PROOF OF RHODES' GUILT SEEMS TO BE UNANSWERABLE.

The prevailing tone of English opinion is that sympathy with the Johannesburg reformers has been misplaced, since their motives were sordid and their incapacity as revolutionists glaring. Cipher despatches with Stock Exchange jargon and catchwords like "Heroes" expose them to ridicule. Moreover, the English practical instinct is offended by the facility with which they incriminated themselves and left the Boers in possession of evidence. Cecil Rhodes was considered too adroit a statesman to leave the proofs of his complicity with a conspiracy lying around loose, but he has convicted himself, ruined his reputation as a practical politician and even discredited his own emphatic denials of responsibility for Jameson's raid.

The True Ring. Dr. W. B. Nesbitt was the first speaker. He at once nailed his colors to the mast with the battle cry of "National Policy, National Schools, Equal Rights to All, Special Privileges to None," and declared that as a true Conservative he would never give his consent to the coercion of Manitoba on the school question. He prophesied that on the night of the election the Conservative party will have been found true to its Conservative principles. He would never support the Remedial Bill.

Mr. James Beaty deprecated the tendency to split the party on the Remedial Bill, which might never be heard of again, and urged Conservatives to stick by the party whose general policy had proved to be beneficial to the development and national growth of the country.

There was no stronger supporter of national schools than he but they must not think that this is the only question before them. There is the National Policy, which they must try and preserve to this Province and to this Dominion. He would stand by Mr. Cockburn, who had faithfully represented the voice of the constand by Mr. Cockburn, who had take the constituency. (No, no; and yes, yes.) Pleaded for Unity. Wallace Nesbitt said that it was not necessary to come to Centre Toronto for proof that there are divisions in the Conservative party. The life of the last Parliament gave abundant evidence of that fact. He made a strong plea for unity in the party and for men to be placed at the head of affairs who are in sympathy and touch with those great schemes of national prosperity and greatness which Mr. Chamberlain has inaugurated and argued that to pledge their representatives against the Remedial Bill would be to force him to vote for that party which is pledged to give a more drastic measure than the Conservative Government introduced. ***Simply a Financiers' Raid.**

It was simply a financiers' raid, reckless in conception and feeble in execution; dishonorable to the English reputation for morality and fair play, and disastrous in consequences to two jeal-ous races, whose fortunes are bound together in South Africa.

Probably the two happlest men in Europe are the German Emperor and Mr. Labouchere. The Emperor has his revenge for the outburst of resentful British Jingoism which followed his despatch to Kruger; Mr. Labouchere, who hates Rhodes almost as much as he does Lord Rosebery, now has the satisfaction of knowing that the mass of his countrymen agree with him, and that the cipher despatchs have justified his vigorous invective. Sympathy Was Unplaced.

The prevailing tone of English opinion is that sympathy with the Johannesburg reformers has been missiplaced, since their motives were sordid and their incapacity as revolutionists glaring. HON, T. W. ANGLIN DEAD. The Ex-Spenker of the House of Comme sed Away Yesterday Morning
—Sketch of His Career.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the Hon. Timothy Warren Anglin passed peacefully away at his residence, Queen-street-avenue. The deceased had undergone a long and painful illness, but was apparently recovering, and on Saturday was sufficiently well to go out in a carriage for an airing. On his return he appeared much better and was quite cheerful. During the night, however, he suffered a relapse and the end came quite unexpectedly from heart failure. All day yesterday his bereaved widow and family were receiving the sympathy of the many friends of the family.

Deceased leaves five sons and two daughters, Frank A. Anglin, of the law firm of Anglin & Mailon; Arthur W., who is with the Blake law firm: T. W. Anglin, of the Bank of Commerce; Mary, Alleen, Basil and Edward. Miss Mary Anglin, who was not at home, was apprised by telegraph of the bereavement.

The funeral will leave the house at 9.30 a.m. on Wednesday for St. Michael's Cathedral, where mass will be sung.

A Brief Biography. the Hon. Timothy Warren Anglin passed peacefully away at his residence, sung.

A Brief Biography.

Mr. Anglin was born at Otonakilly, Cork County, Ireland, Aug. 31, 1822. His father was an officer in the civil service of the East India Company. In 1849 he emigrated to St. John, New Brunswick, and established The Weekly Freeman, and subsequently The Morning Freeman. In 1860 he was elected one of the representatives of the City and County of St. John in the House of Assembly. He was the first Roman Catholic who represented that constituency. He strenuously opposed Confederation, which he thought would be prejudicial to New Brunswick. The cry of Fenian and ultramontane was raised against Mr. Anglin and in 1866 he lost his election in St. John. In 1867 he was re-elected and in 1874 returned without opposition. By pen and speech he denounced the New Brunswick School Act. Thoroughly in accord with the views of the Catholic Bishops and laity, he took strong ground on this question and was so far successful in his labors that in many parts of the Province a compromise was effected which gave to those of his faith permission to have their own schools and teachers and to give religious instruction before or after school hours. On the 26th March, 1874, Mr. Anglin was unanimously elected Speaker of the House of Commons. On the 7th of April, 1877, Mr. Mackenzie Bowell moved a resolution to the effect that the printing contract held by the Speaker with the Government was an infringement of the Independence of Parliament Act. An active debate followed, and the next day the motion was negatived by 111 to 72, when Mr. Casey moved that the question of Mr. Ang-

Port Stanley, May 3.—Two burglars broke into William Berry's store yesterday morning at 3 o'clock and into his sleeping room and robbed him at the point of a revolver of all the money he had, some $75. Two men also tried to break into Miss Mason's house, two miles from here at 1 o'clock, but the noise awoke her. She called to them out of a window. They threatened to shoot her, but ran away. They are supposed to be the same men that robbed Mr. Berry, as the description agrees. They left no clue at either place.
