

oot system of that clover plant were myriads of bacterial slaves collecting plant food in addition to that available in the soil.

Close by may stand an alfalfa plant, near and yellow, not having any bacterial friends in the surrounding earth to collect food for it in order that it, too, may be road leaved and green—in order that it may get even greater praise than the clover, when conditions are equally favorable. It is the unkindest of the unkindest to condemn that alfalfa plant. If this farmer will take some soil from an old alfalfa field and place around this alfalfa plant, in a few weeks he will very likely be ashamed of his ingratitude and of his ignorance.

In order that we may the more rapidly secure a thorough distribution of the alfalfa bacteria we are this year endeavoring to get boys and girls in the rural schools to grow a small plot of alfalfa at their homes. We have fifty of these arranged for now and would like 100 more. Free seed and inoculated soil can be obtained by calling at the Dairy School. Ten dollars in prizes will be given to the boys or girls having the best ten plots in 1911.

BOTH TRAINMEN AND C.P.R. DISSATISFIED

Ultimatum of Men Not Answered

G. T. R. Employees Also Refuse to Accept Award

Some Comment Over Men's Action in View of Acquiescence of Their Representatives in Conciliation Board's Finding—The New Rates and the Old.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Montreal, June 23—The award of the board of conciliation and arbitration in the case of the dispute between the G. T. R. and its employees, in the yard and train service on the Eastern division, was today rejected by the general committee representing the men, which is in session here, just as the decision of how the trouble between C. P. R. and its employees in similar branches of the service should be settled was rejected on Tuesday.

The committee are preparing a long report setting forth their objections to the decision, which will be forwarded to the department of labor at Ottawa and to the G. T. R. today.

The report will also contain answers to the arguments of Wallace Nesbitt, who represented the railroads on the board, and who did not agree with the conclusions arrived at by the chairman and by the representatives of the employees. Mr. Nesbitt's objections to the decision are set forth in a minority report.

The action of the men in rejecting the suggestions for settlement offered by the board is in some circles regarded as peculiar, in view of the fact that their representative, in conjunction with the chairman, handed down the award, while the representative of the company was the member to object to it. It is stated, however, by the leaders of the men that their representative's views differed in several particulars from those of the chairman, but that finally he conceded several points to arrive at a decision.

Both Sides Dissatisfied.

As matters stand now both the men and the company are dissatisfied with the award. The work of the department of labor finished when the decision of the board had been handed down and the matter of wages and conditions of service must now be decided between the men and the company.

Up to tonight the committee had received no word from the C. P. R. in answer to their ultimatum delivered on Wednesday morning announcing their refusal to accept the award of the board in the case of the dispute between the C. P. R. and its employees, whom the committee represent.

Their message demanded an answer before 10 a. m. today and declared that it would be useless to hold further meetings to consider the question of a settlement unless the company would without reservation agree to accept the principle of the standardization of wage rates throughout the territory in question, so as to place their men on the same basis as those of other railroads in the territory.

The message further declared that failure to reply before the hour mentioned would be taken to indicate that the C. P. R. refused to grant the concessions asked for and that the committee would proceed to act on that assumption.

The committee, however, took no action when they failed to hear from the company, as it was understood that owing to delay at the labor department at Ottawa the company had not received an official copy of the award until noon today.

The New Rates and the Old.

The following table gives in concrete form the finding of the conciliation board. With the exception of the yard service the rates are on a hundred-mile basis. The rate asked by the C. P. R. men, the existing rate, and the one recommended by the board are given. The difference in rates east and west of Cartier is replaced by a flat rate, a change that was among those asked by the trainmen. The present G. T. R. rates are for specified runs, the new rates paid so much a month for specified routes without regard to mileage. In this respect the Grand Trunk Railway is peculiar among the roads of the continent. Only in the matter of through freight rates have the Grand Trunk men been working upon a hundred-mile basis. The present through rate on the Grand Trunk is $1.50 per hundred miles for conductors and $1.00 for brakemen. The new rate re-

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN HALIFAX I. C. R. STATION

Wooden Shed Adjoining Main Building Totally Destroyed—Some Cars Scorched.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Halifax, N. S., June 24—The fire department were in control of a serious blaze at the I. C. R. passenger station in Halifax, which started at midnight, in about half an hour afterwards, but the building where the flames started was wiped out. This was a wooden structure 150-feet long on the eastern side of the station where oil supplies and lamps were stored. The wind carried the flames away from the station and this contributed to the fact that building, which was full of trains of cars ready to pull out in the morning. The freight cars on a level below the oil shed, outside the station, were in the greatest danger and were damaged to some extent, but they were pulled out in time.

The baggage and mail cars on the level with the burning building were slightly damaged, but with one thing it looked as if there would be heavy loss.

The promptness of the fire department was noteworthy.

KILLED BRIDE ON LUNAR MOON

Widow of Slain Man and Others on Trial as Accessories to Crime

IMPORTANT EVIDENCE Doctor Testifies That Laundryman Made Ante-mortem Statement Charging Hattie LeBlanc With Shooting Him.

(Associated Press.)

Cambridge, Mass., June 23—A further sensation developed today in the extended investigation of the mysterious murder of Clarence F. Glover, a Waltham laundryman, last fall. The Middlesex county superior court today issued indictment warrants against Mrs. Lillian Glover, wife of the murdered man, and six others, who are charged with being accessories after the fact. Hattie LeBlanc is accused of murdering the laundryman.

It was announced today that, in addition to Mrs. Glover, the following persons had been indicted secretly: Samuel Elmer and Alton F. Tupper, Mrs. Glover's counsel in the contest of Glover's will, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Glover, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Glover was shot at his laundry in Waltham on the night of Nov. 29 last. Shortly before he died in a Waltham hospital Glover gave out a statement, and he said he and Hattie LeBlanc, the 16-year-old housemaid of the Glover's, went to the laundry and that while there she shot him with a revolver. The police attempted to locate Hattie, but were not successful, until several days after she died, when they found her secreted under a bed in the Glover house. Hattie was arrested on a murder charge, and is now in jail here awaiting trial. She has stoutly denied any connection with the crime, and the motive of the murder remained a mystery.

All Plead Not Guilty.

All the defendants, with the exception of Miss LeBlanc, whose case comes up in September, pleaded not guilty when they were brought into court and were immediately released. The jury heard the evidence and the jury heard the evidence and the jury heard the evidence.

Returning from Waltham, where they were given the route that it is said Hattie LeBlanc traveled on the night she is alleged to have murdered Glover, including a visit to the home and laundry owned by the murdered man, the jury arrived at the court house at 10 o'clock today.

One hour afterwards the case was opened by an address to the jury by District Attorney Higgins.

Further facts in the case were revealed when Dr. Nicholas W. Cousins, in whose private hospital Glover died, stated when placed on the stand that Glover signed a statement, accusing Hattie LeBlanc of the crime, in the presence of Notary Public Leslie D. MacDonald, Patrolman Tully, of the Waltham police force, and himself.

This was the first time that a statement has been made that Glover made any other than an oral accusation.

General Bartlett, cross-examined Dr. Cousins, but was unable to make him disagree materially the statements that he had made. It is said that the written statement will be produced in court tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary A. Dutch, who lives in the other half of the house used by Dr. Cousins as a hospital, told about her finding Glover lying upon the steps of the hospital. Her testimony was much the same as that given by the previous witness.

"I found him lying on the steps of the hospital, and he was dead," she testified.

Robert Henderson Pays Penalty for Killing Woman Who Befriended Him

A WANTON MURDER Returning to House, Young Englishman Struck Down Two Sisters With an Axe, and One Died Later—Hangman, After Execution, Had Exciting Chase After Man Who "Snapped" Him.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Peterboro, Ont., June 23—Robert Henderson, a mere youth, who came to this district from Toronto six months ago, though not long out from England, today died on the gallows for the murder of Margaret MacPherson, an aged spinster, who lived on the road near Northwood, and who had befriended him.

The crime of which Henderson was convicted was most wanton and, naturally, raised doubts as to his sanity. He had asked Miss MacPherson, who lived alone with her unmarried sister, also well on in years, for something to eat. They provided him with a meal, and then he asked them how much he would have to pay. The sum of ten cents was suggested, which he paid, and left the house. Returning a few minutes later he seized an axe leaning against the house and entering struck down both women. Miss Margaret died from the blow same week later.

A camera man got a picture of Hangman Ellis, and there was an exciting chase after the execution. Ellis catching the photographer and taking the film away.

William Mackenzie Says C. N. R. Were Negotiating for It When C. P. R. Stepped In.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Toronto, June 23—President William Mackenzie, of the C. N. R., is not pleased with the C. P. R. "They played a shabby trick on us in securing the Dominion Atlantic Railroad in Nova Scotia," he says. Mr. Mackenzie returned yesterday from a trip to the west and was much displeased to hear of the C. P. R.'s latest move.

"Years ago when the Calgary-Edmonton road was up for sale," he said, "I think we could have secured it, but when we found the C. P. R. had been negotiating for it we refused to interfere."

In the case of the Dominion Atlantic we had been dealing with the government of Nova Scotia for some time. We had arrangements for taking over of the 250 miles, which it comprises, practically completed, and were prepared to establish a fast line of steamers between Bay of Fundy ports and Boston, but were not allowed even an opportunity when the bidding began," he said.

While in British Columbia Mr. Mackenzie floated a block of $5,000,000 worth of C. N. R. fifty-year bonds.

London, June 23—In the course of a discussion on the post office estimates in the commons today, Henniker Heaton urged the necessity of a reduction of cable rates.

Captain Norton, assistant postmaster general replied that the whole system of telegraphy is in a changing condition and if a state-owned system of cables is to be undertaken the department would be embarking in competition with existing lines and there would be considerable difficulty with the self-governing colonies. A committee had been considering the question and its recommendations were under consideration of the department.

In view of the probable appointment of Sir W. G. Nicholson to command the forces in Ireland, it is suggested that the way may be clear for the appointment of Lord Kitchener as chief of the imperial general staff. General Nicholson now holds this post.

Speaking at a Rhodesian dinner last night, Earl Grey referred to the work of Cecil Rhodes and remarked that it was Rhodes' doctrine that, if only a federation of Australia, South Africa and Canada could be secured the way would be paved for federation of the empire. Had Rhodes lived he would have been the Alex. Hamilton of the empire. The influence of Rhodes had been the inspiring influence of his (Earl Grey's) life.
