Canon Erskine Clarke has completed forty years' clerical work in Battersea. For thirty-seven years he was vicar of the parish. Then he became vicar of St. Luke's, Nightingale-lane, a position he still retains. St. Luke's is one of the many parishes carved out of the original district of which the vicar of Battersea had charge. The parish church of St. Mary by the River, was almost the only one in the district forty years ago. There are now about twenty churches, most of which have complete parochial organizations.

These buildings, both for beauty and utility, are second to none in the diocese.
