MORE WATER DEPARTMENT NONSENSE.

A bad break occurred in the water main on Tower street, Carleton, yesterday afternoon, and the repair work was not completed until an early hour this morning. During the time the men were working at this pipe the water had to be shut off from the greater portion of Carleton, causing the usual amount of inconvenience. While digging to the broken pipe, which was of clay, the workmen discovered an iron water pipe lying within a few inches of the other. It had been run there at considerable expense some time ago by the water department to replace the clay pipe, and has never been connected. The iron pipe is simply buried money and worse, for had it been connected, as should have been done, the people of Carleton would not have been put to so much inconvenience last night.

BISHOP SMITH

Tendered a Formal Reception in St. Philip's Church Last Evening.

"Although I am now an American by adoption, I am glad that the flag under which I was born, and for which my father fought, still stands, as the symbol of liberty, equality and justice."

The speaker was Bishop Spencer Smith of the A. M. E. church, and the occasion was the reception in his honor, held last evening in St. Philip's church.

A man of commanding intellect, Bishop Smith last year made a strong impression on those who had the pleasure of hearing him during the conference in this city, and his present visit was therefore anticipated with pleasure.

In his remarks last evening he said that thirty years ago this month he was licensed to preach in the city of Jackson, Miss. His childhood home was in Ontario. His grandfather's place was close to the spot where Brock fell, and his father bore arms in the war of 1857. His parents were poor, and the first school book he ever had was bought with money he earned with his own hands.

While speaking of the British flag and what it symbolized, his lordship referred to the South African war, and expressed the view that the Boers had lost their identity as a nation because they had failed to make use of a great opportunity. It was given to them as to no other people to uplift the native races around them, but they did not accept the trust or give any thought to the native other than as a slave.

Referring to his own work Bishop Smith spoke of the great ecclesiastical conference in London last year, at which fifty colored preachers and bishops were present. He had himself travelled 50,000 miles by sea in the last seven years, in his work he was chiefly conscious of the fact that he was not intellectually equal to the great demands that are made upon a bishop.

Dr. A. B. Walker also spoke, dwelling forcibly upon the great value of education, and the absolute necessity for the young in this strenuous age to start out with a good mental equipment.

John Law spoke briefly, paying a high compliment to the Rev. Mr. Coffin, and referring especially to the musical gifts of Mr. and Mrs. Coffin, and the excellent concerts that have been given since the "musical" minister took charge.

Quite a large number of ladies and a number of gentlemen from other churches were present, and greatly enjoyed the reception. The pretty little church was completely filled with people, and the ex-mayor's apt allusion to the well-looking, well-behaved, happy and prosperous looking congregation expressed a thought that was in the minds of all the visitors.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to all who were able to remain, a special table being provided for the bishop and a few guests. It was a dainty and excellent repast, and the table was prettily decorated with flowers.

The good people of St. Philip's are to be congratulated on the success of the reception to their bishop, and on having such a bishop to receive. He will preach in the church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Some extra good values in dress and trimming silks are on sale at Dykeman's.

THE CORONATION.

A London cable today says that preparations for the coronation are going on rapidly and there are no special changes in the programme, except a curtailment of the services in the Abbey. The Candian arch is being decorated and an Indian arch is being erected. The illuminations will be as originally planned.

PREMIER PETERS

Has Just Returned From London and Talks to the Star.

Hon. Arthur Peters, premier of Prince Edward Island, who with Mrs. Peters has been in England and who remained over in St. John for a couple of days, left for Charlottetown by the noon train today.

In conversation with the star, Premier Peters said that he did not think the conference of premiers in London would be productive of any decided results. The main conference, that of the colonial premiers, was almost negatived on account of the illness of the king, and by the late injury to Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, without whose presence very little could be done.

The other conference, that of the provincial premiers, was practically abandoned on account of the confusion resulting from these same causes, but at the somewhat unsatisfactory meeting which did take place Hon. Mr. Chamberlain stated that if requested by the different provinces and the dominion he had no doubt but that the imperial parliament would amend the British North America act. This was during the discussion in regard to increased representation for the maritime provinces in the dominion house.

Mr. Peters of course is chiefly interested in Prince Edward Island and puts up a strong argument in support of his claim for at least a return to the former representation in regard to increased representation for the maritime provinces in the dominion house. Mr. Peters stated that at the conference, the provincial premiers to be held in Quebec in September there will be two subjects brought up of especial interest to the people of the maritime provinces. One of these is the proportionate division of the fisheries award among the three provinces and Quebec, and the other the question of transferring the absolute control of the fisheries to the dominion government.

Of the five and a half million dollars which composed the fisheries award, one million has been given to Newfoundland, and the premiers of the four Atlantic provinces will, at the proposed conference, put in their claims and arguments for the amounts which they believe should be paid to them. These sums will do much towards assisting the provinces in their financial difficulties, and in addition to this it is expected that further amounts will be secured through the sale of the government of the fisheries control.

In regard to his trip to England Premier Peters states that it was very enjoyable. The people of London did everything in their power to make the visit of the Canadians a pleasant one, and their kindness was often so great as to be almost burdensome. All the theatres were thrown open to them, passes were sent from all of the different railways, everything was free and the only difficulty was that there was so much entertainment provided for them that they could not begin to take in everything, and the increasing round of business and pleasure became tiresome. Premier Peters was asked to remain in London until after the coronation, but as at that time it seemed a rather indefinite event he decided to come home.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

The Ever Ready Revolver in Salt Lake City.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 2.—At the Salt Palace Gardens early this morning J. C. McCallin, a well known mining man of this city, shot and killed the Russian, seriously wounded F. Max Peters, and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. McCallin, Miss Russell, Peters and another man whose name has not been learned, formed a party which attended the bicycle races. It is said that McCallin had trouble with his wife and had been drinking. Peters and Miss Russell are said to have taunted him about his domestic troubles, whereupon he became enraged, drew a revolver and shot Miss Russell, who started to run, through the back. Peters, who attempted to keep McCallin from shooting the girl, was shot through the chest. McCallin, after firing a shot at the other member of the party, placed his revolver at his high temple and sent a bullet through his head. He died an hour later. Peters is in a precarious condition, but it is thought he will recover.

The chic and charming ladies' bathing suits admired by all and made from serviceable materials, can be had at Dykeman's.

STEYN AND KRUGER.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Ex-President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, arrived at Southampton today with his family, on the steamship Carlislebrook Castle. He was met by Messrs. DR. GATES WILL COME.

DIFFICULT UNDERTAKING.

The Grave Diggers of Chicago Are Out on Strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—The grave diggers are the latest of the wage earners of Chicago to go on strike, and as a result Concordia cemetery is closed and at the entrance to the burial grounds the superintendent has posted a notice which reads: "There will be no more burials at the Concordia cemetery until further notice."

The twenty-five grave diggers employed at the cemetery are on strike for higher wages and have succeeded in preventing other laborers from taking their places. Three funeral processions which arrived at the cemetery yesterday were turned back because of the strike. It is stated that similar strikes will be inaugurated at the two other cemeteries.

TRACY THE OUTLAW.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 1.—Harry Tracy, the fugitive desperado, is now in eastern Washington, unrounded, in good health, armed with four guns and two hundred rounds of ammunition, provisioned for five days and equipped with two horses. Tracy crossed the Columbia river early yesterday morning and is now supposed to be headed toward the Idaho line. Tracy declared he wanted to hold up a bank or rob an express car. He says that he has promised to give the sum of $5,000 within one year to the parties who helped him escape from the Oregon penitentiary. He is making his way to the "Hole-in-the-wall" country in Wyoming. When there, he declares, he will be a thief among thieves and thinks he will be safe.

LEGS CUT OFF.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—Two fatalities due to being run over by Boston & Maine freight trains occurred in East Boston this afternoon and evening. A six-year-old boy named Haffey, while playing about the tracks this afternoon, got under the wheels of a car and had both legs run off. He died tonight at the hospital. The other victim, probably named Geo. Amos, whose name is unknown, also suffered amputation of both legs by a train that passed over him while he was lying on the track early this evening.

KING EDWARD.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—In a despatch from Brussels the correspondent of the Times says that King Leopold, in talking of his recent visit to King Edward at Cowes, remarked he was surprised at the King's excellent appearance, and said his majesty looked ten years younger than his age.
