SKATING CHIEF OF DOMINION WELL PLEASED

Mr. Taylor of A. S. A. Congratulates Y. M. C. I. on Handling of Big Meet.

The following letter relative to the recent championship races on Lily Lake brought pleasure to the Y. M. C. I. on receipt yesterday. It will be read with interest:

Montreal, Jan. 26th, 1922.
B. P. McCafferty, Esq., Secretary, Young Men's Catholic Institute, St. John N. B.

Dear Sir,—I have just returned to the city from Nova Scotia, and take this opportunity of officially congratulating your institute for the very successful and well-managed staging of the Canadian championships which were lately completed in your city. I am sure the pronounced success of the meeting must have been very gratifying to the officers of your institution, and I know that it was an eye-opener to many of those attending who are not as familiar with St. John as I am.

I would also like to thank the officers of your institute for the very hearty manner in which our association members were received. I can assure you that there was not one single item overlooked that could add to the comfort and pleasure of our visit, and we will all look back with pleasure to the meeting of 1922.

Yours sincerely,
J. A. TAYLOR,
President, Amateur Skating Association of Canada.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP MEET ON LILY LAKE

(The New Freeman.)

General satisfaction is expressed at the great success achieved in the holding on Lily Lake last week, for the first time in the history of the maritime provinces, of the Canadian Outdoor National Amateur Skating Championships, under the auspices of the Young Men's Catholic Institute of this city. It is estimated that the attendance, both days, totalled 25,000. It was a big undertaking and it was handled in a big way.

It was a departure in the line of local sport, and very decided one at that, involving the risk of several thousands of dollars, and an amount of voluntary endeavor which, if calculated on the basis of paid help, would have run into a considerable figure. To the Young Men's Catholic Institute must go the credit for bringing to the city of this big Canadian sporting classic, to the physical committee of the Institute in particular, which set the venture on foot, goes special commendations. Truly, as a local paper says, the Y. M. C. I. has demonstrated again that it likes and wants clean sport; the Y. M. C. I. demonstrated once more that it is capable of big things.

As Father Duke so well said at the dinner to the visiting skaters and officials—men outstanding in the sport in North America—it was a great lesson of faith—faith on the part of the Y. M. C. I. in undertaking the venture; faith on the part of the skaters in coming here; faith on the part of those who co-operated with the Y. M. C. I.; faith on the part of the great general public, who so generously patronized the event. It also demonstrated what can be done when different interests in the community get together. Called upon to assist on the big event had been fully launched, the Local Council of Women rendered invaluable service in the sale of tags; the Rotary Club did its part; His Worship the Mayor, realizing the import of the event, declared a half holiday; merchants of the city assisted in the matter of donating medals for the different events; the Department of Public Safety lent a willing hand in the matter of police patrol; the Catholic Women's League assisted admirably in many ways than one; and the daily press, in the voluminous handling of all news-matter connected with the meet, contributed greatly to the success achieved. To each and all is great credit due, and the Y. M. C. I. is the first to express appreciation of services rendered.

The words of appreciation of His Lordship the Bishop of St. John, at the banquet, of His Worship the mayor, and particularly, because many of them were here for the first time, of the visiting skaters and officials, were welcome indeed to the gentlemen of the Y. M. C. I. physical committee, who, for the past two months, have met almost nightly to attend to some detail in the development of the big plan, and welcome also, to those who, when called upon, lent such hearty co-operation. It is good to have such results; it is good to see the crowd and to take part in the general enthusiasm; it is good to have something to take our minds from the ordinary run of things—and perhaps equal to all these is the testimonial of public esteem as evinced by the tremendous turnout of spectators, sharp weather, and the generous support in the matter of the purchase of tags, so essential to meet the heavy financial liabilities of such an occasion.

LORD READING ON INDIA SITUATION

Delhi, India, Dec. 26 (Associated Press, by Mail).—Lord Reading, Viceroy of India, set forth the attitude of the India government toward the revolutionary elements in a recent address to a delegation from the Punjab Chamber of Commerce. After promising that the full strength of the government would be exerted to prevent disaster, as called at that time, Lord Reading added:

"We have no desire to interfere with the lawful activities of political parties however opposed to us, but although we are most anxious to redress all legitimate grievances and to remove the grounds of popular discontent, yet we cannot allow any political activity to impose its will upon the country by violence, intimidation, coercion or other unlawful means."

"There is today a natural and legitimate desire on the part of the vast majority of the people that the law should be respected and obeyed."

"I cannot but think that in some quarters there is a misconception of the position of the government of India. They have, I verily believe, the support of the law-abiding citizens of India."

"It cannot be fairly said that we have abused this power. Indeed we are sometimes criticized for not having sufficiently exercised it and I readily admit that we sought to avoid action which might either be misconceived or mis-represented as too severe or as provocative."
