BRAVERY.

"Elton Tilton is just the bravest boy you ever saw, mother. When we were playing this morning, we saw a big snake, most as large as my arm, coming toward us; and we all ran as fast as we could, all but Elton. He threw a stone at it. Wasn't that brave?"

"There are different kinds of bravery," the little boy's mother answered.

"Yes," said Winfred, "and one day a big dog came along with his tongue hanging out, and we thought it was mad, and scrambled over the fence; but Elton walked right along as calm as ever. He says he isn't afraid of bears or tramps, or anything. I wish I was as brave as Elton, but I'm afraid I never will be. He says he hopes there will be a war when he grows to a man, so he can go and fight."

"I heard a story about two boys the other day," said his mother, "and I thought one of them was very brave."

"Do tell me about it," said Winfred, eagerly.

"They went to school together, and one day they thought it would be great fun to hide a frog in the teacher's desk. But it did not turn out as they expected. That is the way with jokes. The frog tipped over the ink bottle, and spoiled a number of examination papers and other things, and the teacher was very angry. He asked the guilty boy to own his fault like a man and take the punishment he deserved. He put him on his honour, you see. Well, the oldest boy, who found the frog and first thought of the joke sat still in his seat without a blush; but the little boy, though he trembled with fear, went to the desk before the whole school and owned his fault. And he sat for an hour on the dunce's stool, a target for fifty pair of eyes."

"O mother," cried Winfred, "I was so ashamed! I'll never do anything so mean again as long as I live. How did you know?"

"I heard two boys talking about it as I rode in the car. I was proud of my boy, Winfred; and I pitied Elton Tilton's mother, for I said to myself: 'My boy was brave, but her boy was a coward!'"

"Why, I never thought that was being brave!" said Winfred.—Julia D. Peck, in Youth's Companion.

sisters, but he was the eldest of the family, and his name was "Lark." I suppose because he was the eldest he fancied he had a right to have more attention paid to him, but as his brother and sisters were weaker, Little May, who owned the puppies, took up the smallest of them to carry indoors. "Lark" was a great pet too, but on this occasion he quite forgot his good manners, and rushed at May and tore the trimming from her frock in his anger and disappointment. "Oh, fie, Lark!" she said, "you have quite spoiled my pretty dress. I cannot carry you all. You are quite big enough to walk, you jealous puppy." Lark, I am glad to say, was very sorry when he saw the mischief he had done, and slunk away. He did not think that his jealousy would lead him to act so towards his young mistress who had always treated him so kindly, but it did, and she was scolded for having her frock so torn. Thus you see that even in the case of Lark his little temper did harm. I hope all little readers will remember the jealous puppy, and not give way to temper when they cannot obtain all they want immediately, but wait patiently till they can be attended to.

I Am Willing To Prove I Can Cure You

To That End I Am Giving Away $10,000 Worth of Medicine

In order to show beyond all doubt that I am in possession of a medicine that will cure kidney trouble, bladder trouble or rheumatism, I will this year give away ten thousand dollars' worth of this medicine, and anyone suffering from these diseases can get a box of it absolutely free. All that is necessary is to send me your address.

I don't mean that you are to use a part of it or all of it and pay me if cured. I mean that I will send you a box of this medicine absolutely free of charge, a gift from me to the Uric Acid sufferers of the world, so I can show them where and how they may be cured. I will not expect payment for this free medicine, nor would I accept it now or later if you sent it. It is free in the real meaning of the word.

For twenty-five years—a quarter of a century—I have been trying to convince the public that I have something genuine, something better than others have for the cure of stubborn, chronic rheumatism, for torturing kidney backache, for annoying calls to urinate. But it is hard to convince people—they try a few things unsuccessfully and give up all hope and refuse to listen to anyone thereafter. Happily, I am in a position now to demonstrate to sufferers at my own expense that I have a medicine that cures these diseases. I don't ask them to spend any money to find out; I don't ask them to believe me, nor even to take the word of reliable people, but all I ask is that they allow me to send them the medicine at my own cost. That is surely fair.

To this end I have set aside ten thousand dollars, which will be used to compound my medicine. Much of it is ready now to be sent out, all of it fresh and standard. There will be thousands of them, and anyone who needs it can get some of it free. But in order that I shall know that you have a disease for which this medicine is intended, I ask you to send me some of your leading symptoms. If you have any of the symptoms in the list printed here you need my medicine and if you will write me I will gladly send you a box of it free with full directions for your use. Look the symptoms over, see which symptoms you have, then write me about as follows: "Dear Dr., I notice symptoms number"—here put down the numbers, give your age, full address, and send it to me. My address is Dr. T. Frank Lynott, 837 Franklin Building, Toronto, Can.

The ten thousand dollars I am spending for the compounding of my medicine is only a part of the money I am devoting to this cause, for the package of medicine I send you will be fully prepaid at my expense. From any standpoint you view it, YOU incur no expense or obligation. Just tell others who you know are suffering who sent you the medicine that cured you.

I am promising to give away ten thousand dollars' worth of medicine, and I will do that; I am promising to send any sufferer who writes me a box of this medicine and full directions free of charge, and I will do that.

who is giving away $10,000 worth of medicine.

I can say further that this medicine has been vouched for according to law as complying in every detail with all requirements. It will stop rheumatism, it will stop pain and backache, it will stop too frequent desire to urinate; it will heal, soothe and strengthen. You will be better in every way for having taken it. There is not an ingredient that can injure; not one but will benefit. All that I ask is that you use it yourself so that you may be personally convinced.

Owing to the large number of requests, I have had ten thousand more copies of my medical book printed. This book is new and up to date and contains complete descriptions, symptoms, causes, cures and cures of kidney, bladder and rheumatic diseases. All who write for the free medicine will be sent a copy of this grand illustrated medical book—the largest ever written on these diseases for free and general distribution.

If you need medicine such as I have, if you are anxious to be cured and don't want to spend any money LOOKING for cures, write me. Read the symptoms over and let me hear from you today.
