Thursday, July 25, 1889. The market to-day was fairly well attended, the principal bulk of the offerings being "truck" and dairy produce.

The grain deliveries were small, as farmers are too busy in the harvest fields to 9,000, including 3,000 Texans. Prospect come to the city. If a wet day or so came firm. there will be a turn out of oats, as there are considerable in this district, and farm-

The meat market was small, and very $4.50 to $5.50.

Veal was scarce, at our quotations. Lambs were in keen demand, at from $3 o $4 a-piece. The poultry supply was adequate, and prices were firm at our tabular rates.

Butter remained steady, at 18 cents a bound for fresh roll, 16c. for crocks and 4c. to 15c. for tub. Eggs were scarce, at 13 and 14 cents a dozen. The vegetable market was fully stocked, and there was no change in prices. A fine lot of native cabbages came forward, which sold for 75 cents to $1 per dozen.

Home-grown new potatoes were plentiful at $1 a bushel. ST STEERS The fruit supply was large, and there was a keen demand for cherries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries, at our quota-

A few early apples came in and sold at $1 a bushel.

Honey, 13 cents to 15 cents a pound. Young pigs, $5 to $6 a pair. Hay dull at $8 a ton.

THE STATE OF TRADE. Bradstreet's" Weekly Review of the Situation.

New York, July 26.—(Special.)—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's fully confirm its report of only "an average demand and moderate distribution" in general trade made last week, and show a continuance of those conditions. The exception, if any, is in the iron and steel industries at leading points of production. Crops at the South are promising, and for some days the like has been true in the North-west, where a wheat crop is now expected equal to that of 1888. Aside from the movement in iron and steel there is no unusual or notable general distribution of staple products. Breadstuff prices have been higher, and the demand for speculation and export generally more active. Russian and German wheat crop reports are no more favor- AND FAMILY APERIENT able; but those from Dakota and Minnesota now promise about as much wheat as last | THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY OF PURELY year. The decrease of invisible wheat, both coasts, July 1, against the like date in 1888, is calculated at 5,000,000 bushels, about 25 per cent., and of visible wheat 12,000,000 bushels, or 38 per cent. Stocks, at about 20 points of accumulation, promise to touch the minimum to-day, probably about 12,000,000 bushels. Grain corn. Wheat closes \( \frac{1}{8} \c \) to 1\( \frac{1}{8} \c \) and corn \( \frac{1}{2} \c \) higher on the week. Exports of wheat and flour as wheat, both coasts, this week, equal 1,385,330 bushels, against 1,460,202 bushels last week, and 2,273,271 bushels in the fourth week of July, 1888. English and French crop reports will to a large extent determine the course of near-by exports. The United States probably carry over into the new crop year the smallest wheat stocks room is being engaged freely, largely for within the decade. With free arrivals of raw sugar and freer offerings, partly to arrive, prices have given way 1c. when sellers withdrew from the market. The demand for refined continues checked, and refiners are still storing their product to await an expected more active request. Sales of coffee in speculative markets pased on weaker cables and more promising crop reports depressed prices about 2 5c per pound. Favorable conditions in the iron and steel industries continue, and a very large amount of crude and finished iron and steel is being bought and used in all directions.

Dry goods and commission men at New York report a steady but moderate demand for cotton and woollen goods. Some disappointment is expressed at the slowness of fall trade. Jobbers are preparing for fall openings, and report a quiet, steady demand. Prices are uniformly firm, with an advance of 1-16 in print cloths, and more strength in low grades of worsted. Foreign silks and woollens are in better demand. Dry goods exports are light. Raw wool is steady on moderate inquiry from manufacturers.

Higher prices of finished goods check MONGENAIS, BOIVIN & CO. sales, and induce light orders by the mills. Raw cotton is in good demand at New York, with 1-16c advance. Speculation is more active. Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 221 in the United States this week, against 170 last week, and 217 this week last year. Canada had 29 this week, against 16 last week. The total of failures in the United States January 1 to date is 6,646, against 5,911 in 1888.
