CENTENARY OF SIR LEONARD TILLEY'S BIRT

LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF A DISTINGUISHED SON OF NEW BRUNSWICK BORN 100 YEARS AGO

Sir Samuel Leonard Tilley, C.B., K.C.M.G., Twice Finance Minister of Canada and Twice Lieutenant Governor of this Province, Born in Gagetown, May 8, 1818, of Loyalist and Mayflower Stock — Was One of Fathers of Confederation Father of Prohibitory Legislation in New Brunswick and One of the Stalwart Nation Builders of the Young Dominion.

Today marks the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Sir Samuel Leonard Tilley, one of the foremost sons of New Brunswick, and it is proposed to suitably commem orate this event by placing on the monument erected to his memory a wreath and spray of laurel.

In view of the services which Sir Leonard rendered to his country the Canadian Club undertook to arrange a suitable commemoration of the anniversary of his birth and through the generosity of a citizen who desired to remain annonymous, it was possible to mark the occasion by the placing on the monument erected some years ago in King Square, a bronze laurel wreath which would add to the beauty of the monument and express in a tangible way the desire of the citizens of the chief city of the province, to pay tribute to the memory of a great and good man.

James Tilley, Sir Leonard's grandfather, was also a grantee of Parrtown, he having purchased for a trifling sum when a boy a lot on Princess street and which was finally sold to the late Charles Patton for $400. The house in which Mr. Patton died, and which was built after the fire of 1877 still stands on that lot. James Tilley later moved to Sunbury County and was for many years a magistrate there, dying in the year 1851.

Thomas Morgan Tilley. Sir Léonard Tilley's father, was born in 1730 and served his time with Israel Gove as a house carpenter and builder. In his sarly life he lumbered, getting out ship number, his operations being chiefly carried on at Tantiwanty, in the rear of Upper Gagetown. Later he engaged in business in Gagetown and was a general merchant there to the time of his death in 1870.

After the war of 1776 conditions in Long Island were such that Samuel Tilley decided to join the other Loyalists in carving out for himself a new home, so he came to this province in "the Spring fleet" which landed in St. John on May 18th, 1783, and was one of the original grantees of Parritown, the St. John of that period.

Samuel Tilley erected a house and store in King street, on the south side and between Germain and Charlotte streets, about where F. E. Holman & Co.'s establishment is at the present time. He died in St. John in 1815. His wife, who survived him for many years died in North End in 1835.

The government was beaten and Mr. Tilley again entered the cabinet of Hon. Charles Fisher in his old position that of provincial secretary. On its first division the government had a majority of 35 votes to 6. During that and succeeding sessions the chief subjects of debate were the financial position of the province and the construction of what is now the Intercolonial Railway from St. John to Moncton, Shediac and Point du Chene. In 1859 also that government passed the legislation which resulted in the establishment in its present form of the University of New Brunswick. In 1861, after a campaign in which charges of malfeasance and poor administration were made against Premier Fisher and his associates the government was returned with a handsome majority and on that occasion Mr. Tilley delivered what is held to have been the most effective speech of his long career freen on, the hustings he spoke in his own defence and in vindication of the government against the charges made by the op-and the prohibition bill died together, Mr. Tilley was defeated in St. John and this city and county sent to Fredericton a golid phalanx of six members to oppose the curtailment of the liquor traffic.

After the prohibition bill had been disposed of however it was found that the majority supporting the government was so small as to make it impossible to transact business. In a House of 41 members the parties stood 21 to 20 and the only %ay ½ which government business could be done was on the casting vote of the speaker, a situation which soon became antolerable and on April 1st 1857 the House of Assembly was dissolved and writs issued for a new election. This contest which was held on May 16th, 1857, was even more bilter than that which had precided it.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

Don't use prepared shampoos or any-thing else that contains too much al-kali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simbly moisten your hair with water tor shampooting, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

The Easiest Way
To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the linger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be funfy, it strous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four nunces is all you will need.

Applying this Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about two minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of but leaves the skin free from ble To insure success with this treatment be careful to get real delatone.
