And Who Is My Neighbor

He that stumbled 'neath the load And seeks the helping hand, He that has felt the stinging goad Of jaded fortunes wand, He that is struggling in the strife To gain the moment's breath He that is loosing hold on life And glares at waiting death.

He that has seen the bitter dross And known the scarlet shame, He that in conscience feels the loss And sorrows in the blame. He that if strong to stand and brave Would do the same for you.

He is the truest friend you have He is your neighbor, too.

Help him the while he strives to live And make his living joy,

Give him the best that you can of God and riding along in the The gifts that never cloy;

List to his tale and try console, "He did the better part," Let the sun to his seared soul, - Bind up the bleeding heart.

As you are softening the pain, Making the life worth while, Bringing the sunshine after rain

Guiding the weary smile. Succored-the man you help to save Will say a prayer for you. He is the truest friend you have-He is your neighbor, too.

-H. T. Gillen, in The Pilot.

You should never neglect a cold, however slight. If you do not treat it in time it will, in all possibility, develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, o some other serious throat or lung trouble. On the first sign of a cold or cough it is advisable to cure it at once, and not let it run on for an indefinite period.

For this purpose there is nothing to equal Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used by thousands for over twenty-five years.

Mrs. W. G. Paquet, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with la-grippe. I caught cold, and neglected it, and was sick for several months. I took three bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I finished the last one I was entirely cured. I would not have any other cough medicine in the house.

It also cured my baby, who was very sick with bronchitis. She had the doc-tor three times, and he recommended 'Dr. Wood's." I highly recommend it to those who need a quick cure."

YBAST > herevere hard a set and TO MAKE GOOD BREAD You must have Good Yeast

(100D BREAD is, without question, the most important article of food in the catalog of man's diet; sure'y, it is the "staff of life." Good breal is obtainable only by using the Best Yeast, the best flour, and adopting the best method of combining the two. Compressed Yeast is in all respects the best commercial Yeast yet discovered, and Fleischmann's Yeast is indisputably the most successful and best leaven known to the world. It is uniform in quality and strength. It saves time and labor, and relieves the housewife of the vexation and worriment she secessarily suffers from the use of an inferior or unreliable leaven. 'It is, moreover, a fact that with the use of Fleischmann's Yeast, more loaves of bread of the same weight can be produced from a gven quantity of flour than can be produced with the use or any other kind of Yeast. - the explained by the more thorough fermentation and expansion which the minute particles of flour undergo, thereby increasing the size of the mass and at the same time adding to the autoritive properties of the bread. This fact may be clearly and easily demonstrated by any who doubt that there is economy in using Fleischmann's Yeast.

If you have never used this Yeast give it a trial,
