FERGUSON—COON

The home of Mr and Mrs S. A. Coon of Athens was the scene of a very pretty wedding on September the sixth at seven p.m., when their eldest daughter Ella Nora was united in marriage to Melzer E. Ferguson of Rockport. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. A. Read in the presence of a large number of relatives.

The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride was given away by her father, and was attired in a beautiful gown of cream taffeta with pearl and lace trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. Her travelling suit was of recoda with black beaver hat trimmed to match.

After the ceremony, congratulations were offered and the guests were invited to a sumptuous repast. Among the many valuable gifts received by the bride were two substantial cheques. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch fob, and to the pianist, Miss Ida Ferguson, a signet ring. The happy young couple left about ten o'clock for Brockville in an auto, thence by the 11.15 train to Toronto, Niagara, and other western points. On their return to Rockport, their future home will be in readiness for their reception. They are followed by the best wishes of many friends.

GRAHAM—TENNANT

A very pretty house wedding took place at the home of Mrs Nancy Tennant, Caintown, on Thursday, August 31st, at 10 a.m., when her youngest daughter, Miss Emma Lena, was united in holy matrimony with Mr Robert Radie Graham, B.A., B.Sc. instructor in the Agricultural College Guelph.

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr Knowlton, of Athens, and the couple, each unattended, stood under an arch of wild autumn flowers in the parlor, and after the ceremony, performed by the Rev. L. H. Fisher, minister of the Caintown Methodist church, received the congratulations of the relatives and intimate friends present.

A very tasty wedding luncheon was served in the dining room, after which Mr Thos. Tennant and Mr W. R. Graham, Lanedowne, brothers of the bride and groom, and the officiating minister made congratulatory remarks and wished the newly-married couple joy in their new life.

Mr and Mrs Graham left on the afternoon train for Guelph. They were the recipients of many presents in cut glass and solid silver, all bearing testimony to the high esteem in which they were held among their numerous friends.

The wedding gown was of white duchess satin, trimmed with seed pearls and crystal trimming, and the bride wore a dull gold bracelet, the gift of the groom. Her going away costume was of brown chiffon broadcloth with hat to match.

A PARTING HONOR

On Tuesday evening a number of friends of Miss Gertrude Young waited upon her at her home and presented her with an ebony mounted toilet set and a gold-mounted fountain pen, together with the following address:—

Dear Miss Young,—Having learned of your intention of removing to another town to pursue a course of study which will qualify you for a greater sphere of usefulness, we feel that we cannot allow this occasion to pass without expressing our appreciation of the faithful and efficient service you have rendered to the church of your native town, especially in the League, Sabbath School and Choir.

You will be missed in all these departments of the church, but we trust that your ambition will lead you into a greater sphere of usefulness, and that your chosen profession may be the door of a greater ministry and blessing to humanity.

Our Athens church has already sent out a large number of noble young men and women who are scattered throughout the world, and who have become noted ministers, missionaries, doctors and nurses.

That your name may be inscribed on the list as one of the great ministering number, is our ambition for you, and to this end we pray that you may be divinely guided and blessed.

But before bidding you adieu, we ask you to accept these gifts from the congregation of the Methodist church as a slight expression of appreciation and esteem.

(Signed) F. A. Read, Pastor.

The subject was presented, first from the negative and then from the positive side, and was intensely interesting, closing with the positive assurance that those loved and lost may be met again. The pastor of the church, Rev. F. A. Read, closed the service by emphasizing the great work of Christ in soothing sorrow and comforting those bereaved.

ENLARGED CIRCUIT

The Toledo Baptist church will in future be under the care of the pastor of the Athens and Plum Hollow churches. For some years the Toledo church has had its own pastor, usually a student, but the Home Mission Board, in order to extend operations in New Ontario and elsewhere, has had to withdraw the grant from Toledo. A meeting of delegates from the three churches was recently held at Plum Hollow, when the Rev. W. S. McAlpine of Delta acted as moderator, in place of Dr. Morton, Home Mission Superintendent, and it was unanimously agreed that Athens and Toledo should have the afternoon and evening service on alternate Sundays, Plum Hollow continuing to have service in the morning. The new arrangement takes effect on the first Sunday in October, when the afternoon service will be at Toledo and the evening service at Athens.

Mr. Roe, who has so successfully served the Toledo church as pastor, since the death of Mr. Ingle, returns to college in a few days.
