The Way We Do Things.

We walk into our meals. We run into debt. We rush into print. We step into practice. We fly into passion. We jump into fight. We dive into a book. We wade into an adversary. We sink into slumber. We leap into notoriety. We stumble into acquaintance. We glide into intimacy. We precipitate ourselves into wedlock.

At Least Thirty-Eight Burned to Death When Nursery is Gutted Out by Smoke and Fire. MONTREAL, Feb. 12. Lives of at least thirty-eight were blotted out tonight, when the fire gutted the Grey Nursery in Cote St. Jacques, and it is feared loss of life may run well into thirty-eight when they were found by the fire when the fire was kind. It is known that while the fire raged in the nursery, the firemen were engaged in trying to force the fire out of the flames and smoke, rescuers from the building party loss is not expected. The blaze was practically extinguished. The fire started, supposedly from the top of the building. The top floor was used for the infants by the nuns and the low west wing was occupied by sick or wounded soldiers. OLD AND YOUNG IN THE AGES OF THE INFANTS. The ages of the inmates ranged from two to almost a hundred years. The babies, whose lives were in the fire and smoke, were in the nursery, and were housed in the west wing of the building. The fire started, supposedly from the top of the building. The top floor was used for the infants by the nuns and the low west wing was occupied by sick or wounded soldiers. FOUND CHARRED BODIES. The loss of life amongst the infants' home in the nursery could not be ascertained tonight, but 10:30, when the building smouldering, found the charred bodies of twenty children. It is many more perished, and life may total well up to fifty. All the other inmates, building are believed to have been returned wounded or dead, aged sick or crippled women, to the number of thousands. They scattered directions, so that it may be before there can be a number of the soldiers were to hospitals, practically all of the soldiers suffered injury from the fire or the consequent break all of them had been to places of safety and there were about 200 of them were taken to the Royal Drummond street, the Royal Western and Montreal General hospitals.
