MILITIA ESTIMATES UNDER SHARP FIRE

Col. Sam Wants About $14,000,000

War Lord Defends Huge Outlay in Times of Peace

Would Build 1000 Drill Halls if He Had the Money—Boasts of Army of School Boys—Mr. Pardee Dubs Him "Military Mad"—F. B. Carvell Scores Minister's Jinkes Abroad.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, May 7.—The representatives of the Canadian people were silverly awakened today from peace-on-earth dreams and aspirations. Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes the war lord got out his Gatling gun and blazed away. He talked soldiers, and rifle ranges, and drill halls, and armories, and artillery till the more apprehensive members began to believe that this peaceful dominion must be hovering on the brink of terrible and devastating war.

The galleries were crowded. There was a line of impassive honours colonels in the forefront solemnly nodding their corroboration and in the middle gallery was the colonel's whole headquarters staff.

The expenditure for militia purposes which Col. Hughes asks parliament to approve for year 1914-15 totals $18,000,000. This is equivalent to one penny being voted out, to a taxation of $2 per head upon the Canadian people.

The minister apparently realized that this expenditure in times of peace, and when preparations are under way for the celebration of a warless century between Canada, Great Britain and the United States, is a colossal waste of money. He proceeded to this task with considerable ingenuity. He enumerated the many ways which had taken place in recent years, instances of business and industry in Canada as the germ of incipient war; declared that the cost of preparedness for war was less than the cost of idleness; and in case of default, he justified the amount which he proposed should be voted by the declaration that he had 70,000 men, and 40,000 cadets ready for war.

Col. Sam "Military Mad."

"The plain blunt truth," said Mr. Pardee, in opening a long and sustained attack on the minister's reckless scattering of the public's money, "is that this war lord has gone military mad. He is taking his people an enormous sum—last year $2 per head for every man, woman and child—that we are not opposed to a Canadian militia, but it is not a Canadian militia, but it is the money of the country. Canada is not enthused with this hallucination of continuous preparation for war with some vague and unknown foe. We tell the minister and we tell the government, if he forms a part, that if a large amount of the huge sum it is now spending on gold lace and brass buttons were directed to fostering the arts of peace it would be more creditable to the government and more satisfactory to the people."

Carvell Scores Minister.

Mr. Carvell took issue not only with the amount of the expenditure but the manner in which it is being expended. He scored the minister for the "juncturing" trip of himself and his officers through Europe in a fleet of motor boats. The trip cost Canada $24,262, and he defied the minister to show what military advantage had accrued from the sole purpose of the trip. "The trip," he said, "was a waste of money, and every Canadian has reason to blush for shame over it. The department bristled with brass buttons, gold lace, laziness and inefficiency."

The member for Carleton created much amusement by describing in detail the stages through which an ordinary communication from a member of parliament asking for a blue print may come to be attended to. It was "received and noted," and initiated by one uniformed flunky, "received and endorsed and initiated by another, endorsed again and initiated by still another 'endorsed for action' and initiated."

C. N. R. MAGNATES MADE NO PROFIT

Further Information Furnished Parliament by Mackenzie & Mann

AFFIDAVIT FILED

Comptroller of Company Says Construction of Line Yielded Nothing But Common Stock for Their Labor—Many Provincial Premiers Endorse Proposal for Further Government Aid on Terms Consistent With Public Interests.

Ottawa, May 7.—A further instalment of information in regard to the affairs of the Canadian Northern and of the Mackenzie & Mann Company Limited was tabled by Premier Borden in the commons today. It contains three interesting features.

A statutory declaration by Alfred J. Mitchell, comptroller of Mackenzie & Mann Company, Limited, is quoted to the effect that they have made no profit on their work for the C. N. R., as contractors "other than certain fully paid common stock in the C. N. R. company and its allied lines."

Mr. Mitchell further says that the whole of the $225,407,941 received by Mackenzie & Mann has actually gone into construction.

A further sworn statement by Third Vice-President D. B. Hanna declares that none of the banks hold an collateral security any asset or property of the C. N. R. or of its allied lines, with the exception of the securities given in a statement furnished.

The principal debt mentioned is four per cent. provincial debenture stock totalling $23,900,000 held by the Bank of Commerce for safe keeping on account of the Canadian Northern Railway Company.

Aid Proposal Endorsed.

The third feature of the return consists of letters and telegrams addressed to Premier Borden by Premier Manning of Nova Scotia, Premier Sifton of Alberta, Acting Premier Calder of Saskatchewan, and Sir Richard McBride of British Columbia, endorsing the proposal of federal aid to the C. N. R., if necessary, to secure the completion of the system, such aid to be given on terms consistent with the public interest.

The government auditors appointed to investigate the financial affairs of the C. N. R. system and of Mackenzie & Mann Limited, call attention to the fact that the statement of Comptroller Mitchell referred to above "has borne out to our satisfaction our own investigation of the books of the contractor."

On March 14 last Premier Murray wired Mr. Borden as follows:

"The Nova Scotia government realizes that the C. N. R. contributed very largely to railway development in the province, operating at present over 400 miles. We feel that this progressive railway situation could only have been brought about by the enterprise of such a concern, and the province, by reason of accepting their guaranteed bonds for large sums, is vitally interested in the future of this company. The government feels that any reasonable assistance, consistent with the public interest, can be accorded by the dominion to the C. N. R. would be a policy which would enhance provincial credit."

SECOND WHITE HOUSE WEDDING FRIDAY

Miss Eleanor Wilson Weds Secretary McAdoo

Simple Service in Presence of Less Than 100 Persons—Bride and Groom Slip Away From Guests and Start on Secret Wedding Tour.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, May 7.—Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the President and Mrs. Wilson, became the bride tonight of William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in the historic blue room of the White House.

Less than a hundred persons attended the service conducted by Rev. Sylvester Beach, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Princeton (N. J.), where the Wilson family has worshipped for years. It was a simple, brief ceremony, as the President and Mrs. Wilson gave away a daughter for the second time within a year. It was in contrast to the wedding of last November. There were no uniformed diplomats, no members of the senate or house, or the supreme court. This was the wish of the bride and groom.

Miss Sallie McAdoo, ten-year-old daughter of the secretary, led the procession as a flower girl, followed by Mrs. Francis Bowers Sawyer, daughter of the Secretary of the Interior department, directly preceded the bride, who was escorted by the president. The groom, with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N. last man, who was attired in full dress uniform, met the bride at the altar.

The wedding service was used with the characteristic words "I do, I do, I do."

Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room with the Marine Band played. The bride cut the wedding cake with Dr. Grayson's sword, the young folks had a dance in the blue room, and in an unexpecting moment Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo slipped into a waiting automobile, motoring rapidly down Executive avenue. They will be away on their honeymoon about two weeks and will not go abroad, as has been reported. The secretary expected to keep in close touch with the work of his office.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT CONCLUDES SESSION

Will Meet in St. John Again Next Week—Other News of Fredericton.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Fredericton, May 7.—Charles G. Carter, who has been occupying property on the Spruit Hill road which he purchased about a year ago from Willard Kitchen, has received the offer of a government position in London (Eng.). It is understood that he is connected with the war office. Mr. Carter today said that he had received an offer by cable but had not decided whether he would accept it or not.

"H" Company, Royal Canadian Regiment, will leave Fredericton at 9 o'clock next Monday night for Camp Aldershot (N. S.), where it will undergo company training until the latter part of June, when the company will go to Sussex to attend the New Brunswick militia camp. It will return to Fredericton about July 1.

Steamer Victoria arrived here this evening from St. John on her first trip of the season. She had a heavy freight. There was heavy run of bank logs at Spruit Hill today, with prices steady at $10 to $14 per thousand. The water is still rising.

The provincial government finished its session tonight. It will meet in St. John next week as commissioners of the provincial hospital. A session of the treasury board was held this afternoon.

P. P. Guibelin, general manager of the Intercolonial Railway, arrived here on a tour of inspection by special train at 7:30 this evening. He will leave early in the morning.

The city council met last evening to investigate the majority election as ordered by the supreme court. A resolution to make a recount of the ballots was passed and an adjournment was made until Monday. The council decided to recognize only such ballots as had been marked with lead pencil.

A district court martial was convened here this morning and tried Private Ivors on a charge of desertion. At the U. N. B. convalescent next Thursday an oil painting of the late Dr. Brydson Jack, for many years president of the college, will be unveiled. It is a gift from members of his family. The presentation will be made by Dr. Brydson Jack of Vancouver.

Contractor Corbett has started work on the new school building.

QUEEN'S BROTHER THE NEXT GOVERNOR

REDMOND HAS NOT CHANGED ON IRISH QUESTION

Nationalist Leader Predicts That Home Rule Bill Will Pass Commons Before Recess.

(Associated Press.)

London, May 7.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in the house of commons, in a statement issued today concerning reports published recently that conversations had been renewed with reference to further concessions for Ulster declares that these reports "are, according to my information, entirely incorrect."

Mr. Redmond also declares untrue a report that he had been in consultation with Premier Asquith concerning such concessions.

"The position of the Irish party with reference to concessions," the statement of Mr. Redmond continues, "has undergone no change since the second reading of the home rule bill. I am confident the home rule bill will be proceeded with rapidly and that it will receive its third reading and be sent to the house of lords in its present shape certainly before the Whitsuntide recess."

ON THE TRACK OF AUTHOR OF "IAN M'LEAN" LETTER

Nova Scotia Legislature Finds Federal Officer Brought it to Newspaper for Publication—Mutilated Telegram Gave the Information.

Halifax, May 7.—Three weeks of desperate fighting to conceal the identity of the author of the notorious letter, and the investigation conducted by the Nova Scotia Legislature, has resulted in the discovery of the man who brought this communication to the Halifax office. It was dragged into the light of day through the agency of a telegram sent by W. H. Dennis to Senator Dennis, through the Western Union office.

The mystery was only solved by chance, however, for a desperate last-minute attempt to prevent the name becoming public had been made by mutilating the telegram in question. Some one secretly cut the document and eliminated three words from it, the name of the author of the notorious letter, and Manager Ledwith, of the Western Union, under oath declared that he had satisfied himself that none of the Western Union employees were guilty of this action and that the only outsider who had access to the message was W. R. McCurdy, news editor of the Herald, who examined the messages in the Western Union office in the early hours of Monday morning of this week, the day after he was released from the county jail.

The telegram was:

"Article Wien has sent you was written, and was given to McCurdy personally. Not in Herald, but handed over to Mail. Both passed it. Soon as Mail was out I noticed it stopped press, took article out and destroyed all papers. Only a few got out, not more than 1,000. Intimate legal friend of family in close touch, articles say nothing."

Prince of Teck the New Official

Forty Years Old and Has Seen Much Military Service

Married a Daughter of the Duchess of Albany and Has Two Children—Official Announcement Was Made Yesterday.

(Canadian Press.)

London, May 7.—Prince Alexander of Teck, third son of the late Duke of Connaught as governor-general of Canada. Official announcement was made today.

Prince Alexander of Teck was born at Kensington Palace, April 16, 1874, the third son of the late Duke of Teck and the late Princess Mary Adelaide, and is a brother of Queen Mary. His full name is Alexander Augustus Frederick William Alfred George. His education was obtained at Eton and Sandhurst. He is major of the Second Life Guards, and had been captain of the Seventh Hussars and Royal Horse Guards, serving with distinction in Matabeleland in 1896, during which war he was mentioned in the despatches and received a medal. In 1908-1909 he was at the front in South Africa, and won the queen's medal, with five clasps, D. S. O.

Prince Alexander is a Knight of Justice of St. John of Jerusalem, was created G. C. B. in 1911, and was married in 1905 to the Princess Alice, daughter of the late Royal Highness, Princess Alice of Albany. He has one son and one daughter. His energetic work in connection with raising funds for the Middlesex Hospital, London, a year or two ago won him a high place in the affection of the English people.

WILL HAYNES BE HANGED TODAY?

Ottawa Will Not Interfere, and Murderer's Sole Hope is in Trial Judge, Who May Grant a Stay.

Sydney, N. S., May 8.—The last day set for the execution of Frank Haynes has arrived, but up till an early hour this morning no definite word in regard to a postponement of the execution has been received in the city, as far as can be learned.

In the meantime all the preparations for the hanging have been made and as far as the sheriff is concerned, the stage is set for the last tragic scene in a drama which has thrilled the people of the maritime provinces for the last few months. There has been no definite word yet for the execution, but it was announced to those getting permits that the execution would not take place before 12 noon today or not later than midnight. This was not generally expected by the public, as it is customary to have the execution at an early hour in the morning.

Although all these preparations for the execution of Haynes are going on, it has not been yet learned for a certainty whether Haynes will be hanged or not. It has been learned that D. A. Cameron, associated with the crown, left for Halifax by the 6 o'clock train, and it is surmised that he will make a personal application before Justice Drysdale for a stay of sentence for Haynes and a consequent postponement of the hanging.

A message from the department of justice early last evening stated that no stay of execution had been granted at Ottawa, and that Judge Drysdale, the trial judge, would be the one to grant the postponement on the request of the attorney-general or the crown prosecutor.

This coupled with the statement given yesterday afternoon by Judge Drysdale personally, appears to leave matters just where they were before. Judge Drysdale evidently thinks that he has not the power to grant the application without an order from the minister of justice, while on the other hand, the minister thinks that the judge is the proper man.

Denies Secret Marriage.

Winnipeg, May 7.—"Of course, it is not true," said Commander Evans, smilingly when, on his arrival at Winnipeg today, he was shown a despatch from London (Eng.), to the effect that it was rumored that he had been secretly married to Lady Scott. Its contents at once amused and angered him, and he asked for a copy of the despatch as a memento.

JAMES LOWELL DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Passed Away at His Home, South Bay, Early Friday Morning—An Interesting Political Career—Candidate for Federal House at Last Elections.

Halifax, May 7.—James Lowell, a well-known political figure in the Maritime provinces, passed away at his home in South Bay, early Friday morning, after a long illness. He was a candidate for the federal house at the last elections.

James Lowell was born at St. Martin's (N. B.), on Dec. 25, 1867, and was therefore in his forty-seventh year. He has passed away at an age when many men are entering the prime of life, and he was a member of the municipal council, and a most valued member of that body, and was advanced to the wardens' chair before retiring. In 1904, he was elected to the legislature in a by-election and was re-elected as the running mate of Hon. H. A. McKewen, now Mr. Justice McKewen, at the general elections of 1908, when the government he was supporting was defeated, and the candidates in many other constituencies were overwhelmed. When Mr. Lowell's consent to allow his name to be placed before the Liberal convention in August, 1911, as a federal candidate for the city and county was sought, he first asked the advice of his leader, Hon. C. W. Robinson, who released him from the presidential opposition party with a message that he must accept the federal nomination for patriotic reasons.

The campaign which Mr. Lowell carried on in the few weeks before the election of Sept. 2, 1911, aroused alike the admiration of his friends and of his political opponents. He entered the light, and almost immediately to the city electors, except by reputation, but he proved a most formidable opponent to a member of parliament who had held his seat for many years. He was a man of high character, and was generally conceded that he gained ground daily as the election approached. Mr. Lowell has not enjoyed the best of health since that time.
