The gaily Tribune. J. L. STEWART, EDITOR. TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 20, 1873. The Silence of the Government. We are glad to see the Telegraph their appearance in this list. at last speaking out, as THE TRIBUNE Amusementsspoke two days ago, in condemnation of do the course taken by the Government on the Costigan resolution. It at last demands what we have demanded-that New Goodsthe Government should say fairly, Notice-Public Noticesquarely and openly that they cannot and will not trample on the constitutional rights of any Province at the dic-Groceriestation of any Parliamentary coalition-Noticethat they will dissolve the House and go to the people if the Costigan resolution is pressed as one of want of confidence. This is the demand we made of the Government the moment its shuffling statement of having "laid the Picturesresolution before Ilis Excellency" reached us, and we welcome the Tele- Clothing, &cgraph to our platform. Now we want to hear from the News. Denouncing the Opposition will do as little good politically as denouncing the devil and his works has done morally. The Government press should turn their batteries where they will do the most good-on the Government itself. The afternoon. profound silence, only unbroken by THE TRIBUNE, that prevailed while the indemnity fraud was in process of concoction and execution, taught the Gov-ernment to expect silence while their It was proved to have been still born. course in regard to this matter was un-The only safe, statesmanlike, manly -Mrs. Scott-Siddons $554.25, advertisourse for the Government is a frank ing, etc., $801.66; net proceeds $669.13.
