DISAGREEMENT ALMOST CERTAIN

ONE MAN SAVED OTHER DROPPED

Murray Siddall Picked Off a Floating Ice Cake in the Bay of Fundy Last Night But Frank Fillmore His Companion Was Drowned.

(See also page 2.) AMHERST, N. S., April 12.—(Special)—Murray Siddall, one of the men reported as afloat on the ice in the Bay of Fundy last night was rescued later between Minnie and Bayonfield in an almost exhausted state. The night was terribly dark and the river filled with large cakes of floating ice so that it was like taking one's life in one's hands to attempt a rescue, but scores of willing men, regardless of personal safety, put forth every effort. About 8.30 he was heard passing Minnie. At once George Symes, Norman McLennan, Walter Allen and Denny McLennan followed. After fighting the ice and tide till 10.30 they succeeded in rescuing him, and being unable to bring their boat back, they carried the almost helpless man along the shore to the home of Benjamin Carter, at Lower Macdonald, where every attention was shown him. The story of his experience is a most thrilling one. It seems the accident occurred at five o'clock yesterday, at the mouth of the Sackville River. Whether it was the force of the tide or a blow from an ice cake that upset the boat, Siddall does not know. Immediately the boat upset, Frank Fillmore who was with him, disappeared. It is supposed that having heavy rubber boots on, and probably a quantity of ammunition about his person, the weight carried him down.

THE THAW INVESTIGATING THE QUESTION OF GUILT

Up to Noon Today They Had Not Returned to the Court But It is Thought They Will Report a Disagreement and Ask to be Released.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Another long, comfortable night was passed at the criminal courts building by twelve men who are to decide the question of Harry K. Thaw's guilt or innocence, and this morning found them all but worn out by their protracted wrestling with the grim problem. The room in which they were confined is small and contains only a long table and some chairs. This, of course, meant added sleeplessness and fatigue. Now and then the doors were unlocked by the guards to allow one or another of the jurors to take some exercise in the hallway, but this was all the relief from the burden of deciding for or against the prisoner's life. A most hopeful sign is the fact that the jury has had no mention of a hopeless disagreement. That there is a deadlock is, of course, certain, but from the fact that the jury has not reported it or asked to be discharged on the ground that they cannot agree, it is drawn the inference that they have hope of getting together or they have determined to fight it out until physical endurance is exhausted. Rumors were rife again during the night as to the probable result of the jury's deliberations, but as was the case yesterday, all were merely guesses. As for Harry Thaw, his case spirit is despondent, but as was the case yesterday, he did not lose any of his energy. He sat in the prisoner's pen for many hours, but as the night went on and no word came from the jurors, he did not lose any of his energy. SMUGGLING CASE ON ERIN STREET

Charge of Assault Against Two Assyrians Follows a Customs House Officer's Raid in Local Assyrian Colony—Interesting Case Heard in Police Court.

Another Assyrian wrangle was aired in the police court when Izid Moses, who lives in a yard off Erin street, had George and Fred Mosey before Judge Ritchie on a charge of assault and spitting on her. She also alleged that Palm Sunday (March 24) the defendants, in company with Customs Officer Sandall, visited her rooms and accepted her having smuggled goods. The session was a lively one, and during the course of proceedings angry words passed between the parties to the case, and there was a brief exhibition of dramatic action. The Moseys on the other hand allege that Mrs. Moses had smuggled goods in her house. From the evidence it appears that customs Officer Sandall received a telephone message about 2.30 o'clock on the date above referred to. In this message he was informed that smuggled goods were going out of a house in Erin street. Accompanied by his son, he hurried to the locality mentioned and found George Mosey on guard near Mrs. Mosey's house. Mrs. Mosey took him to the house and knocked at the door. Mrs. Moses asked who was there and in reply Mr. Sandall told her that it was a customs house officer and wanted to get in. Mrs. Moses admitted the customs officer and asked her if she had any more American goods in the house. This she denied, and a search followed, which the plaintiff describes as being along rough lines. She declared that George Mosey in the course of the search got under the bed and upset it. She also declared that he put his hands on her and pushed her aside. No goods were found, and when Mr. Sandall inquired about a door that had not yet been opened Mrs. Moses told him that it led to the apartments of another tenant, who was accordingly looked up and, contrary to the plaintiff's statement, said that Mrs. Moses had the key. An entrance was finally effected into the apartments referred to, and, after the three rooms had been searched a trunk full of goods was found also a bundle. Mrs. Moses declared she had not the key, and when told the trunk must be taken away, said her son, who is in Eastport, Me., had sent it to her by mail, and she finally produced it. The goods were taken from the house and placed under an electric light across the street. Mrs. Moses protested against taking the trunk away, and asked if it could be placed in the Lawton Company's factory, but the watchman would not consent to this, saying that he feared trouble would result, and it was taken charge of by the customs house officer. Mrs. Moses claimed she would be able to produce papers from her son to show the duty had been paid. Mrs. Moses also stated that on the 26th of March she met Fred Mosey in the street and he spat in her face. On April 2 she met him again, when he spat on her cheek and called her "doggie, doggie, doggie," and told her that when he heard from Ottawa she would go to the penitentiary. She also accused George Mosey with seizing her by the wrists on the night of the search and trying to arrest her. She did not object to Mr. Sandall bringing Englishmen, or Canadians with him, but did not want Assyrians. Further evidence was to the effect that Mrs. Moses had twice struck George Mosey on the night of March 28, and he had seized her wrists to protect himself. George Mosey in cross-examination, the plaintiff, became very angry, declaring that he would not stand for being abused and insulted by her. During the proceedings Mrs. Moses threw the court room chairs around to illustrate George Mosey's actions in her house. His honor said he doubted if Mr. Sandall alluded to the plaintiff's house as such an hour unless in a special case, but E. E. Moses told him that he was speaking of the plaintiff said under certain circumstances he could. This, his honor doubted. In the course of hearing it developed that Mr. Sandall had no right to break a lock. The witnesses were Mrs. Moses, Mr. Sandall, Geo. Mosey and Mr. Sandall's son. The case was stood over for further hearing.

THIS BLUFF DIDN'T WORK

Wife Found Love Letter in Husband's Pocket and He Could Not Explain to Her Satisfaction.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Mrs. Bertha K. Hillis, of No. 51 Charlton street, was given a separation from her physician-husband, because Supreme Court Justice O'Connor did not believe that a love letter written to the husband by another woman was simply for use in a novel. Mrs. Hillis alleged cruel treatment, and demanded that she hand him over all her money, and threatened if he did not do so in a hurry he would blow off her head. His loud words attracted the attention of the woman's sister, who was in the rear of the store, and when she rushed into the store, Etienne pocketed his revolver and fled into the street, without making any further attempt to obtain the money. The fair to be held in City Hall, west end, by the Carleton Cornet Band next week, promises to be a great success. For two weeks elaborate preparations have been made for the event. In connection with the fair a voting contest will be held for the most popular foreman. Those entered are John Bond, John McAndrews, Charles Brown, and Charles H. Jackson. The ladies auxiliary of the band will take charge of the booths, and Mayor Sears will open the fair. The City Cornet Band will furnish the music Monday night. John Rooney, a C. P. R. brakeman, fell between two cars at Sand Point this morning about four o'clock, and had his back injured. He was taken to the hospital, but was discharged this morning about 11 o'clock. He will be unable to work for a couple of days as he got quite a shaking up.

"YOUR MONEY OR YOUR LIFE"

Montreal Man Enters Grocery Store and Terrorizes Woman for Her Money.

MONTREAL, April 12 (Special)—George Etienne, twenty-five years of age, was arrested yesterday charged with attempting to rob a woman at the point of his revolver. Etienne entered the little grocery store of Miss Cordella Contant, 24 St. Christopher street, and pointing a revolver at her demanded that she hand him over all her money, and threatened if he did not do so in a hurry he would blow off her head. His loud words attracted the attention of the woman's sister, who was in the rear of the store, and when she rushed into the store, Etienne pocketed his revolver and fled into the street, without making any further attempt to obtain the money. The fair to be held in City Hall, west end, by the Carleton Cornet Band next week, promises to be a great success. For two weeks elaborate preparations have been made for the event. In connection with the fair a voting contest will be held for the most popular foreman. Those entered are John Bond, John McAndrews, Charles Brown, and Charles H. Jackson. THE CURIOUS CROWDS

Were on Hand Early

Crowds began to assemble in the streets about the criminal courts building as early as 8.20 o'clock today. Several hundred persons gathered an entrance and took up vantage points along the three floors of balconies overlooking the interior of the court. People in the locality have been talking a great deal about the condition of the women, and say that everything about it is done with them. They, however, cannot be taken out of the house unless they are willing.

NO SIGN OF AGREEMENT

After being out for 38 hours the jurors went to breakfast shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. Throughout the night their discussions were continued, but still an agreement was not reached. In spite of their long confinement the jurors showed little evidence of the strain they have been under save for red eyes and unshaven faces. All of them seemed to be in good spirits when they returned to the court building at 9 o'clock and reentered the jury room to resume their deliberations. Juror Pink, who was ill yesterday, seemed much improved this morning. The jurors spent a quiet night, according to the court officers who have them in charge, but continued their arguments and balloting until breakfast time. Still there is no sign of an agreement and the feeling that a verdict will never be reached is growing stronger every hour that the jury remains out.

STANFORD WHITE'S PICTURES

Brought Only Fair Prices

NEW YORK, April 12.—Stanford White's modern pictures were sold at auction last night and realized $20,272. A few well-known names, such as Innes, Hassan and Curran, brought high prices, but the paintings of other masters sold at low figures. "Correille and Mollie," one of Gepp's good medal pictures, which sold in A. T. Stewart's sale last year for $8,100, went to Edmund Holbrook for $1,600. This was the record price of the evening's auction, which will be concluded tonight with the old masters.

THE EMPRESS OF IRELAND

HALIFAX, N. S., April 12.—(Special)—The C. P. R. liner Empress of Ireland, from Liverpool, with mails, reached here at six o'clock this morning and sailed again at 8.30 for St. John. She loaded her 22 passengers, mostly sailors. The Allan Line Sicilian arrived from Glasgow today with 1,011 passengers, 244 second cabin and 728 steerage. Included in the number was a "Smack" party of 108, and also 104 "Quarter Home" boys.

BONILLA HAS SURRENDERED

NEW ORLEANS, April 12.—According to a cablegram received by the officials of the Empress Dispatch Company here, President Manuel Bonilla, of Honduras, has surrendered to the Nicaraguans. The cablegram came from Managua, Nicaragua and was signed by President Jose S. Zelaya. No details were given other than that Bonilla surrendered yesterday.

MAGISTRATE SCORES AGAIN

Urges the Police Force to Use Every Effort to Stop Sunday Liquor Selling.

The police landed two prisoners last night, both of whom were in court this morning. John Green, a cattleman with a peepleg, who was given in charge by John Devlin, a deck hand of the ferry for assaulting a man named Hubbard, in the men's cabin of the Lullow, yesterday afternoon, do not mind his justifying his action as Hubbard had tried to run him down so he would miss this trip of the Montezuma. John Devlin and Wm. M. Campbell, were examined and the evidence showed that Green walked into the cabin and struck Hubbard in the face. Hubbard offered no defence. Green was fined $20 or two months and was told by Judge Ritchie that he could be sent to the penitentiary for two years. John Connelly was fined $4 or ten days for drunkenness. John Tuck, who was reported for working on the new bank of New Brunswick building, north end, without a license, said he had been here since Sunday and intended locating here. He was told to go and make proper arrangements for himself and his companion who was also reported. His honor remarked that he wished the police would be just as quick in arresting people who sold liquor on Sunday. Only recently he said he met a young man who told him his father got liquor on Sunday at some of the best places in town. His honor stated he had the names of some of these places and if some people knew where they were they would hold up their hands in horror and say "Oh! surely not in those places!" He hoped the safety board would take hold of the matter in real earnest next year, and strive to have these places closed up when a commission was given.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S DARING FEAT AS A GIRL AT GRAND MANAN

During a visit to Grand Manan Island, in the Bay of Fundy, I heard the following incident of Mrs. Roosevelt's girlhood: At that time, in company with a cousin and his wife, Mrs. Roosevelt spent some weeks among the fisher folk of Grand Manan. The South Head is a precipitous cliff that drops straight into the sea. When the high tides peculiar to the Bay of Fundy are out a narrow beach is exposed at the base of the cliff, to which visitors are in the habit of descending by means of a narrow, circuitous path. Mrs. Roosevelt and her party made this trip, but when the girl looked up at the face of the cliff it occurred to her that she would much prefer to climb it than to return by the path. Consequently she and her cousin began the ascent of the precipice, a feat that had been accomplished but once or twice before, and then only by the hardest fishermen. The old South Head lifts straight into the air and is almost as difficult of ascent as a polished wall. Their perilous venture once begun, however, they were forced to continue it, for the tide returned

REPORTED CASE OF DESTITUTION

A case that must necessarily claim the attention of all charitable institutions, principally on account of its repulsive nature, was brought to light yesterday afternoon, and already the police, Board of Health and S. P. C. A. have interested themselves in it. A report of a case of destitution was made to the authorities, and yesterday afternoon Sergeant Kilpatrick, Secretary Wetmore of the S. P. C. A. and Messrs. McConnell and Howard of the Board of Health went to the house, which is situated in front of the grain mill on City Road. There three women, sisters named Gallagher, have lived for some time. The officers demanded admittance, but the inmates refused to allow them to enter, for three-quarters of an hour, and only then when the Board of Health officers threatened to break in the door. The Gallagher sisters occupy three rooms, two bedrooms and a sitting room, but not a bed was to be found in the place. Instead filthy mats were lying in the corners. One of the sisters goes out working, and what she earns supports the other two. One of the women wears a dirty old rag about her head, and it is impossible to see her face. Not a strip of clothing, however, covered her body, when the officers saw her yesterday she simply put an old mat about her. The other sister had washed her face a little before the officers went in, but her neck and hands looked as if they had been straggers to water for years. One of the officers stated that in all his experience, he was never in such a filthy place, and yet they denied that they had not plenty to eat and any amount of fuel. "We saw neither," said the officer. Before leaving the women were instructed by the officers to clean up the house, and that they would be back again next week to see their condition. People in the locality have been talking a great deal about the condition of the women, and say that everything about it is done with them. They, however, cannot be taken out of the house unless they are willing.

TELEGRAM WAS LOST

The mayor has ascertained that the telegram sent from here by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Hon. Sidney Fisher, in reference to harbor improvements, was lost, in some manner by the telegraph company, and never reached Ottawa. A copy of the message was wired last evening, and the matter will be explained to Mr. Fisher by the company. The mayor will also send a communication to Hon. Mr. Fisher explaining matters, and asking for immediate action in the dredging matters.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, Que., April 12.—(Special)—The tone of the stock market was quite weak today, although there is little or no pressure to liquidate. Unsettled conditions in other markets are mainly responsible for the local situation. Left to itself this market would probably adopt a bullish attitude had it not been for the fact that it is a buying movement. Today's early transactions included Dominion, 20; Bonds, 76; Nova Scotia Steel, 71 1/2; Detroit, 75; Lake of Woods Mining, 75 1/4. SHREVEPORT, La. April 11.—Joe Harris, a negro jockey, well known as Jockey Gans, was shot and killed today by Frank Flowers, another negro. Harris was under contract to ride in the east. Flowers claims he acted in self-defence.

Mrs. David Logan

PICQUOT, April 12.—(Special)—The death occurred suddenly last evening of Mrs. Logan, widow of David Logan, probrothary. The deceased was a native of St. John and had been out visiting friends some distance from her home. Her son drove her back and in front of her residence she took ill and expired shortly after.

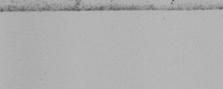

GRAVE APPREHENSION

NEW YORK, April 12 (Special)—There is some apprehension lest the Thaw trial should end before the material for a similar sensation has been provided by some other agent of Providence with a brain stored in a gun. At the present moment it seems almost probable that the public will be forced to turn its attention to the daily doings of compeer, decent people. It is true that Mr. Thaw, himself, does not share this view, as he feels that as the agent of Providence his bill-of-fare and the color of his necktie, to say nothing of his views on current topics, will still be, for a considerable period, the means of saving many persons from the distress of a humdrum existence. Perhaps Mr. Thaw is right, but it is nevertheless true that a feeling of apprehension is becoming quite general. The photographers are in despair.

SET BACK FOR PROHIBITION

Rev. Thos. Marshall received a communication from Hon. Mr. Pugsley last evening in reply to the N. B. Temperance Federation's memorial asking for prohibition. The first action of the letter deals with the complaint made and states that officials and inspectors have been given to understand that it is their duty to enforce the law and if evidence that they have not done so is given to the government, the necessary action will be taken to have the law properly carried out. The second part deals with the request for a prohibitory law and says: The committee of the executive council has the fear that it would be found impossible to successfully enforce it, as some sections of the province are unfavorable to it where they do not at the present time feel like asking the legislature to enact a prohibitory law. They recognize that the temperance sentiment is growing stronger and suggest that in the not distant future some action might be sufficient. A commission will be appointed during the recess, of three reliable persons to visit P. E. Island and look into the working of the law there. The Temperance Federation is invited to name one of the members of the commission. Reference is also made to amendments proposed to the liquor license act, to facilitate the taking of a vote relating to local option. FREDERICTON, N. B. April 12.—(Special)—The house met at 11.30 and subsequently went into committee of the liquor license bill. Mr. Maxwell argued that the frequent changes in the law favored the adoption of prohibition. He complained that in John the law was openly violated with the consent of the liquor license commissioners but no notice was taken of this. As the bill stands a majority of the electorate will be necessary to bring the act into operation. He desired it to be altered so that a majority of those voting should be sufficient. The premier, objected to this as manifestly unfair, but on what might only be a small poll the majority should have the right to control the great majority of inhabitants. The debate is proceeding.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

NO IMPORTATIONS NEEDED. Mr. Hiram Hornbeam was seen by the Times new reporter this morning relative to the suggestion of Mr. Robertson, M. P., that the government import a few goats from the sheep which they have decided to secure for the benefit of the farmers. The goats would protect the sheep. Mr. Robertson's suggestion appears to have been interpreted as a joke by some members, and the views of the man from Hornbeam Settlement were therefore sought by the new reporter. "Well," said Hiram, "maybe it's a joke, but I call it it comes about as near the mark as they fellows up to Fredrick ever gets when they're talkin' about farmers. I heard one of 'em tellin' what a fine thing it was to have the trees cut closer to the top an' hauled out of the woods to stop forest fires. The man food didn't seem to know it was the bush that was left in the woods that spread the fires. But about these goats—the legisla-tion 'ain't goin' to set all summer is it?" "Oh, no," said the new reporter. "It will adjourn this week."

"Well, then," said Hiram, "I call the 'll be goats enough at large for the summer, without sendin' away for any more."

Mr. Hornbeam's views, as those of a practical farmer, are entitled to respectful consideration.

"Well," said Hiram, "maybe it's a joke,
