

afterwards, ten days before the action. In April the sidewalk was repaired by defendants. On the whole, the Chancellor is unwilling to turn the plaintiff round on this point, taken at the very close of the contest, when the jury have affirmed her claim to be meritorious. Judgment with costs for plaintiff for $500.

ARMOUR v. MERCHANTS BANK.

Opening up judgment New evidence --Rule 782. Before Boyd, C. Judgment. Preliminary objection raised as to jurisdiction on motion by plaintiff to open up judgment of Boyd, C., pronounced in April, 1895, on the ground of newly-discovered evidence. The learned Chancellor holds that the application is properly made in court to the judge who pronounced the judgment, and is a proceeding in the cause; Waterhouse v. Lee, 10 Gr. 183. This case is provided for by rule 782, and the same as a bill of review under the old practice. See Dumble v. Cobourg, 29 Gr. 121. Petition to be brought on at first weekly court held by Chancellor. F. W. Anglin for plaintiff. Shepley, Q.C., for defendants.

THE COMING ELECTION OF BENCHERS.

A number of lawyers think that the big firms in the city monopolize the local representation on the Benchers of the Law Society. A meeting was held in Richmond Hall on Saturday evening and a committee appointed to look into the matter and report to a meeting to be held on Monday evening, the 17th, in Convocation Hall. They propose to make an effort to have only one bencher from a firm. It is also proposed to reduce the term of office from five to two years and to do away with the bencher's free lunches during a certain period of the year. --Toronto Globe, 10th February.
