A new style of obituary is coming into use, which expresses briefly a great deal, as follows: "John Smith of New York, revolver;" "G. Jenkins of Philadelphia, third story window;" "Ann Jones of New Jersey, laudanum."

Canada has now 3,820 post-offices, and the entire postal route is 29,430 miles. The country sent during the year six letters and newspapers to the United Kingdom where it sent one to the United States. The revenue in 1870 was $1,010,767.

The cabman is a great institution in London, and, his extortions notwithstanding, a general favorite. Everybody jokes with him, and his wit is proverbial. One day it was raining very hard, and Cabby set down his fare at the George and Blue Boar, in Holborn. "Are you wet, Cabby?" asked the fare. "Outside, your honor," said Cabby with a leer, squeezing the water from his ample capes; "but inside I'm werry dry."

This is the way the Chicago Post celebrates the march of civilization in that city:

"Desolation continues to reign,
But Cupid keeps up his fire;
There have been 359
Marriages since the fire."

THEY READ BUT DON'T PAY.—"It not unfrequently occurs, when persons are asked if they will subscribe for a local newspaper, or if they already takes it, and I have the reading of it every week.' They are benefitted every week by the toils, perplexities, and expenditures of those who receive nothing from them in return."

Josh Billings says, "It is a statistical fact that the wicked work harder tew reach hell than the righteous do tew get to heaven."

YEOMANRY DRILL.—Drill-Sergeant: "Dress up, Mr. Bumpshus! You must dress up." Mr. Bumpshus (indignant). "Dress up! Confound you! I'm better dressed than you are."

It is said that Queen Victoria is a spiritualist. She has a firm conviction that Prince Albert is always present with her, and that she can hold communion with him. Her private rooms are arranged as they were when he was alive. His chair is placed opposite to her own in the library, and the books which he delighted to read to her are arranged lovingly in order on the table.

Miss Braddon, who has won so much distinction as a novelist, is only thirty-four, and was born in London. Her father was Mr. Henry Braddon, a lawyer of some talent, who wrote numerous articles for the sporting magazines of twenty years ago. Miss Braddon commenced literary work at an early age, by contributing sentimental poetry, political squibs, etc., to the periodicals of the day. She is a lady of indomitable energy.

A curious fact is related of the Maine wood-choppers, who in the winter months, while felling trees amid snow and ice, cannot wear close fitting boots, but very large sizes, that allow their feet to slip to and fro, and causing friction and warmth. But from this they have their feet completely incrusted with corns. In the spring when they raft down their logs, they do not change their clothing or boots for weeks, until their arrival at the saw mills. All the time their feet have been saturated in water, and when the boots are removed the corns fall off like nut shells from the kernel.

A California paper relates how a tollgate keeper and another man were stopped one night recently on the highway by two men. One of the would be robbers walked out in the road, while the others stood at the roadside. The man who advanced held his pistol down by his side and ordered the toll-man to stop. The latter by this time had his pistol up and a bead drawn on the robber, who, seeing the situation, did not raise his weapon. Not a word was spoken, but the toll-man kept his revolver bearing on his man until he and his companion had trotted off some distance. The robbers had no idea of taking any even chances for money, and quietly withdrew from the field.

Among the most interesting sights to be seen at the theatre in Salt Lake City is the young army of Youngs, the Prophet's progeny, who generally occupy the benches along one side of the parquet. Boys and girls, young men and young women, apparently without number, ranging in years from seven to twenty, play and sport with each other like so many kittens. Finer or healthier specimens of humanity you cannot find anywhere. The male portion are strong, healthy and robust; the females very womanly looking, with clear complexions and bright eyes. They have all splendid teeth and beautiful heads of hair. The girls are very roguish, and are not at all averse to levelling their operaglasses upon any handsome and noted Gentile who may be present. They seem to appreciate return glances, and then laugh and giggle over the fun like a lot of school girls. Getting a full view of the family of the Prophet, and dissecting them mentally, morally and physically, the unprejudiced thinker cannot agree with those philosophers who assert that the offspring of polygamic marriages are weak and puny creatures. That such may be the case in some instances may be true, but in no sense can it apply to the Young family.

Nute's Combined Spinner.

PATENTED - - - 1-1870

THIS is one of the most useful Spinning Clo Wheels invented. It is Quill Wheel, all ck Reel, pinning Wheel, and Swifts all combined. By means of a clamp, it can be attached to a table or stand, and be used in either a standing or sitting posture. It is quite an ornamental piece of furniture, but when not in use, if desired, can be folded up and laid away in a Bureau drawer. It spins faster and better than any of the old wheels now in use, and with one half the labor.

MR. S. PETERS: I have one of the Combined Spinners, and like it very well. I can spin ten skeins per day. The yarn is superior to that made with the old wheel.
