Hamilton, April 11.—(Special.)—The Royal Crandian Humane Society decided to-day to award bravery medals to C. P. R. Conductor Bernard McAllister and Brakeman John Wardell. The two railwaymen dropped off a train crossing the Vaudreuli bridge on the Ottawa River on the night of Nov. 17 last to rescue a passenger named O. S. Perrault, who, stepping off the car in the darkness, under the impression that it was the station, fell into the lcy water below. Since his heroic venture Conductor McAllister has been ill with pneumonia.

Pretty Work

In Crown and Bridge Work much depends upon the dentist's artistic ability in producing a pretty and harmonious effect. A flashy show of gold in the mouth does not produce prettiness-nor always proclaim the best care of the teeth or the best taste.

But you may depend upon it that the best dental work is invariably the prettiest in effect—as well as the most satisfactory always-and the cheapest in the end. .

Our experience—our facilities-our record - argue us particularly well fitted for the best work.

The judges will begin work at 11 o'clock this morning, but the judging of collies by Mr, C. Y. Ford of Kingston will be the feature of the evening session. The show continues for three days, and no admirer of a good dog can afford to miss it. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. dally. Rhea Fined for Contempt.

Rochester, N.Y., April 11.—Justice Werner of the Supreme Court this morning issued an order declaring Madame Hortense Loret, better known as Rhea, the famous actress, in contempt of court, and fining her $250 and costs for falling to appear as directed in supplementary proceedings last January. The present contempt proceedings arose over a suit brought by Albert R. Haven of this city, author of "Josephine," Rhea's well-known play, for $1501 back royalties. Judgment was obtained and entered in the full amount.

The services on Easter Sunday were varied and ornate, Heavy work from different masses, interspersed with solos and duets, rarely a trio, but no quartets, formed the music. Rev.
