While being placed aboard the steamer Elaine she became skittish, got over the wharf and into the water. After swimming almost half way across the river she was caught by two men in a rowboat, brought ashore and sent to St. John. The drawing for the mare will take place at Fredericton on October 19.

About forty-five relatives and friends attended the ceremony and were served to a dainty luncheon. The many gifts received were material evidence of good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Burpee left by the evening train for St. John on their way to Old Orchard Beach and Boston for a short trip, after which they will return to their home in Jacksonville.

POWERFUL SERMON IN GERMAIN ST. CHURCH

Rev. H. R. Boyer of Newton Centre Preached Last Night—The Saloon and the White Slave Traffic.

The Rev. H. R. Boyer, of Newton Centre, occupying the pulpit of Germain street Baptist church last evening, spoke from the final message of Moses to the Israelites. "Be strong and of good courage." This encouraging advice was given by the great leader after thoughtful consideration of the events of the 120 years of his own life and the prophetic vision of the national life of the Israelites in the promised land. The story of the courage of Leonidas, the Spartan leader who with a handful of Greeks withstood over a million barbarians, or of Nelson who was ready to die for his country, will always have a human interest. But with a greater kind of courage men are now needed who are ready to live for duty and the church. Men are needed with a courage sufficient to bid farewell to their friends in their native land and to introduce the light of the Gospel in pagan India or China. It requires courage which our plumed line cannot fathom to live the Christian life in the social or commercial world of today. When the churchman endeavors to lift a fallen

SOCIALIST PRESENTS STRIKING STATISTICS

At Meeting of Socialists Last Evening F. Hyatt Spoke on the Class Struggle to Large Audience.

The meeting of the Socialists last evening was the largest gathering of the comrades of the Red International ever held in St. John. T. Hyatt, an ex-British soldier, was the principal speaker. He spoke on the class struggle. Lucien Sanial the American statistician, he said, had published some interesting figures in regard to the U. S. The plutocratic class there, he showed, numbers 250,251, or 9 p. c. of the population, and possesses $67,000,000,000 or 70 per cent. of the total wealth. The middle class numbers 8,429,845 or 29 p. c. of the population, and possesses $24,000,000,000, or 25 per cent. of the wealth. The proletarian class embraces 70 p. c. of the population and owns 4 p. c. of the wealth. Sanial points out that the wealth of the workers consists largely of household goods, and averages only $200. This showed the tremendous advance of capitalism in a country of unparalleled opportunities, an advance that would soon make it as difficult for the workmen to rise out of his class as in England. The Massachusetts statistical bureau claimed that $754 a year was necessary to support a family properly. Yet many workmen with a family only received $300. At the last census the average income in Canada was less than $1 per day.

CAMPBELLTON MEN MEET THE PREMIER

Members of Campbellton Relief Fund Committee Discuss Conditions With Local Government Members.

Judge H. McLatchey and F. E. Blackhall of the Campbellton Relief Fund had a conference with Premier Hazen and members of the local government Saturday morning with a view to securing legislation ratifying the actions and extending the powers of the relief committee. When seen later Judge McLatchey expressed himself as satisfied with the results of the conference. The government had agreed to pass an order-in-council giving the relief committee the legal standing necessary to carry on its work, and undertook to have the actions of the committee ratified at the next meeting of the legislature, though before doing so a member of the government would probably go to Campbellton and make a thorough examination of conditions there. In regard to complaints made that the relief committee had shown favoritism, Judge McLatchey said he would be glad if somebody would come forward and take the responsibility of making direct charges. Mistakes might have been made—conditions were rather topsy turvey for a while. But he felt any charges of favoritism were unfounded. The committee had been elected by the citizens and enjoyed the confidence of the people, though it was naturally impossible in the circumstances to please everybody. Some people thought the committee were being paid out of the relief funds. As a matter of fact, all served without pay, except Geo. MacKenzie the chairman, who had lost heavily, and on being nominated for the position, said he could not afford to do the work required of him without pay. As the chairman has to devote all his time to relief work, it had been agreed to give him $125 a month. The clerical help was also paid salaries, because they could not afford to work for nothing.

The relief committee is putting up 30 houses at a cost of $10,000. "We would like to be able to assist," said Judge McLatchey, the people who had $400 or $500 insurance to build houses, but in view of the relief that we do not feel that the money at our disposal will permit us to do this. "No doubt the federal government will agree to the proposal of the local government in reference to assuming the burden of the bonded debt of the town, as soon as the finance minister reaches Ottawa, but the delay has been unfortunate. Many business men would probably have started building operations before this if they had been assured that they would not be hampered by the debt of the town for some years to come.

brother he discovers that the latter slips through the agency of the shop around the corner protected by the sign Licensed to Sell. Even when these are closed the good Samaritan is often baffled by the underground men conducted in partnership with public officials.

In grappling with some of the problems which threaten to overthrow the church a superhuman courage is necessary. When attempting to lift a fallen sister to a higher life the churchman finds that he is opposed by the white slave association, organized from coast to coast and in league with the powers of hell.

Thousands of immigrants are coming to the Canadian shores and the church must acquire the courage to face the problem of their religious and moral education.

ENDORSES PLAN OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Ex-Governor of P. E. Island Approves of N. B. Government's Idea of Instruction in Farming and Dairying.

Hon. Donald A. McKinnon, K. C., ex-Lieut-Governor of Prince Edward Island, is at the Royal. "I'm here to see the exhibition, and make the acquaintance of some business men," he said. "The garden province is flourishing. The harvests this year are splendid, and I was glad to note that the efforts of the railway to get harvesters to go west did not attract many of our young men this year. "Prince Edward Island has more than doubled its productive capacity in the last ten years, and not only is agriculture flourishing, but we are beginning to look into our industrial possibilities. "The Maritime Provinces should co-operate to promote their natural interests. One does not hear much about Maritime union, but an advisory Council appointed by the different governments should be able to do great deal of good. A few years ago St. John manufacturers did a large business with the Island, but the competition of Montreal and Toronto have practically driven them out of the Island. Our Maritime people should encourage home industry. The banks and insurance companies take too much money out of the province and invest it in the west. Yet the provinces are developing. Since the last census, about 10,000 acres of new land has been put under cultivation. "The greatest need of these provinces is technical schools for the farmers and fishermen. The agricultural colleges are doing good work; but the kind of instruction given in them is not just what the farmers need. The N. B. Government's plan of giving short practical courses in farming and dairying, and horticultural demonstrations at different points is a good one."

LEAK IN TANK HOLDS UP DIVING GIRL ACT

Hundreds of People Disappointed Saturday Night That the Diving Girls Were Unable to Give Their Performance

Owing to a defective brace in the tank used by the Annette Kellerman diving girls at the St. Andrew's rink the opening performance Saturday evening had to be almost entirely omitted. The leakage in the tank was so great that the two powerful streams employed to fill it could not at any time secure a depth of more than four feet. Of course such a depth was entirely insufficient for the purposes of the diving girls. Hundreds of people, however, gathered in front of the rink and waited patiently for the programme to begin. The management, reluctant to entirely disappoint the big crowd, decided to permit the divers to give a short exhibition of fancy swimming at a reduced price. While the young ladies made their appearance there was little over three feet of water in the tank and it was with the greatest difficulty that they performed at all. Their exhibition Saturday night was in no manner like that regularly given. The leakage in the tank has been repaired and the diving girls will give their first regular performance today.

The Piano With a Soul. There is no better known dentist in Canada today than Dr. J. D. Maher, proprietor of the Boston Dental Parlors, who first introduced painless dentistry into this country and the only one who ever made a success of it. Provincialists have learned to know that when it comes to the best that can be obtained in dentistry and desired cleanliness, thorough sterilization of instruments together with the most reliable workmanship, that they are always sure of it by patronizing the Boston Dental Parlors, 527 Main street. Hundreds in need of "tooth cure" viz: filling, crown and bridge work, artificial teeth, etc., will visit his offices during the coming weeks and his large staff will be taxed to its utmost capacity. He gives the best for the least money and that after all, is what the public wants.

The Piano With a Soul. Only a few weeks remain until the leaves show the first tints of autumn and summer people begin to forsake suburban villas for the long winter months during which social life will be more largely confined to indoor functions which today, more than ever, are dependent, one might say, almost entirely upon music for their complete enjoyment and consequent success. It is by no means uncommon at such gatherings, that a vocal or instrumental solo is either handicapped by the absence of a piano or ruined by the accompaniment of a poor one and very often there is not much choice between the two evils. As for the real remedy, or better still, the cure, it is worthy of note that musicians of unquestioned ability and who bear worldwide reputations, have been surprised and delighted with the tone quality instrumental features and remarkable durability of the Mason and Risch piano—which is known throughout the civilized world as The Piano With a Soul
