When It Comes to Legislating, Government Is Not So Sure About It.

OTTAWA, May 7 .- (Special.)-Alhonse Verville, M.P., of Maisonneuve Labor Congress, has introduced for the works. However, in none of these years has the bill got a second reading. Some days ago he withdrew his bill and to-day introduced a discussion of the subject. Mr. Verville began by citing experiences of manufacturers with short hours, who declared their production was increased thereby. Some manufacturers were unable to make as great profit thru shortened hours, but he did not see why the majority should sacrifice leisure for the sake of the few. The British war office and a number of branches of the American service had an eight-hour day. In Canada it was in force in the government printing bureau.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, minister of labor, said the principle advocated appealed to their sympathies and their sense of sacred justice. Mr. Verville's proposal was part of a larger labor demand for a general eight-hour day. This, however, was outside the sphere of the federal parliament and would have to be dealt, with by the provinces. Until that was done an eight-hour day on public works would clash with provincial mage. Government works. However, in none of these hour day on public works would clash with provincial usage. Government contractors would have to pay the same wages for an eight-hour day that other contractors paid for a longer day. Other difficulties were the curtailment of the labor sweet the curtailment of the labor sweets the curcreased cost of labor, the handicap to manufacturers by the long winter and by Asiatic labor competition. The eighthour day would have to remain in the experimental stage for a good many years to come. Mr. Lemieux concluded hat the bill would be reintroduced

"Is it expected that he will press it with the same vigor as he has done in the past?" asked Mr. Borden with

Mr. Lemieux replied that Mr. Vel-ville had been unable to press it this year because of illness in his (the min-Breton South) asked if that was why the bill was not pressed last year, dur-ing an eight months' session. Mr. Lenieux said that was a small question Mr. Verville was deeply interested in the problem and had advocated it before the labor congress. He should not be reproached because he did not

Mr. Verville remarked that the bill could not be reached last session. Mr. Madden asked if Mr. Lemleux would support the bill. Mr. Lemleux replied that as the bill was drafted he would not, but he thought the principle was worthy of consideration.

J. D. Taylor, New Westminster, declared himself in favor of the eighthour day, both in principle and practice.

Mayor Crosby of Halifax thought that by moving the resolution after he had withdrawn his bill Mr. Verville was simply seeking to give the impression that something was being done, whereas nothing was being done. David that Mr. Verville was only pretending to do something for the workingmen.

NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD Toronto Public School Statistics For April-Increase For May.

The attendance record for April at the public schools was broken by a total of 34,238, compared with the previous record of April, 1908, of 31,711. The high school attendance was: Jarvis 486. Jameson 420, and Harbord 435. Seventy-five teachers were late and 421 pupils received corporal punishment. The addition of West Toronto will nake another new record for May.

BISHOP'S HARD TASK Will Another Provost of Trinity Be Rector of St. James'.

Had Bishop Thornloe been elected to the diocese of Toronto a prominent Trinity man would, it is thought in Anglican circles, have been again in line for the rectorship of St. James. The present rector was provost of Trinity when appointed to the cathedral. Whether the new bishop Toronto will set a spark to the dormant flame of rivalry between Trinity and Wycliffe in his selection of a successor to Canon Welch time alone prove. It is regarded as possible that Rev. Provost J. Street Macklem would have been seriously considered had his grace of Algoma been elected.

To avoid arousing any rivalry be-tween the colleges, such as marked the election of the bishop, Bishop, Sweeny may look afield for the next rector for St. James. Rev. Provost Street Macklem is, however, a close friend of Canon Welch, and had he not used his influence with the Trinity party the episcopal election might have been indefinitely prolong-ed. Should he be selected for the St.

James rectorship it would be an inter-esting coincidence and rather remark-able instance of history repeating it-HORSES FOR INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.
