

A Tale of Youth and Love and of the Mending of the Old Wisdom Feud

JOAN AT HALFWAY

By GRACE McLEOD ROGERS

It was many years after the first Wisdom Bride came to "Halfway," where the Wisdom roses bloomed, that little Joan Wisdom whose parents were dead, came back to live with her Scotch-Canadian great Uncle and Aunt at the strange old house near the sea.

"Halfway"—what a world of things to think about it gave to sixteen-year-old Joan. There were the locked doors of secrecy and buried hurt and the anger of old Wisdom quarrels, the hereditary gypsy curse of the Thirst that was to fall upon every male in the Wisdom line and the promise,

"Sons' sons and daughters' sons,
But son's son shall end it."

Then there were the other Wisdoms of whom she must not speak, and whom she must never see—how she longed to know them! How Joan lifted the curse of Romany and reunited the proud Wisdoms in a story woven of romantic legends from the "land of orchards."

The Story of a Canary and His Friends

By MARSHALL SAUNDERS

Author of "Beautiful Joe," etc.

Throughout the many attractive incidents of the story Miss Saunders shows with her rare understanding of animal personality, how the happiness of human beings is interestingly and beautifully connected with the love and mutual service between themselves and their faithful animal friends.

Dicky and his lively companions, Billie Sundae, the dog, and Chummy, the sparrow, Black Thomas, the cat, and Nella, the monkey, rescued by the kindly Martin household after varied experiences in their early days, do their part in grateful animal service. Each tells his own story, full of narrative interest and sympathetic understanding of both animals and people. It is a book that will be a rare treat to all animal lovers.
