DEATH OF A NOTED ASTROLOGER.—"Zadkiel" is dead. Commander Richard James Morrison, of the Royal Navy, died a few days ago at a very advanced age. Under the well-known signature of Zadkiel Tuo-Sze, he had for nearly half a century brought out yearly an astrological almanac, in which not only he but thousands of other people in England thoroughly believed, and the income of which produced him a competence. He was a Hebrew scholar and mathematician of excellent acquirements, and as far as possible removed from the vulgar charlatan that many considered him. When Admiral Sir Edw. Belcher in a careless hour called him an impostor, Lieut. Morrison promptly sued him for slander, and brought on the stand as witnesses the late Lord Lytton, the Earl of Wilton, and other persons prominent in the social and literary world. The Court found for the plaintiff. It is hard to believe it in this nineteenth century, but there are, not only in England but in New York as well, a great many cultivated and intelligent men who regard Astrology as a science as worthy of respect as Chemistry or Astronomy.

NOVEL STYLE OF SMUGGLING.—A queer system of smuggling has been brought to light by a Bill presented by the Finance Minister to the French Assembly a short time ago. It seems that large dogs, bred and trained for the purpose, are taken across the Belgian and Swiss frontiers and are despatched to French territory, under cover of the night, laden with tobacco and other colonial produce on which a high duty is leviable in France. It is said that the average profit on each journey is six francs, and the Bill referred to proposed to levy a like duty on all dogs exported above a certain size. This would, of course, put an end to the "canine smugglers" being taken into Belgium and Switzerland, and effectually extinguish this curious contraband traffic.

BREAKFAST.—Epps's Cocoa.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled—James Epps & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London."
