

FOR WOMEN

26,500,000
WOMEN VOTE
IN AMERICA

Total Male Vote for Presidential Election is Over 31,500,000.

Washington, Sept. 29.—(Associated Press.)—Figures compiled by the census bureau and other government departments indicate that the number of women in the United States over 21 years of age is 26,500,000, of whom approximately 26,500,000 are eligible to vote in the November election. This estimate makes a slight reduction from the 27,000,000 figure given by the census bureau in 1910.

Exact figures are not available on the number of women over 21, but based on voting through various reasons, however that this year at least 1,000,000 of the 26,500,000 foreign-born women in the United States will not yet have become naturalized.

The Indian Women.

In addition there were in 1910, according to the census about 60,000 Indian women, most of whom were living on reservations. 8,807 Chinese and Japanese women ineligible to vote, a comparatively small number of American women married to aliens and barred from voting for that reason, and a large number deprived of the ballot under state statutes in harmony with constitutional provisions. The total of these ineligible was estimated at about 1,600,000.

American women married to aliens are not eligible to vote, the Department of Justice has held, but foreign-born women married to American citizens or whose fathers have become American citizens are entitled to the ballot without naturalization proceedings.

The number of eligible male voters in the United States this year has not been determined. Based on an estimated population of 105,000,000, however, the census bureau figured that there are now 54,807,000 men in the United States over 21 years of age, of whom probably 31,500,000 could be entitled to vote in November.

Large Gathering in Seamen's Institute Heard Addresses by Opposition Candidates.

That the ladies of the city are interested in the problem of good government was amply demonstrated last evening when more than one hundred of them, despite the unpleasant weather, gathered at the Seamen's Institute to hear the opposition candidates for the City of St. John place before them the policies for which they stood, and the hearty applause which greeted the remarks of the several speakers, particularly their references to the prohibition question, showed that the audience were with them and well, on October 3, support Messrs. Tilley, Potts, Campbell and Lewis, the opposition candidates, with their votes and influence. The most gratifying feature of the meeting was the fact that not a lady was there as the result of personal canvass, but that all had come on the general invitation issued to the public at large, and it was not necessary, as happened at one of the government meetings, to telephone for an audience before any business could be done.

Shortly after eight o'clock, Mr. Tilley called the meeting to order and asked the ladies to nominate a chairman from their number and an ex-officio speaker. Mr. Lewis expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large number of ladies in attendance at the meeting, and thus, he thought, was certain evidence of their interest in the campaign of the day, and an endorsement of the fact that they intended to use the franchise which had been bestowed on them primarily through the efforts of the opposition party.

He made no pretensions, he said, to being a public speaker, but was willing to let his acts speak for him. He endorsed the policies of the Hon. Mr. Baxter, particularly that in regard to prohibition, and he was strong for a "dime dry" province. If honored by the citizens with enough of their votes to sit in the next legislature, he would do all he could to advance the interests of his constituents.

Mr. Tilley's Address

Mr. Tilley was the next speaker called on, and he also expressed his pleasure at seeing so many ladies present, all of whom had come on a general call, not only on a personal invitation. This was the true democratic principle and the one on which the opposition proposed to act in all things. He then took up the record of the government in its different departments and the policy of the opposition, when it was called upon to form a government. First he reviewed the Cawna Lands. In 1917 she rate for stumps was $1.50 per thousand; it was now $5 per thousand, while on private lands the operators were paying as high as $10 and $12 per thousand. The opposition claimed the

Reflections of A Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Many a man waits until after forty, to look for real love—and then discovers that his eyes are too dim that he can't tell it from all the glittering imitations.

When a man tells a pretty girl that he is married, she never quite knows, from his manner, whether he is boasting, apologizing, or looking for sympathy.

In these days of riding-breeches, overalls, bloomers, and one-piece bathing suits, it looks as if a girl were going out of her way to make the "sex-appeal" when she wears skirts.

How it is that a man can get more service out of a waiter with a growl and a fifty-cent tip, than a woman can coax from him with a dollar and a smile?

"Experience" is the gentle name which a man bestows upon his follies and mistakes, a woman gives to her sorrows and failures, and a poet, to his sins and emotions.

A man never HEARS anything a woman says; because, before marriage he listens to her conversation with only his eyes, and after marriage with only half an ear-drum.

Somehow, as soon as a man and woman learn to love each other, they begin to think up ways of making each other suffer for it. Alas, why is it that one can only be "kind" to people for whom one cares nothing at all?

The only way to cure a man of wanting anything, from Bolshevism to a woman's heart, is to let him HAVE it—for a little while.

A man is known by the cellar he keeps—opening.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served, the dining room being very prettily decorated with autumn leaves and golden glow. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, indicating the high esteem in which this popular young lady is held.

Church History

In the days before the Union the Victoria Street Baptist Church was known as one of the Free Baptist Church. It originated on Nov. 21st, 1875 and the church's first pastor was Rev. T. W. Clark. The meeting place was a small hall in Metcalfe Street in the then, City of Portland.

The first officers were: Deacon, L. Dunphy, William Whitaker and William Humphreys; treasurer, William Humphreys; clerk, Geo. Black; helps, James Brown and N. B. Ward. An extract from the minutes in an old church book of Nov. 28 reads: "It was moved that our pastor be Rev. T. W. Clark for the coming year (1879) at a stipulated sum of $400 for his services." That was over forty years ago, though.

Article II of the same conference says "that it was moved and seconded that we proceed forthwith to build a meeting house, with dimensions 38x70 and that the church be built without a tower." This is the same meeting house with some additions that is to be vacated for the new brick church.

Pastors Since Origin

The pastors of the church since its origin were: 1875-82, Rev. T. W. Clark. 1882-87, Rev. W. J. Halse. Rev. Mr. Rude served for nine months in the year 1887 when he was stricken one Sunday in the pulpit and died the following day. 1887-1893, Rev. B. H. Nobles. 1893-1899, Rev. W. J. Halse. Rev. T. W. Clark was recalled in 1899 and served on until the year 1906. Under his pastorate the church enjoyed great prosperity and the numbers of the congregation increased rapidly. Rev. Gideon Swin supplied for one year and then Rev. Mr. Nobles was recalled and served until 1917. During his pastorate 316 names were added to the church roll. Rev. I. W. Williams served the church for somewhat over a year and he was followed by the present pastor, Rev. Geo. D. Hudson, who took charge on August 1st, 1918.

Larger Building Needed

For some years it had been evident that a larger building was needed to house the growing congregation. Several schemes were advanced but none of them bore fruition. The project was taken up by the present pastor shortly after he took charge and working quietly, but diligently, among the members of the congregation he finally got things going in earnest. One of the trustees purchased a site at the corner of Darnley and Victoria streets for the sum of $5500 and presented it to the church on the condition that the building of the church be proceeded with this year.

Plans Drawn

The plans were drawn by H. Claire Macdonald of this city, and they called for a building 100 ft. x 60 ft. with interior decorations done in quartered oak, and with a seating capacity of 800. The estimated cost of the building will be $75,000. The first sod was turned by the pastor on July 26 and the work has been in the hands of John Edgett and John Corbett. It has gone on rapidly and now one-fifth of the brick wall is standing. It is hoped to have the building complete and ready for the holding of services early in 1921.

The Officers. The present officers of the church are: Deacons, Flewelling, Roy, Walters, Geo. Smith, W. Macdonald, Ernest Davidson, H. Valls and Fred Holman; trustees, C. W. Parlee, H. Parlee, G. M. Burke, C. Ducey, C. Watts, John Colwell, J. Christie, S. Ackley and L. Mayhew; clerk, T. De Witt Clark; treasurer, G. M. Burke.

CANE FROM "BEAVER" FOR MACKENZIE KING GIFT OF THE LADIES

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 29.—Upon his arrival here last evening from Victoria with the members of his party, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, was presented by the Liberal Women's Association of Vancouver with a gold-headed walking stick made from oak timber of the Beaver, the first steamer to reach Vancouver from England, and mounted with gold from the mines of the province.

Mr. King made a plea for the inauguration of such courtesies as mark the public life of Great Britain. "We see," said Mr. King, "the evidence of a larger patriotism in the efforts to make Canada a greater and united Dominion, united by good-will among her people. We see this in the courtesies of political opponents, which I hope will develop and attain the high standards which mark public life in the Old Land."
