IMPORTANT CHANGES NEAR IN MONTREAL POSTOFFICE

Mr. Taylor of Headquarters Staff at Ottawa is Holding an Investigation.

Montreal, May 2 .- (Special.) -- Important changes are near at hand in the Montreal postoffice. C. A. Beausolei postmaster, has been given six months eave of absence, and as his health is exceedingly precarious it is doubtful if he will ever again return to duty Joseph Palmer, the veteran deputy postmaster, is also absent on sick leave and will no doubt be superannuated at an early date, altho nothing is said

Mr. Taylor of the headquarters staff at Ottawa has been in charge of the Mr. Taylor of the headquarters staff at Ottawa has been in charge of the office here for some time, and is conducting an investigation. It appears that the Liberals accuse Mr. Palmer with having had something to do with Mr. Prefontaine's famous circular to the officeseekers of St. James getting out. Mr. Taylor has been instructed by his superiors to get the proof, if possible. Everyone here, however, knows that such a charge can't stand, as Mr. Palmer is the last man to interfere in a political campaign. It is quite probable, however, that Mr. Palmer, after many years of splendid service, will be placed on the retired list. The government papers are also troubled over the judgeships to be given out. It has been decided, however, that Mr. Justice Trenholme of the superior court will replace the late Judge Wurtele in the court of King's bench.

Discoverer of Back Door to Klondike Says There's No Better.

Albert T. Willis, 115 Lindsey-avenury is one of those who believe that the Peace River country, about which a great deal has been said in the press lately, is most desirable for settlement. Mr. Willis claims to be the discoverer of what is known as the "back door" reute into the Klondike. He went up in '97 with a Yukon prospecting party from Chicago, consisting of 34 men, herses and carrying two years' supplies. The party left Edmonton on Feb. 14, and on reaching Little Slave post were compelled to sell their outfit and team to the junction of Pearl and Smoky Rivers, where they built boats and floated down over the Vermillion Rapids to the Great Slave Lake, thence to the mouth of the Liard River. In that far north country Mr. Willis' party bought good potates at 70 cents, hay $10 per ton and other commodities at reasonable rates. All kinds of garden vegetables grow there, and there are some big ranches located in the district. The party located time district. The party located twenty-six claims on the Great Slave Lake, and found immense deposits of copper ore and other minerals, Mr. Willis says there is no better country than the Peace River Valley.

Women's Travelling Cloaks

Stylish Rain or Shine Outing Garments, Worth $16.50 to $28

Wednesday Twelve-Fifty

This is one of the occurrences that help to make modern merchandising a strenuous matter, for if it weren't for an occasional bargain feature of the extra sensational order everyday selling would become a somewhat listless matter. One gets used to price concessions that mean a saving of a dollar or two, but when the saving ranges from $4 to $16.50 on a single garment, lukewarm interest is suddenly raised to boiling point, all of which may be construed as meaning that our offering of Women's Rain Cloaks for to-morrow is one of the great events of the season. The whys and wherefores of so radical a price-cutting need scarcely be considered just now, but you can rest assured that it is not because the cloaks lack style or are in any respect minus the chief essentials that such garments should possess.

Handsome English Cloaks, of rain-proofed covert, grey, fawn and olive shades, lined throughout with rich satin, finished with capes and silk velvet collar, regular price $28; English Rain Cloaks, of thoroughly water-proofed cravenette, double capes, triple capes, and single detachable capes, belted back, broad pleats front and back, grey, fawn and olive shades, stunning cloaks, yoke effects with broad strapping down back; Cloaks of water-proofed herringbone covert, waist and shoulders lined with tailors' striped silk, a dozen other equally attractive styles, samples of which will be in our show window to day, worth $16.50 to $28, and, by the way, these garments are strictly tailor-made all through—on sale Wednesday, cloak department, second floor, any cloak in the lot of about one
