GROUND AT NEUVE CHAPELLE COBBLED WITH GERMAN SKULLS

Dead Lie Buried in Shallow Graves Everywhere and Whole Picture is One of Ruin and Death—Many Bodies in Plain Sight.

Neuve Chapelle, France, via London, April 16.—The ground to the west of this now shattered town of Neuve Chapelle, from which the British drove the Germans in the middle of March with such terrible loss of life for both sides, is literally cobbled with German skulls. The dead lie buried in shallow graves everywhere and the vicinity is strewn with wreckage and debris.

The British have made it as tidy as they can but beneath many of the trenches and dugouts six inches of the bayonet will meet the resistance of cloth and human flesh while in the No Man's Land between the new British line and the German trenches to the east bodies still lie thick.

Neither the Germans nor the British dare to remove the corpses, and unless some situation develops to alter the relative position of the opposing lines, they are likely still to be there when the summer comes. Many of the trenches and dugouts where the men lie unswayingly harbor the bodies of thousands which were covered with earth after the British push.

So quickly did the British break through the German line that full details of the action are only now becoming known, even to the men who participated. The suddenness of the advance was such that many of the men were dazed that all they knew was that they got there. In fact British staff officers laughingly assert that it was too quick for the best results, the German line giving way so suddenly that the British found themselves like a man who hits his opponent with all his might and encounters but slight resistance and is thereby thrown off his balance.

"If we had had a chance for it that day I believe we could have taken Amiens also and perhaps Lille," said one officer with a smile. "At any rate we gave the Germans their worst drubbing of the war, and the effect all along our front has been incalculable. Every man in the British army believes sincerely we can break the German line if we wanted to, and that is a mighty comfortable feeling."

Wearry of trenches. The average soldier is of course weary of trench warfare, and he will be glad when it is all over, but Neuve Chapelle has acted like a tonic on the British forces from Ypres to La Bassée.

The correspondent was entertained on the British front by an officer in his dugout. Men from the trenches, unmindful of the shells swishing overhead, streamed from the trenches eager to gather souvenirs and take part in entertaining the visitors. They swarmed about the entrance to the dugout until the officer, in a tone of feigned annoyance, cried out, "Get down there, you chaps, or you will have the Germans tossing a shell among you."

In the course of the informal conversation one private exhibited a German cartridge from which the bullet had

MR. J. A. HILL TELLS WHAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DID FOR HIM.

He Suffered For Four Months From Kidney Trouble but Found Quick Relief When He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was sick for six months," Mr. Hill continues. "My troubles started from a cold that seemed to settle in my back. My joints were stiff and cramps in my muscles, my appetite was fitful and I was heavy and sleepy after meals. I had a bitter taste in my mouth and I was always tired and nervous."

I used four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and the great benefit they did me is what makes me say, "They are the best of medicines."

UNSTRONG, UNSTEADY SHAKY NERVES MAY BE TONED UP BY USING MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. John Harper, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the heart and nervous system. I was confined to a grocery store for twelve years, and had to give up business, as I became terribly run down and nervous, and had heart trouble, and I am sure I am gaining very fast now, and I am sure I am gaining very fast now, and I am positive they will cure me. The nerves of one hand would tremble and then seem to go numb so that I could not write or sew. Now my hand is quite steady, as you can see by my handwriting. This is a big change which delights me so much for I thought all was done that could be done. I was about to give up in despair when I tried this last remedy, and even after I had only taken half a box the change started to come."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will restore the enfeebled, enervated, exhausted, overworked system to full constitutional power.
