McALLISTER GOOD

Parkdale Looks Far From. Dangerous Minus Watson, Jeffrey and Kane.

Parkdale canoe club provided easy opposition for the London seniors in their last exhibition game of the season at the arena on Saturday night. The score was 7 ot 1, and then the scoring was confined to the first two periods, and the last trailed out into a sort of disconnected dogfight. McAllister, the former Sarnia goal-Modllister, the former masquerading in the keeping phenom, masquerading in the day some talk to the effect that "Ked" numbered sweater of Collett, gave a fine Fullin, the Woodstock boy, who played numbered sweater of Collett, gave a fine exhibition of goal guarding-so fine that he didn't have to wear false whiskers he didn't have to wear false whiskers nor a disguise of any kind to look like Collett, or for that matter, any of the best in the business. He got them from all points of the compass and on all corners of his armor, and he had them flung at him steadily during the whole sixty minutes. He accounted for the fact that a larger score was not registered, and what he didn't account for, breaks and some inaccurate shooting did.

Without Harry Watson, Jeffrey or Kane, the Parkdale canoe club looked far from dangerous. "King" Cole, the former flyweight center of the Stratford team, looked as good as any of the Paddlers' string. Morris looked good in spots, but the Paddlers neither had the opeed or condition to combat the whirlwind attack the Londoners unloosed all night. Steve Rice, former Falls center man, had his poke check but little else, and the checking was close enough to give him much chance to use that.

rive him much chance to use that.

Had Early Lead.

The Londoners had the score 4 to 1 to end the first period after the Parkdeles had opened with their lone counter at four minutes, apparently under the impression that Watson and a few of the Paddlers' stars were in reserve somewhere. They didn't need the lead but got it just the same and three more on top of that. The Paddlers, however, were sturdy enough opposition in spots to make the Londoners show that heat effort yet. They had no more however, were sturdy enough opposition in spots to make the Londoners show their best effort yet. They had no more speed to show than formerly, but there was better team work and fairly blinding combinations going right in on top of McAlister throughout the battle.

PRO SOCCER LOOP IN EASTERN CANADA LIKELY

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Dec. 12.—The possibility of the formation of an eastern Canada professional soccer league to be composed perhaps of two Montreal and two Toronto teams occupied the attention of officers of the Toronto Scottish club at their annual meeting last evening. and debate was lengthy enough to cause postponement of the election of officers postponement of the election of officers for the ensuing year. It was decided that if a pro league is formed, the club would be a member.

The feeling was expressed that Scottish and Ulster clubs of Toronto should link up with Carsteel and another Montreal club, making a big four professional league.

FRANK NIGHBOR

VETERANS STAR IN SATURDAY PRO TILTS. Frank Nighbor and Howie Morenz were the outstanding stars in the N.H.L. program Saturday, although both played on beaten teams. Morenz was the standby when the Canadiens went down before St. Pats, 4 to 0, in Toronto, and he was matching wits at center against Mike Neville, the former London amateur, who played a big role in the Toronto victory. Nighbor was his old self at center for the Senators, but the Capital City crew was forced to take a 5 to 2 trimming from the climbing Montreal Marcons.

Red Grange, Sad, Sleepy Ghost; He'd Trade $5,000 For Sn. ze

Special to The Advertiser.

Detroit, Dec. 13.—Mr. Red Grange, the "galloping ghost." the "sorrel phantom," and what not, sat disconsolately at the sidelines of the Chicago Bears-Detroit Panthers game Saturday, his left arm in splints, hurt him. He was hollow-eyed, his cheeks were sunken, and there were circles under his eyes. In his face were indelible traces of weariness and fatigue. Plainly football was the last thing he was thinking about—or the fabulous salary he obtains.

"A good night's sleep looks better to me than $5,000." said Grange, "or even $10,000."

His head nodded wearily, and he meant every word of it. Seven games in nine days, then that injury in Pittsburg had left 2 limp and bedraggled young man out of America's most-talked-of athlete—a young man who seemed to be disgusted with the universal plaudits be was obtaining, bored with the sight of the crowds, and sick of the milling and pushing here of worshippers who flock about him whenever he shows himself—a young man whose rowning ambition was entree to a

The Y forwards turned in a great game. The combination work of Westrope, Searles and Dawdy as center man will be the deciding factor of future series games.

Searles had difficulty in finding the basket in the first part of the game, missing a big majority of his dog shots, so the scoring fell largely on Dawdy and Westrope. Saunders at defence is a great asset. His work down the outside of the floor from defence carried the ball from the danger zone on more than one occasion.
