But it is probable that the advent of D'Alton McCarthy in the field will stir somebody or other up, and it may be expected that something will drop that will be heard as far east as Cornwall and as far west as the Detroit River. Mr. McCarthy, it is under-stood, is to take the stump at once, about Wednesday. He will probably deliver his first address in North York, where the candidates are Mr. Davis (Lib.) and Mr. C. C. Robinson (Con.) Many other meetings are being arranged for Mr. McCarthy, and he is expected to deliver three speeches in Toronto immediately preceding polling day.

Rev. Dr. Laing of Dundas. [From The Hamilton Spectator.]
Rev. Dr. Laing of Dundas is known all Presbyterian divine of the old stock who took the Bible in the one hand and The Toronto Globe (in the days of George Brown) in the other and gauged every public question on adjacent lines. When in recent years The Toronto Globe passed into other hands the reverend gentleman got disgusted with it and now he has soured on Mr. Mowat and his administration.

To a Spectator reporter he said yesterday

"Mr. Mowat's inconsistency is preposterously Ins administration.

To a Spectator reporter he said yesterday:
"Mr. Mowat's inconsistency is preposterously ridiculous on this school question. I said in 1886 that a Protestant tenant may agree with the owner that his taxes shall go to separate schools, although a Roman Catholic may not agree that his taxes shall go to public schools. Mr. Mowat said this was not so and that it was all right, but since that he has had to back down and alter the clause so as to cover the point I raised. It has been the same in all the other points that I raised at that time and which he then declared lunnecessary, but he has since been forced to remedy the defects. Then take the so-called Ross Bible question. At last election Mowat claimed it had not a fault, but since that he has quietly withdrawn the selections and a new book has been substituted from which every objectionable feature has been eliminated. There is the biggest backing down I ever saw."

"Do you think the Meredith platform

"Do you think the Meredith platform "I think the Meredith platform is satisfactory as far as it goes. Of course there is the clause about the abolition of the separate schools, but I do not think that is an important matter in this contest. We cannot expect to accomplish that for some time, though I am satisfied it is coming. It cannot be done in a day."

"What other." though I am satisfied to be done in a day."

"What other features in Mowat's administration do you object to ?"

"I think the taking of Mr. Fraser into his

"I think the taking of Mr. Fraser into his cabinet as a representative of the Roman Catholic minority is wrong, and I hold that they should not be represented as such. I object also to the statement made by Mr. Mowat, Mr. Ross and by The Toronto Globe, that the archbishop, as the head of the church, ought to be recognised in our educational institutions. I object to Archbishop Duhamel's statement that in our public schools where teachers and trustees are Roman Catholics they ought not to make appointments or dismiss a teacher without are Roman Catholics they ought not to make appointments or dismiss a teacher without the priest's consent. In separate school matters I think it wrong that a priest, who is not a ratepayer, should by law have the power of sitting as trustee, or that the members of religious orders should be deemed competent teachers without examination. The separate school law gives both these reverse. I believe in equal rights in record The separate school law gives both these powers. I believe in equal rights in regard to the ballot in school elections. Protestants have the right to choose between open voting and voting by ballot. Roman Catholics should have the same right. I don't think either should be forced to use the ballot, but I do believe that at the present time the blowat Government at the dictation of the wright are forwing them to open voting. plicwat Government at the dictation of the priests are forcing them to open voting.

"I think there will be a considerable splitting up of parties in this election," continued the doctor, significantly.

"Do you think the Equal Righters will support the Meredith platform?"

"Some may not vote either way, but where they have confidence that the nominee will carry out his promises they will likely do so. A great deal depends on the man. For my
