The fifty million people of the United States are in mourning for their President. It is a sad comment on the world's favors that though this people could choose him for their ruler, they could not keep safe from the hands of a half-crazy assassin, the life of the man they delighted to honor. Every man is in the hands of in fellow and in these days it is as easy to make a widowed nation as a widowed wife.

In the scale of absolute justice possibly it may be no greater crime to kill Precident Garfield than a private man. Life was perhaps as dear to the boy who drove horses on the tow-path as to the President, but to the country at large, the other country at large, the other country at large, the other country at large, to other country at large, the last of the fall into a large fire from 120 to 106, with rather in fits passed through the price dath of the spinal column in front of the spinal canal, fracturing the right elevant on the would of the first lumbar vertebrae, dividing a number of small fragments of bone into the adjacent or fine prevention at the bands of the latter bands and large and large and ledges and ledges and lawyers will and the peritoneum, where it had The Death of the President.
