

You can give me such an address?

The fine winter weather here, the meeting with so many old friends, and the comparative rest from work have combined to improve my health to such an extent that I hope to return to London with my family the middle of May to complete my job on the Blackes Catalogue in the British Museum. By the way, I trust you have received the proper support for the carrying out of our