...as Usual.

Our G... ...1892 are already in, and we are prepared to show our customers a larger range and better values than ever before.

Our Dress Goods and Mantle Cloths are simply marvels of beauty and cheapness, and in Dress Linings and Trimmings we are 15 per cent. below market values, an advantage obtained by buying in very large quantities for spot cash.

We have given special attention, and with gratifying success, to the procuring of Men's, Ladies' and Children's underwear. Don't fail to see them; it means to you money saved.

In Boots & Shoes we are keeping our usual large stock well assorted, with a few special lines, or Snaps, added.

We are now keeping a large range of Hand-painted Window Shades (40 different designs) complete, with spring rollers; also Lace Curtains, Curtain Poles, Fancy Pole Ends and Fixtures, and all greatly reduced in price.

We make our Gent's furnishing department a speciality, and can give a better Suit, better Pants, better Hat, Boots, Shirt, Collar, or Tie, than can be got elsewhere for the same money. And why? because having a large trade in these lines we give special attention to the buying, dealing only with manufacturers, and getting closest cash prices.

Come and see us. Give us an opportunity to serve you, and you will realize the above statements as facts.

CENTRAL BLOCK ATHENS — H. H. ARNOLD

Good Value	POLITE ATTENTION	Fair Dealing

The family who spend their money right will succeed. The family who spend their money wrong can not. When you want Groceries and Provisions go to the store and get our prices and see our goods. We claim to give you more value for your dollar than you can get elsewhere. The question will arise, how can this be? It only requires an explanation and you will admit that we can do all we claim. We have always had a large trade in Athens, but at the present we are closely connected with another store in Lyndhurst. This enables us to buy goods in almost car lots; in fact, for the last six months we have had car lots every month, besides nearly every day's train has goods for us. This we can prove by the freight agent. We say, and conscientiously, too, that there is no other store in Athens handling this amount of goods. Why is it?

We started business to sell goods, not to give them away. We cannot live without a little profit, but we cut that profit down to the lowest point. We prefer 5 per cent. profit on ten sales before 40 per cent. profit on one. When you want any and everything in Groceries and Provisions, go to Thompson's. Please note the following prices:

Best granulated sugar 20 lbs. for	$1 00
Bright yellow sugar 25 lbs. for	1 00
Best Valencia Raisons, 5 lbs. for	25

We have purchased this week a whole line of Tea, well worth 35c., which will be sold for 25c per pound. Don't fail to come and see for yourself.

Faithfully Yours,

Joseph Thompson.

GOING OUT

Do not make any mistake. We are not going out of business, or going out of present premises. No, but what we are going out of is

Dress Goods, Mantles, Etc.

Just as soon as possible, we are going to devote our whole time and store room exclusively to

Gents' Furnishings and Boots & Shoes

Simply these and nothing more.

CONSEQUENTLY

All goods other than are included in these lines will be cleared for SPOT CASH at

LOW DOWN FIGURES

For days we have been busy marking goods down for this big reduction sale, and will be ready for the rush on Friday next. This is not simply to reduce stock; it is to transfer every article and yard of goods to happy customers. We have prices at a point where the goods must move, and in the matter of bargains it is simply a question of first come first served.

Our stock is large—it is complete—and to clear it out by retail is a big job, but it is all going to pass over the counters in lots to suit customers, and buyers will get the benefit.

Delta I. O. O. F.

On Thursday evening last Mr. C. B. Magee, D. D. G. M., of Merrickville, attended a special meeting of Delta lodge for the purpose of installing the officers elect for the ensuing term. He was accompanied from Athens by Messrs. W. M. Stevens and G. F. Donnelley. There was a good attendance of the brethren and the offices were filled as follows:—

P. G.	W. T. Sheridan
N. G.	F. Singleton
V. G.	Geo. Morris
R. S. N. G.	R. I. Stevens
L. S. N. G.	Geo. Godkin
R. S. V. G.	L. Washburn

Per. Sec.	G. P. Chamberlain
Warden	L. Stevens
Conductor	Joel Barlow
Treas.	J. Moulton
R. S. S.	W. Niblock
L. S. S.	John Williams

Mr. Magee proved to be a most efficient officer and the manner in which he performed his duties won high encomiums from all present.

At the close of the ceremonies the members repaired to the Hotel de Browne where a grand banquet had been prepared and they were soon engaged in placing the choice viands where they do the most good. It was a magnificent spread, creditable alike to the generosity of the Delta Odd Fellows and the culinary skill of the hostess. About thirty were gathered around the festive board and when the covers were removed a number of volunteer toasts were proposed that brought forth good speeches in re... The annual meeting of the South Leeds District Agricultural Society will be held at Delta on Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 1 p. m. for receiving reports for 1892, election of officers, and and transaction of other business. A meeting of the directors of the society will be held at 10 a. m. on same day to wind up the business of the year.

A Yonge Front correspondent says that the shareholders of Oddfellows' hall met the other day and found that it had paid about 7 per cent. What would a good hall in this village pay? That is the question. We trust some enterprising capitalist will solve the problem satisfactorily and that he will be encouraged thereby to put up a good building.

The New England Dressed Meat and Wool Co. of Boston have shipped from the Ottawa Valley this season $85,000 lambs—3,000 more than last year. The average price paid was $3 per head. The prices this year were a little lower than last, although farmers who followed the instructions sent out by the buyers in early spring profited thereby for their extra trouble.

On Sunday and Monday, Jan. 15 and 16, anniversary services in connection with the Toledo Presbyterian church will be held. On Sunday service will be conducted morning and evening by Rev. Thos. Nixon, M. A., of Smiths' Falls, and in the afternoon by Rev. A. A. Radley. On Monday evening Rev. C. J. Cameron, M. A., of Brockville, will deliver a lecture on "the Influence of the Confessional on the Individual and the State." Admission to the lecture, 20c.

We learn from the report of the registrar of the village of Athens that during 1892 there were registered with him 15 marriages, 11 births, and 6 deaths. These figures no doubt correctly represent the number of marriages, but there is a strong probability that all the births and deaths have not been reported. Some day an exaction of the penalty provided by statute will awaken the careless to a sense of their duty in respect to this matter.

This is not exactly the season for fish figures, but the following given to us last week by Mr. Vanalstine, of Delta, are well authenticated and should be borne in memory by sportsmen. A party of gentlemen visited the lower Delta one day last season and as a result of the day's catch were able to place on the scales a string of 96 bass that weighed, after being gilled and cleaned, 247 lbs. It is evident from this that a little well-directed advertising on the ... of those interested would prove ... ing investment.

The Athens Woolen Mill

One of Athens' Busy Hives of Manufacturing Industry.

The building shown in the above engraving was originally built for a tannery, later it was converted into a wooden ware factory, and, later still, into a planing, door and sash factory. The property came into the hands of W. G. Parish a couple of years ago and last year the machinery was removed by him and placed in his new factory near the B. & W. station. Since that time until a few weeks ago, the massive stone structure with its brick annex has been vacant. The old frame woolen mill, a few rods distant, had served in that capacity for nearly half a century and the heavy machinery had, by its continued jar, so undermined the walls that it was impossible to keep the machinery in line. Negotiations were entered into between Jas F. Gordon and Mr. Parish with the result that the old building will be abandoned and the machinery placed in the stone building, as above stated. The work of removing the machinery has been going on for some days and when fitted up the new mill will be second to none in the district. The engine of 20 horse power will be placed in the brick annex shown in the cut. This annex is practically fire proof, being lined on the inside with tin. On the ground floor of the main building will be located the weaving and finishing rooms; on the second flat the spinning jacks and carding apparatus will be placed, while on the upper flat will be pickers and roll carders. The work of putting up the shafting and placing the different pieces of machinery in position will be pushed as rapidly as possible and by the time the first bundle of wool is brought in the mill will be in working order. With the increased facilities that the change of building will give Mr. Gordon, there is no doubt that he will be able to do a largely increased business in the future.

The counties council will hold their first meeting for '93 on Jan. 27th.

It's the Star Almanac of Montreal that takes the palm for popularity. It is immense.

The Elbe Mills is closed down for repairs. Notice of the re-opening of the mill will be given through the Reporter.

Among a lot of high school chemical apparatus displayed in the window of Mr. J. P. Lamb's drug store, we notice a large Leibig distiller. A spirit lamp volatilizes the liquid placed in the retort, the stem of which passes at a gentle incline through a tube filled with cold water. The vapor in its passage through is condensed and drops into a receiver. The temperature of the condensing tube is kept down by means of a siphon attachment that obtains a steady flow of cold water through the encircling tube. The siphon is the distinctive excellency of the apparatus as it ensures rapid and perfect distillation.

Kissing The Bible.

The British Medical Journal says that the uncleanly practice of kissing the greasy covers of the much-tumbled Police Court Bible has been largely dispensed with since the publication of its recent note on the subject, and adds: "It cannot be too widely known that any witness may be sworn, on demand, with uplifted hand. The experienced police officer usually avoids the risk of infection by kissing an inner leaf instead of the outside cover of the much used book, but one hand uplifted is undoubtedly a better method. And as it is a question of health it is well to call upon the doctor to lead the way in rejecting the risky process of kissing the book.

Hickey's Corners.

That either the appetite or the population of this town is increasing is apparent, since our bread proprietor has so thriven that he has been enabled to furnish himself with an entirely now horse and "Baldi," being superannuated, has retired on a pension.

We notice that one of our heavy swells has elongated certain portions of his wearing apparel.

A few weeks ago our debating society was organized with great enthusiasm, but now this has slightly waned and at present "To be or not to be, that is the question."

Some of our residents seemed to labor under the impression that Pharaoh's dragon will come to pass in modern days, judging by the piles of wood thay are collecting.

Our street lamp is a vast improvement. No doubt the title of the next sensational novel will be "Hickey's Corners by Gas light."

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who, lying on luxurious bed,
Ne'er longed from luxury to fly,
And circled by mount, lake and sky,
By great fatigue the joys to reap
Of rest profound and lasting sleep.

If such there be, go mark him well,
No fishing stories can he tell,
No perils o'ercome by sea or land,
Slight is his will and weak his hand;
And though his wisdom may redound
Throughout the world's remotest bound,
The breath he draws is coward's breath,
And when he dies he dies the death
Of him who has no will or power
To help him in high danger's hour.

For, by the aid of mount or lake,
Or whatsoever strength doth take,
Our strong Canadian arms are tried,
And though we die, we yet have died
Because the nature that we love
Hath called us to our home above.

The Cape Vincent Eagle says:—A Canadian fakir advertises for American quarter dollars of 1856, for which he is willing to pay $2.75 each. Several guileless ones, it is said, have forwarded such pieces, of which there are any quantity in circulation, and are patiently waiting for the returns, which, of course, never come. The Kanuck is raking in the pile and laughing over the gullibility of the American people.

An Important Question.

Although Ontario has one of the best educational systems in the world, is it not possible that it may be too theoretical for everyday life? The great ambition of teacher and pupil appears to be an advancement along certain defined lines, from the first step of the toddler in the infant department, till he arrives at the right end of the university course. The great aim is to "pass" the pupil from one department to another, and the ability of a teacher is judged by the number of pupils he or she pushes on to the next department. The university education is not the object of the majority, but a preparation for hard knocks in the every day battle of life. It is questionable if the tendency of our institutions is not too much towards this higher education which the majority cannot afford, with a corresponding neglect of that practical education necessary for the masses.—Ottawa Free Press.

Honorably Acquitted.

On Thursday evening Dec. 30th. John Flood living near Charleston, was in the village and on getting ready for home went to the Gamble House shed to get out his horse. While there he decided to have a tooth pulled and taking off his overcoat, he threw it over the seat of his cutter, and went back into the house and had the tooth extracted. Forgetting that he had left his coat in the cutter he put on a coat that looked like his own that he found in the hall and drove home. When he got up next morning he missed a pair of mittens he had in his pockets and thinking he had lost them when getting out his horse, he drove back to Athens to find that not only his mittens but his coat was missing and that he had worn another man's coat home. Enquires failed to elicit where his coat was and he went home without it. By some means Constable Philips learned that Johnathan Frost, living with Peter F. Howard, on the Charleston road, had a coat that did not belong to him and he got a search warrant and on making a search of the room occupied by Frost found the missing coat and mittens in his possession, and brought Frost, coat and mittens back with him. On Wednesday evening the trial took place before Justices Cawley and Loverin. Mr. Flood identified the missing articles and gave a statement substantially as above related. Walter Erwin rode home with Frost and heard nothing about the coat until in Howard's house, when Frost put on the coat and Miss Howard asked him where he got it, when he made an evasive reply. The overcoat was taken up to Frost's room and put on the bed to keep them warm.

Edward Derbyshire rode up with Frost, and when ready for home met Frost on the street and went to get the horse out of the shed together. They found the horse had been moved and hitched in another part of the shed and the robe they put on the horse was lying in the bottom of the cutter, and a black fur overcoat lay across the back of the seat. Frost said to him "somebody has been driving my horse again and I'll keep this coat until I find out who the party is that owns it, as he is very likely the one that drove the horse." Frost threw the overcoat down in the back of the cutter and when at Albert Morris' place the witness got out and knew nothing further concerning the coat. The room was then cleared of spectators and the Justices allowed Frost to make a statement, which was to the same effect as that related by Derbyshire. Mr. Flood in answer to a question said that as he had been drinking some that evening it was quite possible that he put the overcoat on Frost's cutter thinking it was his own and further that he had never heard anything against the character of Frost, whom he believed to be honest and upright. The Justices while severely censuring Frost for not taking steps to find an owner for the coat, unanimously exonerated him from all felonious intention in taking the overcoat and he was accordingly honorably acquitted.

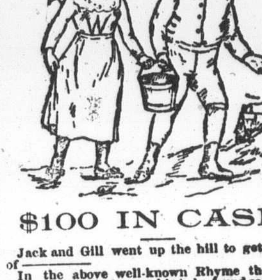
A PRIZE REBUS

A Gift for Everybody Answering this Puzzle Correctly.



$100 IN CASH.

Jack and Gill went up the hill to get a pail of ———

In the above well-known Rhyme the word "Water" is missing, and is to be found concealed in the above cut of Jack and Gill. The publishers of Our Young People will give $100 in Cash to the person who first can find the word "Water" in the above picture. To the second a fine Gold Watch. To the third a fine Silver Watch. To the fourth an elegant Five O'Clock Silver Tea Service. To the fifth an imported Music Box. To the 6th a Simplex Typewriter. A Solid Gold Ring to each of the next two correct answers. A $5 Gold Piece to the next three answers. A gold brooch to each of the next ten correct answers. A committee consisting of five teachers from the public schools of Toronto will be invited to be present and assist the judges in the award of prizes.

Each contestant is to cut out the Rebus and make a cross with a leadpencil on the five letters (Water) and send same to us with ten three-cent stamps (or 30 cents in silver) for one years' subscription to Our Young People, which is a (large, beautifully illustrated 16 page magazine,) a beautiful Engraving "The First Kiss" will be sent free by return mail to every answer received. Remember that you get the paper for an entire year and a chance for one or more of the prizes. This is your opportunity and if you delay you will miss and regret it. We will give to the last 20 correct answers received each a handsome Souvenir Spoon of Columbus.

READER IT IS FOR YOU TO SAY whether or not you will have Our Young People as a regular visitor at your home for the next year, and a chance of winning one of the above prizes. If you are not perfectly satisfied with your investment after receiving the first copy of Our Young People you can have your money back. Isn't this fair.

The envelope which contains correct answer bearing first post-mark will receive first reward and the balance in order as received. Be sure and answer to-day and enclose 30 cents and you will receive the best value you ever did for the money. Address (E) OUR YOUNG PEOPLE, King Street, West, Toronto, Canada.
