Popular Canadian Writers

The Blood Lilies

By W. A. FRASER.

Author of "Moons and Others of the Boundaries," "Thoroughbreds," etc.

The greatest thing in the world is love; and the grandest love is mother-love. It is the link that is broken last when a man cuts himself off from humanity and God.

Read in "Blood Lilies" of the Cree Indian woman's love for her son, Wankiss, of the dreadful disaster, and learn how this love makes beautiful the homeliest face.

A story that is dramatic and pathetic to a remarkable degree, and that paints a vivid picture of the life of the Western country. With illustrations by Frank K. Schoonover.

Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.
Burnt Leather, boxed, $2.00.

The Silver Poppy

By ARTHUR STRINGER.

Author of "Hesperus" and other poems.

"The surprise of the season." (Chicago Record-Herald).

"An exceptional work of fiction, a story to be dwelt upon and read twice perhaps before its full significance dawns." (Washington Star).

"Vitaly interesting, powerful from first to last." (Richmond Times-Dispatch).

"Mr. Stringer is a writer of whom Canada is justly proud." (Atlanta Journal).

Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.

The Pensionnaires

By ALBERT R. CARMAN.

Author of "The Preparation of Ryerson Embury"

The reputation won by this clever Canadian writer by his first story will be enhanced by this second essay in fiction. The fortunes of the heroine, an American young lady with a phenomenal voice, are followed into Europe, the scene of the story in the main being laid in Germany, France and Switzerland. A vivid picture of artist life, its joys, its ideals and eccentricities, is presented, and running through all a love story of real charm.

Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.

Two Little Savages

By ERNEST THOMPSON-SETON.

Author of "Wild Animals I Have Known," "Bird Portraits," etc.

This is Mr. Seton's latest and best book for boys, telling them in story form just how to camp out, how to build dams, how to know the animals and birds, how to make and shoot bows and arrows and all the other facts of "woodcraft" which the author has learned in his lifetime of out-door work and study.

Over 300 illustrations by the author.

Cloth, $2.00.

The Sacrifice of the Shannon

By W. ALBERT HICKMAN.

"The Sacrifice of the Shannon" is a novel of more than usual importance. Mail and Empire.

"The finest, liveliest, most stirring story that The Review has read this year." - Nashville American.

Illustrated with a remarkable series of pictures from actual photographs of the ice-crushers in their winter's work.

Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.
Burnt Leather, boxed, $2.00.
