

AFTER THE ROW IN THE PICKWICK CLUB.

SIR JOHN A. PICKWICK—"When I used the word 'Traitor,' sir, I did not mean it in a common sense—I meant it in a Pickwickian sense."

MR. CARTWRIGHT BLUTTON—"I feel much gratified by this fair, candid and full explanation, sir. My own observations with reference to a certain gentleman being a 'liar' and a 'letter thief' were in like manner merely intended to bear a Pickwickian construction."
