"SPORTING LIFE" AT THE ALLEN

How Sporting Nobleman Wins
Derby and Prize Fight Against Odds.

Maurice Tourneur's special production of the famous Drury Lane melodrama "Sporting Life" is the attraction at the Allen all this week. "Sporting Life" was first presented in London more than twenty years ago. It was immediately declared to be the greatest racing drama ever presented, a position it has held up to the present time.

The story deals with a young British nobleman who seeks to rehabilitate his fortunes which are at a low ebb. He is a thorough sportsman who wagers on a prizefight and backs his own name Lady Love to win the Derby. Both events are carried through successfully, the serious difficulties are laid in the young sportsman's path by a ruthless enemy. There is a charming love story which holds much suspense and interest.

"Sporting Life" is a truly English story replete with thrills and excitement. The picture will prove to be immensely entertaining to the public of Toronto.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC.

The "Better 'Ole" Again

With everything in readiness the added week's engagement of the "The Better 'Ole," the comedy with music which played last week to the largest crowds of the season, with James K. Hackett in the principal role, will begin at the Princess tonight. Associated with Mr. Hackett in a cast of unusual ability, with their amusing and laugh provoking personalities, the humorous characters do not suffer for lack of proper interpretation in the hands to which they have been entrusted. The musical program greatly enhances the performance, there being no less than ten catchy numbers in the play. The singing and dancing portion of the play is a feature in itself. Matinee will be given Wednesday and Saturday.

At the Royal Alexandra.

Returning after having achieved a distinct triumph in the large cities of the United States, as well as in Australia, Guy Bates Post will come to the Royal Alexandra Theatre for a limited engagement. There will be the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The play is Richard Walton's "The Masquerade," and the producer has surrounded his star with an exceptional company of players, including Alice Johnson, Lionel Lincoln, Adele Ritchie, Clarence Handyside, Ruby Gordon, Milane Tildon, Reginald Carrington and others. Mr. Post will play again his remarkable impersonation of the two men, Chilcote and Leder.

"Peg o' My Heart" at Grand.

When "Peg o' My Heart," J. Hartley Manners' comedy of youth, opens a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House this evening, theatregoers will have another opportunity of seeing one of the greatest successes of a decade. It is a comedy quite different from the average play. It is free from the everlasting discussion of capital and labor or the world's exploitation of social questions, and has for its theme the experiences of a poor young Irish girl who is suddenly introduced into the world of aristocratic relatives in England. The play teems with unusually clever and humorous situations, and tells a charming love story.

This Week at Shea's.

The headline attraction of the bill at Shea's Theatre this week will be Trixie Friganza, who is presenting her new one-act comedy, "The Midnight Rollers," an act of musicians and jancers. The Tale of a Shirt is the name of a new one-act comedy which Erwin and Jane Connelly will be seen. Fred Whitfield, Marie Ireland and company always welcome in their comedy classic, "The Belle of Bingleville," and the Curzon Sisters, the human butterflies, have one of the greatest comedies ever produced on stage. Millard and Marlin present a musical comedy skit, called "From Broadway to the Battery." The Great Lester and Company present a vaudeville act, "The Best of Trilochy," and Lam's Mannekins complete the bill.
