Alderman Mitchell—Decidedly I think the whole thing is wrong. It was the duty of the city clerk to bring those plans forward with the other correspondence. I fail to see any reason why he did not do so. In a matter of this description it is of the utmost import-

Winnipeg, March 31.—Customs collections at port of Winnipeg for the lections at port of Winnipeg for the council upon them and to invite any year ending 31st March were five million dollars. An increase of over ten million dollars is shown in the bank clearings for the month of March and the increase for the first three months of the year amount to nearly forty million dollars. The total for the year mount to nearly forty million dollars. The total for the year amount of property was secured by office increase for the week ending March 31 is close to the one million dollar mark.

The albertan was unable to reach either ald. Relly or Smalley last night, but got the other members of the members of the members of the members of the action taken by Gillis in this matter. He had better explain. Alderman Wm. Ross—I won't stand for it for one minute. As for it being carelessness on the part of the city clerk, I say that it is studied carelessness. The commissioners should have been informed at once about the receipt of this map, and the letter from the solicitor of the G.T.P. The city clerk will have to explain this right away and to the satisfaction of the council. It is a very poor way of handling any business of the city.

Dr. Egbert—I am waiting for an ex-

any business of the city.

Dr. Egbert—I am waiting for an explanation from the city clerk. The plans and letter should have undoubtedly been placed on the table at the last city council meeting. There is un-who studies the methods of the city things carried on in the city clerk's office. The council is in a peculiar position with regard to Mr. Gillis and canbenture question is settled. It does agents should have got information in regard to the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway into the city from the clerk before it was laid before the ommissioners or the council. Even if as city clerk were not authentic, that does not excuse him in the slightest for keeping it back from the city commissioners and the council. If the railway company is entrusting the city of Calgary with information in regard to its route and into this city. I for one would like to know by what right or on whose instructions Mr. Gillis locked this information away in his desk. There is certainly room for improvement in the nethods of the city clerk's office.

Ald. Geo. H. Ross, when interviewed, had not the faintest idea that such plans had been received, and said: "I am very much surprised to learn that the city clerk would hand out this information to real estate agents before submitting it to the commissioners or to the council. And I would like to know whether he did it on his own responsibility or received instructions to do so. I certainly consider that the map and accompanying letter should have been laid before the commissioners as soon as received. There has been a council meeting since these were received and we had not the slightest intimation that such plans were in existence. The entrance of a railway into the city is a very important matter, and the commissioners and city council might like to take some immediate action in regard to the route. As I understand it now, the action of the city clerk appears inexcusable, and more especially as coming so closely after the bungle in regard to the debenture issue."

New York, March 31 .- The first move in the impending shake-up in the police department since Mayor Gaynor took over what is virtually a personal control of that branch of the city government came today with the removal of Inspector James McCaf-ferty, from the head of the detective oureau, known as the central office and the selection of Captain John H.

Russell to succeed him. The shake-up follosw Mayor Gaynor's orders that the police shall make no excise arrests, and only obtain evidence, which the mayor hopes will be the death blow to police blackmail.
