

Sculling Scholes Wins at Nelson

Note and Comment

Arthur Irwin spent the last two days among old friends in Toronto. He floated into the press box at the Island on Thursday, and sided up the players. Arthur thinks well of Houser and Mitchell, but gave no indication that he had tabbed either for the New York Americans. "What do you think of the Toronto team?" to which the scout made a ready reply, but asked that the same be not repeated.

The Tencumses, who all but landed the Minto Cup, are at Regina to-day playing the other challengers for the continental prize.

Lou Scholes showed at Nelson, B.C., yesterday a flash of his old time form, when he won the match race and title at the aquatic carnival from T. W. Desbriay, the amateur champion of the Pacific Coast. This said that the western natives gave in wide-open antagonism at the former winner of the Diamond Sculls, the only one of them they ever saw in the west.

Hamilton's most successful race meeting winds up to-day. There has been less scandal than on the previous days, but the crowd is still large. The favorites were beaten about three or four to one, the cry is about the same, like at Toronto and Montreal, the books were beaten, and this time it was the wofully wise talent that always scores, regardless of the length of the odds.

Navy's was the need of an adequate police patrol on the bay in greater evidence than on the holiday, writes a valued correspondent. A crowded regatta course always spoils races. Some people don't understand English when they are told to move back.

Fewer honorary officials and more active workers would make the Dominion Day regatta a greater success. A place for every man and every man in his place would help a lot.

When ten thousand people think enough of aquatic to watch a regatta, the city council should not begrudge a few hundred dollars for the queen of all amateur sports. All eyes look to Toronto in aquatic.

Ned Legge won the amateur golf championship of Canada by only one hole up, the same margin that Alex. Wilson had over Fritz Martin a year ago, and both times the finish was equally exciting, as you golfers know that every margin of 36 holes must necessarily be when it's anybody's till the last stroke of the last hole. The winner learned the correct game on the heather in Aberdeen, and is playing for the Toronto club only a year. Most remarkable about the final is that not only do Messrs. Legge and Mose play for the one club, but they are both in the law business in the same office.

Of the 15 years of competition George Lyon has proved the winner no less than five times, the only other repeater being the late Archie Kerr.

Tecumseh at Regina.
REGINA, Sask., July 2.—Charlie Querrie, with his hand of Indians, arrived here yesterday afternoon. The crowd are camping in their private car until they strike the warpath again to-morrow afternoon. The Regina Capitals, Tecumseh all look good and are enjoying their trip immensely. The loss of the championship game is a great disappointment, but they are still strong hopes for the future. The game is attracting general interest, and the local team will be entirely composed of home boys, winners of the championship and western championship. A good game is expected.

Bowling at Bridgetown.
BRIDGETOWN, July 2.—The second day of the fifth annual tournament of the Bridgetown Bowling Club was a decided success. In the semi-finals for the trophy, the Regina Capitals, led by Mr. R. H. B. ## Lou Scholes Wins By a Length From Coast Champion

NELSON, B.C., July 2.—Lou Scholes of Toronto defeated T. D. Desbriay, champion of the Pacific coast, and a resident of Nelson, by a short length, in a mile and a half sculling race this evening at 8 o'clock. Scholes took the lead after a sharp struggle in the first hundred yards, and altho he fought gamely, the Nelson man was unable to get on even terms again.

Both men finished in fine shape and well within themselves. There was a large attendance and perfect weather conditions. The men will meet again next week at the L.P.A. regatta, on Lake Washington, at Seattle.

McConnell Goes to Skeeters.
NEW YORK, July 2.—Pitcher George McConnell was released by the New York American League Club to Jersey City at the end of the Eastern League season. He was re-purchased by the local team at the end of the season and $3500. He was then paid for his release.

Bobby Kerr Runs To-Day.
LONDON, July 2.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Walker of South Africa is a strong favorite for the sprint championship to-morrow, while Bobby Kerr is as strongly fancied for the 220 yards. The sprinter has special against both for training, the it is possible that Carmichael might upset anticipations in one or the other. The papers testified to the popularity of the Canadian, who is a good athlete and a good runner. He is disappointed if he fails to win at least one race.

Saratoga Stakes Entries.
Horsemen have been very liberal with their entries in the stake events to be run at the coming meeting of the Saratoga Association, and the totals for the stake events are 26 to 30 per cent larger than for any stakes in the meetings that have been run in this vicinity. The reason for this is that the Saratoga Association announced recently that it would race six days a week, and horsemen who have been racing in the west and in Canada have decided to go to the Spa. The entries closed on Monday and the association announced the totals received for the different stakes. The Saratoga Association, which is one of the star events, has sixteen subscribers. This is a race for two-year-olds and each subscription costs $200. The association adds a cup to the subscriptions. The subscribers are John Sanford, Jas. McManus, F. J. Doggett, Mrs. L. A. Livingston, J. L. McGinnis, John E. Madden, C. Woodford Clay, C. L. Harrison, James R. Keene, J. R. Respass, Thomas Clyde, R. T. Wilson, Jr., Oneck Stable, Chelsea Stable and Rangeley Stable.

A Fair Exchange.
Philadelphia, Enquirer: America's sweet corn has been traded for Roumania's little watermelon. Roumania's little watermelon is a native of those regions where huge American melons are grown. Having gained this desirable delicacy from Roumania, Mr. Knowles was anxious to repay the gift. He noticed that the people were utter strangers to sweet corn. Accordingly, he secured for this product from the department of agriculture, hired several plots of ground himself, and instructed the Roumanians in its culture.

Potatoes Grow Above Ground.
Atlanta Constitution: Not satisfied with yielding an enormous output in the regular way, an Irish potato vine growing in the garden of C. C. Hall, at Luthersville, Ga., some time ago began to put out potatoes all along its branches, and when sent to The Constitution office had potatoes at large as eggs growing practically all over the vine.

In a letter accompanying the freak.
Mr. Hall states that the vine grew in his garden, where the land is a mixture of sand and red clay. On taking up the plant he found that the underground vine had not neglected its regular duty while pulling off its unusual stunt, as proved by the fact that an unusually large number of potatoes were found in their accustomed place in the ground.
