

HAROLD SCARLETT'S HOSPITAL PLANS ARE DROWNED WHEN BOAT UNDER CONSIDERATION OVERTURNS AT PORT

Lady Companion Clings To Canoe Until Rescuers Arrive, Then Faints.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Victim's Body Not Recovered Last Night—Parents Remain At Lakeside.

When a canoe in which he was riding with a young lady companion overturned at Port Stanley Tuesday about noon, Harold Scarlett, aged 19 years, son of William Scarlett, insurance agent, 490 Princess avenue, was drowned in Lake Erie. The young lady managed to cling to the canoe until assisted into a rowboat by Elmo Drake and others who were on the assistance of the drowning couple. Shortly prior to the fatality Scarlett had a canoe from Drake, who warned him not to go beyond the diving platform. However, the warning was unheeded and the unfortunate youth paddled out about one mile directly opposite the Casino, when, according to the young lady who accompanied him, he attempted to turn abruptly, the paddle caught beneath the stern of the canoe and it upset, precipitating its occupants into the water. Scarlett grasped it amidst the waves, and it immediately turned over. The victim's companion declares that Scarlett did this several times, but at each grasp the canoe turned over, causing him to go under water. However, grasping the stern of the canoe the girl was enabled to remain afloat as the vessel kept overturning.

Condition improved. Spectations of the unfortunate occurrence rushed to the assistance of the drowning pair, but Scarlett sank when they were but twenty feet distant from him. His companion was rescued in a fainting condition, but she revived on being brought to shore, her condition last night being reported as improved, although suffering from shock.

Although searches worked all afternoon and continued until dusk the body was not recovered Tuesday, and their task is regarded as a very difficult one owing to the great distance from shore at which the tragedy occurred and the presence of strong undercurrents at this point, which is about one mile west of the new pier.

The dead youth's parents, who were in London at the time of the drowning, and who left immediately for Port Stanley on being notified, are prostrated with grief and refuse to leave the shore of Lake Erie until the body of their son is found. Following the accident a pulmotor and medical attendants were hurried to the scene, where their young Scarlett could be brought ashore in time for resuscitation measures to be adopted.

AEROPLANE WILL HERALD DOLLAR DAY IN LONDON WITH FLIGHTS OVER CITY TODAY—BARGAINS ON THURSDAY.

Dinty Moore the Dollar Ace arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Toronto and will make his initial flight over the city this morning. All day long he will be engaged in flying the merchants have placed in his hands hundreds of coupons to be released while in flight. These coupons vary in value and are redeemable in the respective stores donating them. He will let fly many coupons over the surrounding towns today and tomorrow will bend all his energy to giving Londoners something new. From early morning he will lead the first rush to the bargain centres and be with the throngs of the business district the biggest part of the day. At three intervals on Thursday he will do death-defying stunts over the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets in the way of loops and whirls, the first one at 9 o'clock in the morning, the next at 12 o'clock noon, and the last at 3 o'clock. This will give every body an opportunity to see "Dinty" at his best in the air. A long distance message from his manager in Toronto yesterday intimated that he would do anything in the way of flying the public requested. However, the Dollar Day Association executive has every minute of his time taken up with flying and Dinty will be even busier than jigs in the palmist days. These pages, laden with carefully-prepared advertising, tell at a glance the popularity of the Dollar Day in London. Even without fair weather Thursday will be the biggest day London folk have ever experienced. The thrifty buyers will make up their lists from the accompanying map and then so they can get through in time to see Dinty doing his stunts.

HOSPITAL PLANS ARE UNDER CONSIDERATION

Hospital Trust Approves Ones Finished by Architect—Several Contributions Received.

A meeting of the War Memorial Hospital committee was held yesterday afternoon in the Western Fair Board room to consider the plans for the building. These have just been completed by the architects, Messrs. Watt & Blackwell, and have been approved by the hospital trust, which was represented at the meeting by Colonel W. M. Garshore and James Gray. The original plan provided for a number of separate buildings on what is known as the unit system. This plan was finally discarded on the ground of unnecessary expense and inconvenience. It was also thought that one large building would be more suitable for a memorial.

Present Plans. The building as it is now planned, will be three stories high, with basement, and is to be carried out in dark red brick with white stone trim. The utmost care has been given to details of convenience and suitability. The arrangements for the admission of patients tending especially to eliminate any but the most necessary moving about.

To Ask for Tenders. After some discussion of the plans it was decided to instruct the architects to ask for tenders in order that an estimate of cost may be made to the board of trustees. The board of the I. O. D. E., which is the introducer and original sponsor of the project, is to be consulted formally before final arrangements are made.

Contributions in Hand. Contributions in hand to the amount of $24,110.62, $19,116.62 of which is in cash, and $5,000 in Victoria Bonds, were reported. The most recent contributions being $25 from the Rodeau Women's Institute, $25 from the Palmyra Women's Institute, and $57.58 from the C. G. L. T. Dundas Centre Methodist Church. A very interesting contribution is one made by the children of the St. Lawrence school, which they submitted to the trustees of the Victoria Hospital, and $57.58 from the Nightingale Club of this city promise $500. Women's organizations everywhere are answering to his call for service in a most gratifying way.

The committee expressed a message of sympathy to the family of the late A. E. Miller, and best wishes for health and recovery to the mother of Victoria Hospital, Miss Stanley, who has been so seriously ill.
