

Site for Refinery Which Debated

of having the matter disposed of. He was not heartily in favor of the proposition himself.

Ald. Belyea said the fishermen's rights would not be interfered with, but the American boat would need a new wharf in that vicinity.

Ald. McGoldrick said the Harbor Board had been dealing with the matter off and on for the last two months and it was time the council should take a decision. If the recommendation was referred back, the same resolution would be returned. The property was a valuable one but the Pender Commission had not yet reported on the works had made no complaint.

In General Committee.

Ald. Baxter's motion to go into general committee was carried. He then moved that the first section relating to the site be held on the table and the terms and conditions taken up.

Ald. Frink thought the first thing to settle was the granting of the site. This was the chief objection.

Ald. Kelley said the council supported Ald. Frink's stand.

Ald. Baxter said that Ald. Frink himself stated that he would be willing that a site should be purchased rather than the particular property should be granted.

Ald. Vanwart, Sproul and Hazen also spoke.

Ald. Kelley asked Mr. Taylor if Mr. Durant was open to negotiate for another site.

Mr. Taylor said that the whole discussion had been entirely with reference to the Charlottetown street site. No other site was considered and if the Council had any other site in the same facilities, he would be willing to accept Mr. Durant's idea was to have the latest factory in Charlottetown with a view to capturing the trade of the whole district. It was absolutely essential that the refinery should be located on deep water. The Harbor Board had themselves suggested the site.

Ald. Baxter's motion to have the section on the table was carried by the casting vote of the mayor.

Water Supply.

The second section referring to the water supply was then considered.

Ald. Kelley said he had been informed that a sugar refinery did not need such a large quantity of water as was stipulated. Mr. Durant consented to a pumping station and draw his supply from the harbor as was done in Halifax. He suggested that the given power to shut off the water at any time without let or hindrance.

Ald. Baxter said he had not intended to make an amendment in line with Ald. Kelley's suggestion. He was informed by Mr. John K. Schofield, agent of the Acadia Sugar Refinery, that a great deal of water was used in the process of condensation. He moved that a clause be inserted restricting the use of the city water to the manufacture of sugar and not for purposes of condensation.

Ald. Kelley said that he had taken a great interest in the refinery but had admitted that 1,250,000 gallons was a reasonable amount to be used in such a large factory.

Ald. Lewis supported the proposition in the interests of labor. It was the best thing, he said, for labor in his twenty years' experience in the Council. If he had made Ald. Frink's speech he would lay his own resignation on the table.

Ald. Kelley submitted a clause providing that in case there was a deficiency in the water supply, the water could be shut off from the refinery. He wanted to have the size of pipe specified.

Ald. Baxter said that made little difference as the water was to be metered.

The Main Question.

Mr. Taylor said he understood from the discussion that after spending $2,000,000 on the sugar refinery the company could be held up by the arbitrary action of the Council. He came down to the question if the aldermen wanted the industry and whether the city had the necessary facilities. In case of a break in the city's mains the company would not hold the city responsible for the full supply.

Ald. Scully said the clause should be inserted in the agreement.

Ald. Frink spoke of the difficulties in the way of increased water supply. The amount asked for was equal to one-sixth of the whole supply which meant that the city had invested $80,000 for the benefit of the concern and would get a return of three per cent. Laying a direct main might result in damage to existing water pipes, gas mains or sewers. He asked the recorder if Mr. Durant would be liable for such damages.

The recorder said provisions must be made in the agreement.

Ald. Baxter added to his previous motion the words "but that there shall be no liability attached to the city for the shutting off of the water on account of the breaking of the mains or some other cause over which the city has no control."

Ald. Kelley said the city had no power to grant permission to lay the pipe but that the Legislature would have to be petitioned. He could not understand why the aldermen did not accept his suggestion to have the water cut off when shortage threatened. Why should the citizens of St. John be placed in jeopardy for the benefit of foreigners. The capitalists would want their dividends just the same if the whole population was dying of fever.

Ald. Frink's suggestion that the city be protected by a clause providing that the city be not liable for the construction or maintenance of the water main was accepted.

Careful Legislation.

The recorder said that great care must be taken with regard to legislation. Before the agreement could be confirmed by the Legislature contracts must be made reading in a falling away from the letter of the agreement as at present under consideration.

Ald. Kelley thought there was something in the air about the main. The city engineer should be present.

Mr. Taylor said that he believed the main would be eight inches.

Ald. Vanwart said the lawyers from Ald. Frink should get together and bring in a report to the general committee. They were doing all the talking and the rest were sitting around like a lot of dummies.

Mr. Taylor said that the agreement seemed to be in concrete form. If the matter was referred back his obje-ent would understand that the council was opposed to a sugar refinery.

Ald. Frink said he had great respect for Mr. Taylor, but the latter should not have said it was a matter of sugar refinery or no sugar refinery.

Ald. Kelley said Mr. Taylor had nothing to gain by scoring the Council.

Ald. Belyea submitted his reasons for supporting the propositions. First, the large expenditure in erecting the plant; the amount of money to be spent by the 300 employees; the taxes of the employees and the $4,000 a year of the average from the firm, besides the $1,000 school taxes. The employment of 300 men meant fewer empty tenements and the building of new houses. The living of the main and their families would mean $80,000 to the grocers of St. John.

Ald. Kelley's amendment to give the city power to shut off the water was defeated. Ald. Baxter's amendment embodying the suggestions made was carried.

The third section relating to assessment was taken up.

Ald. Ekin's Letter.

A letter from Ald. Ekin was read giving his views. He opposed the sugar refinery proposition on the grounds that the site was needed for harbor development and that the assessment rate was not on a fair basis. He favored imposing taxes on the basis of one-eighth of the valuation for the first ten years, one-fourth for the second decade and one-half for the third ten years.

Ald. Kelley thought the city would have to bear an increased cost in the matter of schools, the hospital and police. Figuring on the basis of 1,500 children at $15 a head it would cost $22,500 more for the schools. The grant to the hospital would have to be increased by $3,000.

Ald. Lewis interposed to suggest that Ald. Kelley was not speaking to the point.

Ald. Kelley went on to speak of the loss to the city in shipping fees in the slip which amounted to $1,000. He moved that the flat rate for taxes be $30,000 a year.

The amendment was defeated, eight votes to five, and the section was adopted.

Section 4 relating to exemption from taxes during construction was adopted without discussion.

Payment for Expenses.

The section requiring Mr. Durant to provide $500 for the drawing up of the lease was taken up.

Ald. Frink wanted to make the amount $1000 and Ald. Kelley $1500. The latter said Mr. Durant could peddle the property all over the country for months and only pay $500. He knew business men of St. John who would be willing to pay $50,000 for the property.

Ald. Frink said that would pay for the cost of it.

The recorder said that there would be considerable expense in connection with the legislation.

The amendments were lost and the section carried.

In the next section Mr. Durant undertook to expend from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 on the refinery, capable of producing at least 2,000 barrels a day and to begin manufacturing within 2 1/2 years.

The section was adopted after some criticism by Ald. Kelley.

Ald. Kelley suggested that the exemption should expire if building operations were not commenced within one year, or if the factory was not operated for 18 out of any thirty-six consecutive months.

Ald. Frink said there seemed to be a desire for grab in the whole matter and just at a moment when there seemed to be a transformation all the country in the development of natural resources. The property should not be allowed to remain idle for a year while Mr. Durant was exploring his company.

Ald. Frink's suggestion of Ald. Kelley the Council adjourned at this stage until 8 o'clock in the evening.

Evening Session.

In the evening the same aldermen were present with the exception of Ald. McGoldrick. Ald. Kelley's motion was brought under the recorder's opinion with reference to the necessity of a two-thirds vote.

Ald. Baxter pointed out that the Council was asking for special legislation and had nothing to do with the two-thirds vote.

Mr. Taylor said he understood the adoption of the agreement would mean that the city would undertake to promote legislation.

Ald. Frink said the question to be decided was whether or not a two-thirds was required. He wanted the final opinion of the recorder.

The recorder said the recommendation need not be brought under the 1907 act, and it was then agreed to accept a majority vote.

Section 7 was taken up again. There were two opinions—Ald. Frink's for the adoption and Ald. Kelley's for the clause allowing one year to begin operations be struck out.

Mr. Taylor was asked concerning the possibility of the destruction of the factory by fire.

Mr. Taylor pointed out that it would not be possible to establish any business if the conditions included forfeiture in case the factory was destroyed by fire.

Ald. Kelley interrupted at this point and denied that he had one dollar interest in any property in Sydney Ward.

Ald. Lewis:—"I defy you to prove it."

Ald. Kelley:—"If you refer to the Francis Kerr property, my interest in that concern ceased on Jan. 8th, 1909."

Ald. Lewis:—"You may get someone else to believe that, but not me."

Ald. Belyea wished to refer to an incident at a previous council meeting as reported in The Standard, but was ruled out of order.

Ald. Baxter said Ald. Kelley had called him the leading spirit and master mind of the occasion, but his only objection was to take his own stand and adhere to it.

He reviewed the negotiations with Mr. Durant from the outset and told of the good work done by Mr. Foster of the Board of Trade. It had to be admitted that the site under discussion was the only available site. If any alderman could point out another site or felt that the working privileges or opportunity for ship building were more important than the refinery, then they must vote against it. With regard to the Pender Company or St. John Iron Works, no one could claim any rights had been granted to these companies. He moved that the section be adopted.

An Amendment.

Ald. Kelley moved that the property being one of the most valuable in the city, worth at least $50,000 and very necessary to the city in view of the possible extension of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern, the refinery property should not be granted and that the council should use every effort in its power to secure another site for Mr. Durant. He added that he wanted to get the advice and counsel of the Minister of Public Works in the matter. If the minister was willing that the property should be made by the city, he would vote for it.

The Mayor said the minister had promised to support having the tree-tee moved and knowing all about the proposition, he had made no objection.

Ald. Kelley said this was not an official pronouncement and he wanted also to hear from the Grand Trunk Pacific whether or not they wanted the property.

Ald. Scully thought the Harbor Board members were not treating the other members of the council fairly. There were no particulars with reference to the property and he wanted to know the Harbor Commission in favor of industries but if there were to be lawsuits, then it was better to close slowly.

Ald. Frink's Position.

Ald. Frink said all the aldermen were seeking the same goal, that of securing industries for St. John. He had assisted to amend the terms but on the whole he thought the proposition was absolutely wrong. The most serious thing to consider was that the harbor was being narrowed. It was adopted, it meant a complete reversal of policy on the part of the Board of Trade and of the council. If the harbor were narrowed, it would be buried. When the Transportation Commission visited St. John the harbor was given 1600 feet of the harbor to the P. E. Bay. They were amazed and their advice was never to give an individual or corporation rights that would interfere with the harbor development. He opposed development in Courtenay Bay was visionary, but the site under discussion was not visionary. He referred to the mayor's recommendation in his inaugural address that the site should be removed. It looked as if the sailing vessels would be shut out of the harbor altogether. That the P. E. Bay controlled the harbor. West side and the sugar refinery 600 feet on the East side was directly opposed to the principle of a Harbor Commission. The council was praying for a better harbor. It would be in one breath and seeking in the next to throttle it with a proposition such as the one submitted.

Ald. Kelley said the Durant proposition was never ever submitted to the city. The site was used consequently before the tree-tee was built but the revenue had fallen and was now only about $1,000 a year. The industry cost $1,000,000 to the population and increase the value of real estate.

Not Profitable.

Ald. Sprout said that as a laboring man he could not support the proposition was a profitable one for the ratepayers of the city and was opposed to the granting a site.

Ald. Hayes said that there was a serious question in favor of new industries and particularly with regard to the sugar refinery. He had not met one person who was opposed to the proposition.

Ald. Frink said that he noticed that every alderman was in favor of a sugar refinery but were only opposed on the question of a site. If the site was given to the city, it was not taken before. It was not taken before the railway terminus. There was not yard room for one thing. If the government built six berths on the West side and the city developed the city would have sites to give away.

Ald. Baxter asked for a clause providing against allowing wharfage or rights on the site in favor of the property to Mr. Durant. He could not understand how members of the council could sit and listen to Mr. Durant and Courtenay Bay was developed the forty acres asked for on the West side and then oppose the clear cut proposition of Mr. Durant. He would like to see the matter to the council. On the committee's recommendation depended whether there was anything for the council to consider or if there was a possibility of the sugar refinery coming to St. John.

Wanted Final Vote.

Ald. Frink wanted to have the final vote taken at once. As regards the West side question there was a difference between granting inshore lots and giving away 400 feet of the harbor line.

Ald. Frink spoke in favor of the proposition.

Ald. Kelley's amendment was defeated.

The adoption of the section was carried by the following vote: Ald. Baxter, Belyea, Lewis, Likley, Codner, Hayes and Vanwart, yeas; Ald. Frink, Kelley, Scully, Wilson, Christie and Sproul, nays.

On motion of Ald. Baxter the committee resumed as the council.

The mayor brought up the matter of resignations from the ferry company. It was made in writing and Ald. Belyea announced his verbally.

On motion of Ald. Baxter the resignations were laid on the table until the next regular meeting of the council.

The council then adjourned.

MONETON'S MORTALITY STATISTICS FOR MONTH

Moncton, Nov. 17.—Secretary Northrup, of the Moncton Board of Health, reports 173 deaths in the year ending October 31. Of these 18 were non-residents who died in the hospital, leaving the city mortality 155, or under 12 in the thousand on an estimated population of 1,000. Old age claimed 20 victims during the year, or 2.0 per cent; pneumonia, 16; influenza, 15; tuberculosis, 16; Bright's disease, 4; cancer, 6. There were four accidental deaths, four cases of death from operations and one case of alcoholic poisoning. There were 44 cases of contagious and infectious disease with only 6 deaths. Typhoid fever 23 cases and one death; scarlet fever 65 cases and two deaths; diphtheria, 1 case and one death; measles, 35 cases and two deaths. Most of the scarlet fever and measles occurred in the first months of the year while most of the diphtheria cases were reported last month. There was no smallpox during the year.

to such a clause.

Ald. Baxter said the Harbor Board had considered this very question and had felt that they were not equal to the task of framing a clause which the inventive minds of the true promoters could not circumvent. The provision against shutting down for eighteen months was sufficient.

In Case of Bankruptcy.

Ald. Kelley thought the city should control the situation in case the company went bankrupt. He objected to an order in a United States court going into operation in the city of St. John. He wanted to see an arrangement made by the city of St. John should take procedure over all creditors.

It was also agreed that the section be amended to read that the exemption cease if the output was not equal to 50 per cent. of the capacity during 18 months out of 36 consecutive months.

Ald. Frink asked Ald. Lewis if it was not better to insert a clause providing that 50 per cent. of the laborers be British subjects.

Ald. Lewis said he didn't like Italian labor and wanted to see our own boys get work.

Ald. Belyea's amendment to collect the taxes during the three years elapsing between the fire and the time of rebuilding was adopted with the addition of the clauses relating to rebuilding in case of fire and fixing a minimum value to be known as SA.

A new section, to be known as SA, was drafted by Ald. Kelley, providing for forfeiture in case of the refinery entering a combination by which the output was curtailed.

This section was adopted without discussion.

The next section expressed the city's pledge not to grant sites and privileges to other sugar refineries.

The recorder said this would be illegal if it meant restriction of trade.

Ald. Kelley moved that the section be struck out.

One Refinery Enough.

Ald. Baxter supported the adoption of the section "One sugar refinery, he said, would be quite enough.

Ald. Frink's suggestions that the words "other similar enterprises" be struck out, also that a period of this kind be stipulated was accepted by Mr. Taylor.

Ald. Kelley said it was not business to have the section in the agreement. The company sold its products to the city and the city would be the one to take action which would affect the supply all over Canada.

Ald. Kelley's motion to have the section struck out was carried seven votes to six.

The last section of the original agreement binding the city to undertake to promote legislation for the purpose of securing the grant was adopted.

Ald. Baxter moved that the city undertake not to promote legislation for any other sugar refinery.

This motion was lost, seven votes to six.

Ald. Lewis Says a Word.

Before the first section relating to the site was taken up, Ald. Kelley said it was not true that the Board of Trade was a unit in favor of the Durant proposition. He was talked to by three members and found them against the project. He went on to say that in no paper of the city had there been an open discussion of the matter. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were called obstructionists and were not given credit for being honest. He was talked to by a bunch on the different sections. He couldn't understand why the clauses he submitted had not been received with sympathy. His suggestion that power should be given to the city to shut the water off should have appealed to the common sense of the aldermen. He wanted a public discussion and not everything done in a hurry. He was given the city of the Globe. Before the council placed a vote of $128,000 on the city and disposed of the most valuable piece of harbor front, there ought to be some public expression of the city. He had the five papers not giving full reports to the project were