Hard Study in School.

BRINGS ON A SEVERE ATTACK OF ST. VITUS' DANCE.

A Young Girl's Life for a Time Made Miserable—Could not use Her Hands and Found it Difficult to walk—Health Restored.

From the Napanee Express.

Nervousness is the frequent cause of much misery and suffering. One of the effects of this breaking up of the nerves, particularly among young people, being chorea or St. Vitus' dance. A correspondent tells of a young lady at Selby who was badly afflicted with this trouble. He says: "I never saw anyone suffering so badly before from nervous disorder. She was violently jerking and twitching all the time, and could not use her right hand at all. Anything she would try to pick up with it would instantly fall. When she would attempt to walk, her limbs would twist and turn, the ankle often doubling down and throwing her. Lately I heard that she had been cured, but doubted the truth of the statement and went out to see her. The statement proved quite true, and believing that a recital of the facts of the case would be of advantage to some one similarly suffering, I asked permission to make them known, which was readily granted. The young lady is Miss H. M. Gonyou, a general favorite among her acquaintances, and it is thought that her trouble, as is not infrequently the case, was brought on by hard study at school. Miss Gonyou gave the following statement: "All through the fall of 1894 I had been feeling unwell. I did not speak to anyone about it, for I was going to school and was afraid if I said anything about it to my parents they would keep me at home. I kept getting worse, and at last got so nervous that I could not hold my pencil. My right side was affected most, though the trouble seemed to go through my whole system. In January I was so bad that I had to discontinue going to school, and I was constantly growing worse. I could not use my hands, because I would let everything drop, and frequently when I attempted to walk I would fall. My brother had been using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for getting better, so I thought as they were helping him so much they might be a good medicine for me. Before the first box was gone I was feeling much better, and after using the Pink Pills for about a month, my health was fully restored. It is now more than a year since I discontinued the use of the pills and I have not had the slightest trace of the malady since. I am satisfied that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved me from a life of misery, and I would strongly recommend them for nervous troubles.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured, and thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

Cold Storage.

Before the committee on Agriculture at Ottawa, Thursday, Prof. Robertson gave evidence on the subject of food products, especially butter, meats, eggs, poultry and fruits, and the value of cold storage in this connection. He laid down as a maxim that it was not the composition of the article, but its condition that determined its value. Butter, for instance, with a strong flavor and in a misty condition, had just as much fat as butter with a good flavor and looked neat. He pointed out the great value of the English market. The reason we sent so much more cheese than butter to the English market was because butter spoiled in transit while cheese did not. The new cold storage system was to try to alter the condition as to perishable products.

Mr. Robertson announced that the cold storage arrangements included a weekly service from Montreal and a fortnightly one from St. John, Halifax and Charlottetown. P. E. I. Trial shipments of a carload per week of pears, peaches, grapes and tomatoes have been arranged for from a cold storage building erected by the Government at Grimby. Cold storage buildings will be erected also at Charlottetown, St. John and Halifax. The ocean vessels will have mechanical refrigeration. Two men will be appointed to go to England to facilitate the distribution of Canadian perishable products. The extra charge for refrigeration on the ocean vessels will be 12 cents per hundred pounds.

To The Lovers of Purty.

Four important reforms are now under consideration at Ottawa: (1) Age of Protection, (2) Lotteries, (3) Race Gambling, and (4) Kinestoscope Exhibitions. If we do not act promptly it will be too late; for if the House passes the bill amending the criminal code, these reforms, which we desire to have introduced, cannot be considered for another year.

AGE OF PROTECTION.

For years the W.C.T.U. has made its appeal to the Dominion Legislature for the better protection of women and girls. We have now reason to believe that the age of protection will be raised from 16 to 18 years, if sufficient pressure is brought to bear upon the Government. In fact, our message has been, "If the people want it and say so, they can have it." To raise this chance would be worse than folly. The bill has reached its second reading in the House, with little of either opposition or support. Now is the time to speak out in its favor.

LOTTERIES AND RACE GAMBLING.

Both these evils are on the increase in Canada, and our laws are wholly inadequate to cope with them. The United States is far in advance of us in this respect. Do we want in Canada legalized Race Gambling, the latter for 24 days per track each year? Our Legislators say "The public has shown no opposition to the proposals to legalize and license."

KINESTOSCOPE.

Then, we are threatened with a new danger—the reproduction by the kinestoscope of the notorious Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight, immoral dances and other things of like character. Such exhibitions could not fail to foster the most brutal of instincts, and to destroy the moral tone of those who witness them. The United States Senate and House of Representatives for the territories and some six of the state legislatures have now under consideration bills to prohibit this form of entertainment. Parents should especially be on the alert to protect their children from this insidious foe.

What can we do?

Let every elector write at once to his representative in the House at Ottawa, plead for the raising of the age of protection to eighteen years; for the total suppression of lotteries and race gambling; the prohibition of the exhibition by the kinestoscope, or kindred device, of prize fights, high dances or any pictures of a debasing tendency.

We would, if we could, banish at once and forever, every injustice and wrong under which poor humanity groans. Since we cannot, let us continue to utter our protests, not in anger, but in sorrow, against the liquor traffic, the house of shame, the gambling den, and everything in literature, art and fashion that tempts our youth or pollutes our homes. "And be not weary in well doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not."

PRESS SUPPL.

Dr. Scriver, Carpenter, of Hastings, was a Great sufferer from Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure Effected a Quick Cure—It Dissolves and Eradicates all Solid Matter From the System—Is Safe and Permanent.
"For many years I have been troubled with kidney disease, necessitating the taking of much in the way of remedies. Two years ago they were of no avail. My urine was more like blood than anything else, and was very painful. Just at that time I began using South American Kidney Cure. It gave me immediate relief, and from that time till now I have had no difficulty. I can safely and honestly recommend this great remedy to all persons suffering from kidney trouble." Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

CONVINCED THE SCEPTIC.

The Merits of the Great South American Remedy Withstand all the Assaults of the Creditors and Sceptics. It is a Wonderful Medicine They cannot use in Their Personal Affairs—It Never Fails Them.
Mr. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., says:—"I recommend South American Nerve to everybody. I consider it would be tantamount to the interest of humanity were I not to do otherwise. In one instance I convinced an avowed sceptic to all remedies of its curative powers; he procured a bottle and it has proved its great worth as a stomach and nerve tonic. It has done wonders for me and I keep it constantly in the house. An occasional dose acts as a preventive and keeps me well and strong. It is a wonderful medicine." Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.
