THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1921

NO DOUBT, WHATEVER, THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF MARRIED COUPLES right here in little old prosy St. John who are living a "cat-and-dog" existence because of some tragic silliness and thoughtlessness in the choice of jests---some unintentional remark that caused grave apprehensions and suspicions. Such an idle remark started a fire in the heart of the wealthy Anthony Bond in "Paris" widely-read English society novel, "THE FURNACE," to be presented in marvelous movies at the Imperial, Monday. The cast includes: Agnes Ayres, Milton Sills, Jerome Patrick, Theodore Roberts, Mayme Kelso, Helen Dunbar and other notables. A picture that makes second day crowds greater than the first. Usual Prices.

WRESTLING
Zyzsko Now Champion
New York, May 6.—Stanislaus Zyzsko of Poland won the world's heavyweight catch-as-catch-can wrestling championship here tonight by defeating Ed (Strangler) Lewis of San Jose (Cal.), with a neck lock after twenty-three minutes of wrestling.

After minutes of strenuous grappling, Lewis tried for his famous headlock and missed, falling on his back. The Pole quickly pounced upon him and flung his shoulders to the mat. Zyzsko weighed 225 pounds and Lewis 285. The official time was twenty-three minutes and seventeen seconds.

The quick finish came as a surprise to the spectators, who apparently looked for a long, hard contest.

Both wrestlers were in excellent condition. They indulged in rough tactics from the start, but in the first twenty minutes, neither seemed to have the advantage.

Lewis tried for a toe hold in the first ten minutes but without success. Zyzsko entered the ring in his bare feet and Lewis wore the regulation wrestling shoes.

Relief Off Mat.
While the men were struggling for an advantageous hold, Zyzsko rolled off the mat. Under the rules both wrestlers had to come to the centre of the mat and take a standing position.

In the encounter that followed, Zyzsko got out of a half-Nelson and broke away from a body scissors. He then secured a combination toe and crotch, and Lewis wriggled out of it. They were tossing each other about the ring when Lewis got a head scissors, holding it for more than half a minute.

Lewis then tried a flying headlock and missed. His arm slipped over Zyzsko's perspiring neck and head and the force of his plunge carried him to the floor. He fell on his back to the mat. Zyzsko then pounced on him, threw the weight of his body on Lewis' chest, locked his
