

THE ALBERTAN

W. M. DAVIDSON, Pres. and Editor
A. A. MOORE, Business Manager
W. W. CHEELY, Managing Editor

MORNING ALBERTAN
Per Year $2.00
Per Month .25
Per Copy .05

WEEKLY ALBERTAN
Per Year $1.00

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1913.

THE ELECTION LAW.

R. B. Bennett complains of the work of the Alberta election law, and is not without some justification. He is quite fair in holding the Alberta government responsible for it. In 1912 the government introduced a new election bill, which met with the disapproval of the opposition. After much discussion the legislature expressed preference for the present system of holding elections. The government thereupon withdrew the election legislation and allowed the present act to stand.

The present election act was handed down from the old Northwest Territories days, and served its purpose at that time very satisfactorily. But the province has outgrown it, particularly in theory the present election act is ideal. It includes two very excellent principles. It provides that instead of the electors being forced to register in order to be entitled to vote, the province provides enumerators who go to the people to register them. That should be a satisfactory arrangement, but it is not. This province has found a great difficulty in securing complete enumerations. The opposition complains that the enumerators were unfair. That is not just correct. But many of them were incompetent. And though they were not unfair, and did not place the opposition at a disadvantage, the opportunity was given them to do so, if they so desired.

The second principle in the election act provides that any elector may be challenged by any other elector, and demand a ballot, whether he has been enumerated or not. If there is doubt about his right to vote, he may be asked to prove his franchise, and his ballot is not counted until he proves his right. That is a very excellent provision.

It seems probable that there will be a new election act provided for registration before another election, but whatever change is made the principle that any man who has the right to vote and is prepared to prove it, should be incorporated in the new act. But Mr. Bennett is wrong when he accuses the government for retaining the present election act. The government is responsible, but a new election act was withheld at the request of the opposition.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

The Liberal party in Great Britain, if it has the opportunity, will create a popular second chamber, elected by a system of proportional representation. An examination of the recent election in Alberta will show what proportional representation means. Through the very large majorities of Conservative candidates in Calgary, the popular vote in Alberta was nearly even. When the full vote is reported it will be seen that the government did not poll more than 55 per cent of the votes cast. But the government, according to the latest reports, will have 75 per cent of the representation.

There is injustice in such a system. Proportional representation seeks to remove that injustice. It undertakes to provide an equality in voting power of each individual. It seeks to give the minority, or sometimes it is the majority, the full strength of its voting power.

But proportional representation will do more. One of the evils of the present system is to make the strength of the administration out of all proportion to its real strength with the people, while the power of the private members is very much decreased. The reason for this is the large majorities which the government usually has in the house. Proportional representation would have the effect of changing this condition of affairs, cutting down the strength of the government in power and giving more power to the representatives of the people.

Proportional representation would do much of the better, obnoxious parties element. The will of the people would be brought to bear more directly upon the administration. It would be popular government in the real sense of the term. It would still be rule by the majority, but one in which the interest of the minority would not be overlooked.

The experiment which the Imperial Parliament is about to make will be watched with very great interest.

Editorial Notes

The fact that there was some discussion in the timber, in the Oliver region, is no excuse for the country being of $500,000 in a Prince Albert newspaper under the Rogers regime.

The elevator, which you will notice, all the government by good man, Justice, Glenchee was redeemed. Bow River went Liberal by a large majority every Taber was overwhelmingly Liberal. Chisholm and Nanton went Liberal by much larger majorities than any person even expected. High River went Conservative by a small majority, but without the elevator legislation it would have gone Conservative by a very much greater majority.

Your ancient and vigorous gladiator, James Weir, stumbled in four hard contests, Acadia, Hand, Crockett and Stettler. Look up the returns. Count them! P-O-U-R. One of the features of this affair was at Hand Hills, when Mr. Weir routed Hamilton Robertson at the point of the bayonet.

Albania and Its King

Janina, April 20.—Albania, which has now set up a government of its own, was at the beginning of the Balkan war, a village of the Balkans in Europe. Not long after the war started, however, finding itself harassed on one side by the Bulgarians, on another by the Greeks and on another by the Serbians, it appealed to the great powers for protection and proclaimed a provisional government.

Scarcely they became president of the new government, provisionally until the Albanians should have complied with the decrees of the ambassadors of the great powers resulting from the peace conference in London, which decrees said that Albania should not be partitioned among the Balkan States, but that it should be ruled over by a prince of some royal house of Europe and supervised by the powers.

The Duke de Montpensier was approached several weeks ago on the subject of becoming Albanian ruler, as told in the cables, but as the prince is wealthy and already socially prominent, being related to the royal families of Bulgaria, Spain and Italy, he was not especially attracted by the idea of becoming king.

The Duke de Montpensier, the new Albanian ruler, is 29 years old, only brother and heir of the Duke d'Orleans, chief of the royal family of France. In spite of the fact that his exile prevents him from serving in the French navy, the people of France are attached to him because of his exploration services in the hinterland of Tonkin and French Cochinchina and for the bravery he showed in the Moroccan campaign when he served under the banner of Spain.

His most popular title of Duke de Montpensier comes from his mother, who was a Spanish Infanta, the daughter of the Duke de Montpensier. His father, from whom he inherits his ample fortune, was the Comte de Paris. His sister married the Duke of Aosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

POOR GIRLS NOT WORST—Quayle.

Methodist Bishop Says Immorality is Deeper Than Economic Causes.

Pittsburgh, Kas., April 20.—Low wages to women have no connection with immorality, in the opinion of Bishop William A. Quayle, Bishop Quaker, here on visit, discussed the Illinois Senate Vice Commission investigation.

"It is scratching at the surface," Bishop Quayle said, "the bishop declared, 'It is tickling the skin when there is a blood trouble.'"

Bishop Quayle said that, while a pastor in Chicago, he had conducted an investigation of this sort. Girls who were most often led astray are not those who earn lowest wages, he asserted. "It is the girls who live at home and use their wages to buy gay-gays that are most often found leading immoral lives," Bishop Quayle said. "Immorality in women goes deeper than economic causes."

Shot In a Cuban Feud

Political Vendetta Claims Another Victim in Cienfuegos.

Havana, April 20.—Jose Fernandez, a Cuban politician, was shot and killed yesterday in the principal city of Cienfuegos.

The shooting marks the first stage here of the vendetta provoked by the assassination of Senator Celestino A. Mendez, who recently was elected Conservative Senator of Cienfuegos. Mendez was waylaid in the streets of Cienfuegos and killed with bullets.

The assassin of Fernandez is a special policeman, Bustamante Ordonez, who is attached to the office of the late mayor, who was arrested, but refused to make a statement as to his reasons for shooting Fernandez.

Senor Ferrera, speaker of the house of representatives, was presiding over a Liberal caucus when word was received of the assassination of Fernandez. He immediately ordered an adjournment, declaring there now was no guarantee for the lives of Liberals and that their only recourse was to retire from politics or begin a revolution.

The assassin of Mayor Mendez, a politician named Campos, was arrested Sunday night. He declared he killed the mayor because he had refused to authorize the payment of his black salary. "This, however, is regarded as a mere subterfuge," Campos, it is charged by the authorities, was hired to commit the murder by partisans of Jose Fernandez, who was defeated in the race for the mayoralty of Cienfuegos.

CENTENARIES OF GAS.

(From The Christian Herald).

In 1792 a manufacturer of Redburn in Cornwall, named Murdoch, made gas to light his house and factory. (Pat. Mail) in London, 1807, was the first street to be lighted by gas; Philadelphia followed it in 1815; Boston in 1822, and New York in 1825.

Gas is obtained from coal, which is heated in large retorts; the heavy gas drawn off passes by a pipe, called the hydraulic main, through a number of curved pipes, called condensers, in which process coal and ammonia and acal liquid condense and fall into a well. The gas passes to purifiers over which hydrogen and carbolic acid; it is then headed downward to the gas holder, a large tank having its base resting on water, and down which the gas is distributed to the consumers.

Certain by-products are obtained in course of manufacture which are more valuable than the gas itself. These include coke, ammonia, anthracene, phenol or carbolic acid, naphthalene, dye, volatile artificial drugs and basic perfumes.

MURDER AND EAT WOMAN. Tokyo, April 20.—Detectives have reached a most singular murder of a young woman near Kobe.

Police officers attacked the woman and they had discovered her in an abandoned hut, they murdered her and then cooked and portion of her body.

A pack-horse man, invited to join the feast, discovered the woman's mutilated body and notified the police, but the murderers escaped.

Watch Repairing of All Kinds—American, English and Swiss. Moderate charges, work legally guaranteed. Dickens, working watchmaker, 231 Eighth avenue east, just below the Queen's Hotel. Phone 2149. Open every day. Failure of marriage is

TWO RAILROADS AT THE GATES OF CALGARY; LARGE RAILROAD EXPENDITURE PROVIDED FOR

General Manager MacLeod Telegraphs from Winnipeg, Announcing the Completion of the Munson-Hanna Division of the Calgary-Saskatoon Line of the Canadian Northern, Which Means the Practical Completion of Another Road Into Calgary; Announced Expenditure of Three Railroads $135,000,000.

The Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific are at the doors of Calgary, and the advent of these two railroads will give the city of the West three transcontinental railroads, two uncompleted, of course, but on which work of construction is to be rushed until steel reaches the western seaboard.

Steel of the Grand Trunk is just outside the city. On the occasion of the visit to the city last week of the vice-president of the road the announcement was made that a temporary depot was to be built on the mounted police barracks site, and all that blocks the entry of the road into the city is some bridge work, which is to be pushed to completion as quickly as is possible.

M. H. MacLeod, general manager of the Canadian Northern, wired Industrial Commissioner Miller Saturday to the effect that the gap on the Munson-Hanna division of the Calgary-Saskatoon road had been completed as far as track laying is concerned. All that remains to be done is ballasting, and irregular trains are now passing over the road. Steel of this line is now within ten miles of Calgary on the east.

It Will Be the Banner Year

This promises to be the banner year in railroad construction in Western Canada. First comes the announcement some days ago that the Canadian Pacific has appropriated $60,000,000 for the double tracking of the Canadian Pacific line in the West, including the line from Calgary to Vancouver. The scheme contemplates the driving of an immense bore through the Canadian Rockies in the neighborhood of Rogers Pass. This bore is estimated to cost all the way from $10,000,000 to $16,000,000, and will dwarf all other railroad projects of the kind in the world. It will be driven through solid rock for the most part of sixteen miles, and will necessitate the employment of a small army of miners. Several years will be required to complete this work.

In addition to the employment of ordinary methods, such as Ingersoll air drills, it is not improbable that a new and powerful tunneling machine, the dream of miners for many years, will be tried out. The tunnel will be worked from both ends, and also from a couple of shafts that will be driven somewhere near its centre, where the topography of the country will permit of the work being done most advantageously.

On top of all this good news comes the Western Associated Press dispatch from Winnipeg, announcing that the Canadian Northern will expend $40,000,000 on the equipment of its new lines, the greater percentage of mileage of which is in the west.

Forty millions for Rolling Stock. It declares that 200 stock cars, 1,000 flats, 300 cabooses and 1,000 ballast cars will be required by the company, but this number is not definitely fixed and will be subject to changes. Steam shovels to the number of a dozen, working cranes for every second division, cooling trains for the larger stations, pile drivers, ditchers and other implements necessary to run a railway are being planned and will be included in the big order soon to be placed.

HOW GOSSIP RUINS AN NAME

A Minister Gives an Illustration With a Flower

Kansas City, April 20.—The results of gossip were given a dramatic touch last night by Dr. Samuel Gray, who is conducting revival meetings at the First Baptist Church, Linwood Boulevard and Park Avenue. Doctor Gray took a cation from a vase in front of the pulpit. He glanced the petals one by one, and threw them on the floor. He then broke the stem of the flower and exclaimed: "This is what gossip does to a person's reputation."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The passenger equipment allows for the operation of only one daily passenger service across the continent. The intention of the company is to put on special fast train kind of half local between busy cities, as between Quebec and Toronto, between Winnipeg and Edmonton, between Winnipeg and Calgary, etc. This would mean that in a very short time extensive equipment will have to be made in passenger service.

Grand Trunk Expenditures.

The Associated Press also announced on Saturday that the Grand Trunk will expend $25,000,000 on rolling stock, an equipment for its western lines. The dispatch is as follows:

WINNIPEG, April 19.—Thirty-five million dollars will be expended by the Grand Trunk Pacific railway in new equipment to man its nearly completed Trans-continent railway from Montreal to Prince Rupert.

With its extensive programme of 1,300 miles of main line, stretching from end to end of this continent and with the still more extensive programme of branch lines, the Grand Trunk Pacific will be requiring enormous amounts of new rolling stock, which the company has barely sufficient rolling stock to man the divisions now being operated, viz: 2,025 miles of track, and even if the opening of the Trans-continent were not less than two years away the company would still have to make large additions to the service.

A summary of the new equipment that will be needed to operate the main line and branch lines to be operated by the time the Trans-continent is given as follows:

Locomotives, 40; engines, freight, 25; sleeping cars, 35; first class coaches, 35; second class coaches, 25; tourist coaches, 100; dining cars, 40; observation cars, 45; mail coaches, 30; baggage coaches, 30; express coaches, 20; box cars, 30,000.

The officials of the company have not yet got down to anything like final figures on general freight car increases likely to be required. It is practically settled that 30,000 new box cars will be required to take care of the business. A rough estimate in

BULGAR KING LOVES POMP

Even in His Youth Ferdinand Longed for a Throne

Sofia, April 19.—There is no denying the fact that King Ferdinand is the greatest personality on any throne today. His astuteness and versatility are enormous. He is so well informed that one almost forgets one is listening to a monarch. He talks well, he is a brilliant orator, a distinguished historian, an astute statesman and, at bottom, a simple, kind-hearted gentleman. He has done more for his adopted country than the Bulgarians admit. He found them a nation of barefooted, ignorant peasants, has given them education and as much culture as was possible in 25 years. He has taught them how to exploit the natural riches of their country, and has spent much of his own large private fortune to help them on the road to civilization. Why is he unpopular? Why was he given the choice between war and exile in that perilous way? Why was he justly so alarmed for his own safety at the beginning of the armistice that he crept quietly back to his capital at frequent intervals, or told he is like King Edward? These are questions he is credited with solving himself very often.

M. H. MacLeod, general manager of the Canadian Northern, wired Industrial Commissioner Miller Saturday to the effect that the gap on the Munson-Hanna division of the Calgary-Saskatoon road had been completed as far as track laying is concerned. All that remains to be done is ballasting, and irregular trains are now passing over the road. Steel of this line is now within ten miles of Calgary on the east.

It Will Be the Banner Year

This promises to be the banner year in railroad construction in Western Canada. First comes the announcement some days ago that the Canadian Pacific has appropriated $60,000,000 for the double tracking of the Canadian Pacific line in the West, including the line from Calgary to Vancouver. The scheme contemplates the driving of an immense bore through the Canadian Rockies in the neighborhood of Rogers Pass. This bore is estimated to cost all the way from $10,000,000 to $16,000,000, and will dwarf all other railroad projects of the kind in the world. It will be driven through solid rock for the most part of sixteen miles, and will necessitate the employment of a small army of miners. Several years will be required to complete this work.

In addition to the employment of ordinary methods, such as Ingersoll air drills, it is not improbable that a new and powerful tunneling machine, the dream of miners for many years, will be tried out. The tunnel will be worked from both ends, and also from a couple of shafts that will be driven somewhere near its centre, where the topography of the country will permit of the work being done most advantageously.

On top of all this good news comes the Western Associated Press dispatch from Winnipeg, announcing that the Canadian Northern will expend $40,000,000 on the equipment of its new lines, the greater percentage of mileage of which is in the west.

Forty millions for Rolling Stock. It declares that 200 stock cars, 1,000 flats, 300 cabooses and 1,000 ballast cars will be required by the company, but this number is not definitely fixed and will be subject to changes. Steam shovels to the number of a dozen, working cranes for every second division, cooling trains for the larger stations, pile drivers, ditchers and other implements necessary to run a railway are being planned and will be included in the big order soon to be placed.

HOW GOSSIP RUINS AN NAME

A Minister Gives an Illustration With a Flower

Kansas City, April 20.—The results of gossip were given a dramatic touch last night by Dr. Samuel Gray, who is conducting revival meetings at the First Baptist Church, Linwood Boulevard and Park Avenue. Doctor Gray took a cation from a vase in front of the pulpit. He glanced the petals one by one, and threw them on the floor. He then broke the stem of the flower and exclaimed: "This is what gossip does to a person's reputation."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

The evangelist then outlined other excuses given by those who refused to become Christians. "They are women and hypocrites in the church," said Doctor Gray, "but they are found everywhere. It is not what they say, but what God thinks about them. Gossip is a curse, as you would a great man or a college—not by failures, but by the successes attained."

Moderate Priced Suits and Coats

The lady unacquainted with Hudson's Bay methods and particularly to ladies unfamiliar with this particular instance of exceptional goodness and value, these stylish new suits and coats announced for Saturday selling will be a revelation. But it was a hard argument to get the makers to think our way. Now we can announce the greatest Suit and Coat values to be found anywhere. Here are a few of them:

AT $10.00—Exceptional value in Women's and Misses' Panama Coats; full length; semi-fitted coat; round front; large fancy braided collar; sleeves finished with deep cuffs. Beautifully finished throughout.

AT $12.00—Women's and Misses' Stylish new Panama Coats; full length; black made in new shirred style, finished with wide belt and four buttons; front has broad revers and large round collar; sleeves are made with deep cuffs, trimmed with buttons. Shade of grey and tan. Sizes 14 to 44.

AT $15.00—Among this lot are the very best values we have ever seen. Dressy Panama Coats in a variety of styles, some cut full length loose-fitting, with large Raglan sleeve; fancy cut deep cuffs trimmed with buttons. Others with new side fastenings finished with ornaments and buttons of self materials; large fancy collar piped with silk and inlaid collar of heavy lace. Very smart.

Verandah and Window Awnings Best Bought at 'The Bay'

That's news that home owners will only partly appreciate when we say that we have the materials here at considerably less than they can be secured elsewhere. And that means that the qualities are up to the usual high standard maintained by this store. Furthermore, it means that our own men will take the correct measurements free of charge, and if you so desire, will make them as they should be made at a very nominal charge.

We have as many as eight different designs in the best qualities to select from in colorings of green, blue, tan and brown stripe effects; 36 inches wide. Per yard . . . 25c and 30c

Two Exceptional Values in Whitewear

Those ladies who have become accustomed to shop in this popular whitewear store know that Hudson's Bay prices are the best they can get, and that no matter how low price may fall quality remains uppermost.

Monday will be no exception to the rule. Read these:

LADIES' COMBINATION DRAWERS AND CORSET COVERS—32x36. In several pretty designs, all nicely finished with beading and ribbon; all sizes, 34 to 42. Regular $2.50 to $3.50. Monday . . . $1.95

LADIES' PRINCESS SLIPS—Of fine Lincolnville, very prettily trimmed; embroidered yoke; lace edging; flounce of Torchon insertion; different designs. Sizes 34 to 42. Monday Extra Special . . . $1.95

Linoleums!

News of a Welcome Sale

Here's news that hundreds of Calgarians will be waiting for and welcome with a hearty response Monday and Tuesday. It is the first Linoleum Sale this store has announced, this season, which makes it doubly welcome. To make a long story short, our immense stock of Linoleums, were a month or more late in arriving, with the result that a great quantity must be cleared out at big reductions through no fault of ours. Housekeepers and others will profit greatly. The patterns surpass anything yet produced; for halls, bedrooms, kitchens and so on. Qualities are up to our usual high standard. Heavy block, printed in a wide range of colors. Per square yard . . . 40c

Extra heavy quality. Per square yard . . . 50c

FLOOR CLOTH—In artistic bedroom designs . . . 25c

BUSINESS MEN—We would be glad to submit samples and prices of our new Plain Green Linoleum, the best we can recommend for offices, hotels, or business blocks. This particular Linoleum has a surface as smooth as glass, impervious to dirt, easy to clean, and with all kinds of hard wear. Specially priced Monday and Tuesday, per square yard . . . $1.10

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

Farms For Sale South of Calgary

A choice farm of 320 acres; 160 in crop, 60 acres ready to summer fallow; good house and stable; phone in house. Household furniture. Chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys, and half acre potatoes included. $3,000 should be made on this farm this year; nothing to do but harvest crop. $2000 cash will handle this or will take Calgary income property in exchange.

HUGH SMITH

Suite 9, Armstrong Block

"It Costs No More"

TO TRAVEL VIA

Edmonton and Grand Trunk Pacific

TO

SASKATOON, WINNIPEG AND EASTERN CANADA

Electric lighted sleepers with reading lamps in upper and lower berths; electric lighted diners; smooth roadbed; polite employees.

Tickets, rates and full particulars from

NIBLOCK & TULL, LTD.

CITY PASSENGER AGENTS