun when a resumption of submarine warfare was being suggested by the new operations of submarines.

The fact that the German government appears to have no information tends strength to a contention that the attacking submarine may have been Austrian.

ROBERT LEE.
The death of Robert Lee, of Beaufort, occurred this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Merion Kelley, Charles street, Fairville. Last June Mr. Lee fell and injured his head and he had come to St. John for the purpose of entering the General Public Hospital for treatment, but death came suddenly before he had an opportunity of doing so. He is survived by his wife, one son, Hugh, with the 149th Battalion, three daughters, Mrs. Kelley, and the Misses Winnie and Ethel. The remains were taken to Beaufort yesterday and the funeral will be held today from the church at Argyle. Services will be conducted by Rev. N. Franchette.

The American schooner Lucinda, J. Lowell, 120 tons, on the way from Gloucester, Mass., to Norway with a cargo of dried herring, also was taken into Lerwick, but was released after a search.

Peking, Aug. 23.—The parliament has unanimously approved the appointment of President Li Yuan-Hung of Tuan Chih-Jui as permanent premier of the Chinese republic.

BRITISH WAGING THE ENEMY FOOT BY FOOT OUT OF PICARDY

English Newspaper Man Tells of Titanic Struggle Being Waged Through a Veritable Modern Paradise.

By H. J. Greenwall, Daily Express correspondent.
Paris, July 25.—The whole British line is in offensive, but the battle is being most fiercely on the extreme ends of our wings in Picardy. On our right we are fighting in Guillemont, and on our left in Pozieres. We are in both these villages and the Germans are very nearly out. It is true that they contest every foot, one can almost say every inch, for they are a very obstinate and stubborn foe, but they must go. Pozieres, at the moment of telegraphing is three-quarters in our hands, while Guillemont is offering greater resistance, but as a recompense we are inflicting, if anything, still heavier losses here than at any other part of the battle line.

Information which has come into my possession today says that this is due to the courage and agility of our grenadiers, who have had all the fighting at Guillemont. Long weeks of steady practice in bombing schools are now bearing fruit, and, although we learn to use grenades from the front, today we can give him lessons in the gentle art.

Commanding Position.
Pozieres is on a plateau, from which the Germans have had a splendid view of the British positions. Behind this plateau towards Bapaume the ground slopes gently downwards. When the Germans are out of the last houses in Pozieres they will no longer be able to see our positions, but we shall have an excellent view of theirs, and that is the importance of Pozieres. Guillemont stands where the Montauban-Lougeval-Comblies cross-roads meet, and is situated at an altitude of about 450 feet above sea level, which is about the same as Longueval and Comblies. Behind these three villages the ground slopes in the direction of Morval.

We drove the German in Pozieres yesterday from house to house, and cellar to cellar. One big stand was made. I understand, near the school-house.

This evening the fighting in Pozieres was as violent as ever. The Londoners and Australians are still bearing the brunt of the struggle, the intensity of which cannot be imagined. The enemy yesterday morning launched a counter-attack, which was met by our men just by the church. An officer who was present states that both sides fought with equal fury, but he affirms that the Germans were "doped" with ether. He says that the order leaves no doubt of this.

Rifles Obsolete.
Rifles no longer play any part in this battle, says the officer. Knives, bayonets, revolvers, and grenades are the only weapons used by us. The Germans use these too, but have added another. This is a sort of mallet with a long handle. The head is studded with nails. A German officer attacked a wounded man with this weapon, but was brought down by a revolver shot before he could carry out this abominable act. A party of Australians and of Germans with a machine gun trying to shelter in the ruins of a house. They rushed in and bayoneted every one of them.

It is surprising to find that the enemy has brought the famous Brandenburger, the men who took Douaumont, Port, from the banks of the Meuse and flung them against the British in Longueval. I wonder what they think of our contemptible little army, these men who were shot to pieces by the French, sent back to be reformed, and now are exposed to the bull-dog's bite?

Actor-Spy.
How the Germans in the early days of the Somme offensive tried to return to their old methods of espionage has been related to me by a French officer who is just back from Picardy. Owing to our careful supervision trench warfare entirely did away with the presence of spies on or near the firing line, and the German's elaborate system of signalling by hand, by clocks, by electric flashlights, and by secret telephone and wireless became useless as soon as open field warfare ceased. Therefore when my informant at the head of his company entered a certain Somme village from which the Germans had just been driven and saw

WILL KEEP ALL "FIRE BRANDS" OUT OF ERIN

British Government's Restrictions on Travel to Ireland Are Aimed Solely at Trouble-Makers.

London, Aug. 23, 5.14 p. m.—The United States, having made an inquiry in regard to the order-in-council issued last week restricting entrance to Ireland, the British government has given assurance that the order is not directed against Irish-Americans, but is intended merely to exclude those persons who might disturb the peace. The order empowers the government to prohibit from entering Ireland any person not a British subject, or who being a British subject, has come recently, or may come hereafter, to the United Kingdom from overseas. The situation was explained in the following official announcement:

"In response to an inquiry from the state department the British government has sent assurance that the recent order-in-council regulating travel to Ireland is not intended to hamper the movement of naturalized American citizens who desire to visit their former homes. Each case will be decided on its merits. No class of Irish or foreigners is affected by the regulations, which will be used to keep certain people out of Ireland who are suspected of being dangerous to the peace of the country."
