THE ONTARIO MEDICAL ACT OF 1869.

Just as we are going to press, we have received a copy of amendments to the Medical Act of 1869, which have been introduced into the Ontario Legislature by the Hon. Mr. McMurrich. We consider many of them highly objectionable. The Homeopathic and Eclectic members of the Medical Council, not satisfied with the position and privileges granted them under the old Act, are endeavouring to gain more. We can hardly say we are surprised at this movement, although we do hope it will open the eyes of these members of the profession who have supported this most singular piece of Medical Legislation.

UNPROFESSIONAL ADVERTISING.

Here is another specimen of the method of attracting notoriety by some medical men in the Province of Ontario. We have not heard whether any of the Doctors have adopted the very excellent method of advertising by placing a man inside of a three cornered box, with three large sides for placards, so constructed as to give room for slow and deliberate motion, the individual's head appearing at the top. If this has not already been adopted, we would advise a trial. It has succeeded in other lines of advertising admirably, especially the negro minstrel business.
