For German Christians as Allies -- Would Kill All Unbelievers in Real Holy WarLetter From Egypt Tells of Dreadful Slaughter Feared in Asia
Minor—Terror of a Real Holy War

At left, two holy warriors of the most fanatic type, who would assail Uncle Sam in case holy war really broke out. They are the Moros of the Philippines. At right, above, two young Turk officers who, though Mohammedans in name, are suspected of atheism by Arabs, one of the true and original Mohammedans.

(Special Correspondence)

Alexandria, Egypt, Jan. 16.—As I mail this letter, the United States battleship Tennessee stands in the harbor unloading Jewish refugees from Jerusalem. A scared, sorry-looking lot of refugees—frightened and yet glad. They are glad that they have escaped with their lives from the land which is the holy of holies to them and their race. Every refugee is sure that Jerusalem and Palestine—yes, all Asia Minor—is doomed to a slaughter of the Christian and Jewish population, except, perhaps, the German officers who are directing the Turkish army and urging the fulfillment of the holy war decree.

I have been down the Suez canal, and I passed over to Cairo and from there up to this report of Egypt. At this season of other years I would have seen hundreds of tourists from the United States and thousands from Europe. I met a bare half-dozen Americans and four of them, like myself, were correspondents and photographers of American newspapers. A few Greeks, a few Italians and a score or so of adventurous Englishmen made up the rest of the city. I saw no Jews, no Christians, no Moslems, no Mohammedans. Of course there are thousands of English, Australian and New Zealand military officers and soldiers in Egypt, but they are here on professional business.

Egypt has seen no war yet. Then why the scarcity of travelers? The nightmare of "holy war" is abroad. The imagination of those who journey up and down the world is frightened at the threat of the "Jehad" that awful Mohammedan thing which, once started in earnest, would make the present war in Europe child's play in comparison. The "Jehad" the awful fan-
"Holy war" or "Jehad" consists in killing all infidels everywhere, or converting them to the Moslem faith instantly, at the point of the sword. Mohammedanism of which drives Mohammedans to blood like fish to water! If Ali Bakur, the meek-eyed imam in New York, vaudeville theatre suddenly charged down Broadway, killing right and left till he himself is literally cut and shod to pieces, you in America may know that the "holy war" is really on. himself sanctioned "Jehad." He himself was the first holy warrior. Moreover the Koran, the Mohammedan bible, solemnly enjoins the holy war upon all true believers. Thus the Moslem's most sacred and deepest religious convictions urge him to the slaughter of the "unbeliever." And the world of Islam has long cherished practical motives as well as religious, for a holy war.

Their dream is a Moslem empire, ruled by a "true believer" extending from the Atlantic coast of Africa to the slopes of the Himalayas, comprising more than nineteen per cent of the world's inhabitants; and their whispered prophecy has been: "Let us await the great European war which is coming. Then will be time for us to strike."

Today the European war has flared up, yet, though young Turk gentlemen cry "holy war" there is no holy war. Not yet.

HOLY WAR WOULD HIT UNCLE SAM!
DEADLY MOROS WOULD RUN AMUCK

When the day comes, when Islam rises against Christianity in a real holy war, Moro warriors in the Philippine islands will unceasingly their guns from many a secret arsenal, and massacre of Americans will follow.

The Moros are Mohammedans. But their fanatic courage and murderousness out-Islams Islam. No Moslemism is deadlier than the Moro. It is one of their pleasant religious fancies to run amuck from time to time. A Moro about to run amuck bathes in a sacred spring, shaves off his eye-brows, clothes himself in white, and with solemn ceremony takes oath to die killing Christians. He is then known as a "Jurementado." He hides a barong (the Moro knife) in his clothes and hikes for the most crowded street of a Christian settlement. The career of a mad dog is innocuous compared to what follows.

The number of persons that a Jurementado will slay before his high speed killing career through the streets is ended seems incredible. When at last he is brought to a stop by imploring himself on an American soldier's bayonet, he often jams the blade deeper into his breast in order to get nearer to the soldier. Then he slashes off the latter's head, as a last holy act. Multiply this furious madman by the ten thousand, and you have an idea of the bloody problem which would face Uncle Sam in case a real holy war aroused the Mohammedans of the Philippines.

For the last four years the Moros have been nominally disarmed. But many a bundle of guns was hidden before the authorities found them. When General Malvar obligingly surrendered to the United States, with his force of some 2,000 men, it took only enough cannon that the men had only about 200 rifles, according to a veteran of the Philippine wars. Where were the other 1,800 rifles? When the holy war breaks out, we'll know.

And those of the Moros who can't get rifles, will make their own knives for Christian cutting. They really prefer the knife anyhow.

JAPAN LOOKING TO AMERICA FOR SOLUTION OF "ALL TROUBLES"

Washington, Feb. 11.—Baron Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, declared last night at a dinner given by Secretary Daniels in honor of Admiral Dewa, Japanese representative to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, that Japan was looking to America with strong confidence for the solution of "all troubles."

His remark was interpreted as applying to the European war.
